Young Republicans Declare Policies.

13-1 Against New Deal

Business is opposed to present trends in national legislation by a ratio of 13 to 1, a survey conducted among business organizations discloses. Only two groups voted favorably on New Deal trends. Details on page 10.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Young Republicans here tonight pledged full harmony with the G. O. P. national committee and put forth a declaration of principles of the anti-New Deal youth movement. After a day of caucuses a compromise on the chairmanship was reached, which retains George Olmsted of Des Moines as head of the Young Republican national committee until Feb. 1, 1936.

Under the compromise the youth movement is to be organized on a national scale by states. Ten regions are to be created, each with a director, and the directors, serving as an executive committee, will elect the permanent chairman.

Committee Is Named.

First region, Robert Gilbert, Bridgeport, Conn. [New England]; second, George Sibley, New York [New York, New Jersey, Delaware]; third, James Tucker, Paoli, Ind. [Indiana, Pennsylvania, District of Columbia, Ohio]; fourth, Miles Draper, Florida [Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida, Maryland]; fifth, John T. Dempsey, Chicago [Illinois, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee]; sixth, Thomas Ball, Texas [Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama]; seventh, Rich Coburn, St. Louis [New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska]; eighth, George Olmsted, Des Moines [Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin]; ninth, Walter V. Swanson, Washington [Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming]; tenth, Edward S. Shattuck, California, [California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona].

It was not a platform that the Young Republicans put out in its declaration of principles, but a statement of policies which the younger generation suggests for consideration by the Republican national convention next year in making the party platform.

Jobs and Farms Issues.

Solution of the unemployment and agricultural situations are set out as prime issues. This job and crop reference was put in at the suggestion of William N. Erickson of Evanston, Ill., a Cook county commissioner.

John T. Dempsey of Chicago, G. O. P. committeeman of the 33d ward, and Erickson appear among the more influential delegates to the three day convention, as types of young Republicans who already have arrived somewhere in politics.

The Illinois delegation is one of the most prominent in the meeting. Among its members are Harold Hatmaker, Thomas J. Downs, Allan Healy, Frank Sims, Thomas D. O'Bryan of Chicago, Paul Kaiser of Waukegan, R. N. Ingleson and Marvin Schmidt, Moline, and Edwin Alexander, Jacksonville.

Reverting to the problem of jobs, it urged that the "American way" of recovery should concentrate on the "reëmployment of idle by private enterprise."

Principles Are Told.

The declaration of principles, sounding the sentiment of the youth movement on national affairs, is as follows:

"We, the representatives chosen by the Young Republican organization of our respective states, conscious of the responsibilities borne and the contribution made by the younger men and women of our country in every former crisis, respectfully submit the following statement of principles, not as a platform but as an expression of our ideals.

"We are opposed to economic tyranny as we are to political tyranny. Conscious of the changing times we submit that there is an American way to solve the problems of these times. We believe that

ARMISTICE DAY RECALLS DEEDS OF CITY'S HEROES

Many Belittle Their Valor at Front.

A strip of tortured earth canopied by angry thunder and fringed by crooked trenches. Gray faces and pounding hearts. An endless wait, then a headlong plunge into No Man's Land. A sudden upsurge of valor, and the birth of new heroes. A silencing of guns and the return to peace of stout young hearts lent for an interlude of battle.

This is a sweeping backward glance at the war that ended 17 years ago. It helps to explain the significance of the world-wide observance of the anniversary of the ceasing of hostilities. It emphasizes that heroism is a hidden quality, unmeasured until the time of its need arrives.

How Heroes Have Fared.

In the belief that there is noble inspiration in the deeds of bravery called forth by war, THE TRIBUNE assigned a reporter to seek out some of those who were decorated by their countries. The acts for which they were cited and something of their fortunes since they returned to civilian life are recounted here.

Fred R. Weiss, 1413 Argyle street, is president of the Combat Medal Men's association and holder of the Distinguished Service Cross. He is now a salesman of refrigerators. His case is of particular interest, since he was of German birth and was suspected of being a spy during the early days of the war. He enlisted with the American forces when he was 22 years old.

Weiss earned his adopted country's medal on Oct. 24, 1918, when he prevented the destruction of an ammunition dump of the Fifth division near Montaville, France.

An Ammunition Dump Saved.

The explosives were under heavy fire. Flames from a burning shelter threatened to ignite the ammunition, with probable death for 500 men. Heedless of the flying shells and the momentary danger of the explosion of the ammunition dump, Weiss rushed out in stockinged feet and kept the flames from the high explosives.

"I have many friends now," Weiss said. "I am proud of my service. I would do it again. I came to America to live and my home was then and is now worth defending."

Fernand Bucher, 7738 Hastings avenue, an upholsterer, holder of the Croix de Guerre, won the decoration while fighting with the 74th division of French infantry in the battle of Ardennes.

"I got it for being lost," Bucher smilingly explained in answer to a question. His citation, however, reveals that when he found himself cut off from his company, behind the German lines, he gathered information about the enemy position and returned with it to his own troops. He was thrice wounded during his four years as a poilu.

Braves Deadly Machine Guns.

Charles McAlpine, 7013 South Maplewood avenue, is an electrician. During the war he served in the British Royal engineers, and has been awarded Great Britain's Military medal.

"I was in the signal corps," McAlpine said. "During a counter attack in the battle of the Somme the enemy's barrage cut our communication lines. Machine guns were cutting murderously at our right flank and we needed our infantry's support badly.

"It was imperative that our communication lines be restored. I volunteered and repaired them. Any one could have done it." But McAlpine did do it.

E. E. Merkle, 4425 North Laporte avenue, a physical instructor in a Chicago high school, was decorated

Plan to Raze Old Marshall Field Mansion

BY KAY HALL.
(Picture on Back Page.)

The old mansion at 1905 Prairie avenue, built sixty years ago by the first Marshall Field, is being stripped of its furnishings. It is to be razed as an economy measure, according to officials of the Field estate, unless a rather tentative plan to turn it over to an institution for charitable use be agreed upon within a week.

The mansion was the first Chicago home to have electric lighting. It is built of stone and brick and contains twenty-five rooms. Its design is austere and a high fence of iron grill work surrounds the grounds.

Because of Mr. Field's desire that the great house never be used for anything except his family's home, the public has been barred from the structure. A group of sightseers who went through the mansion yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Chicago recreation commission were said to be the first outsiders ever to cross its threshold.

Kept Open Until Recently.

Until a few weeks ago, in accordance with Mr. Field's instructions, servants kept the home ready at all times for any member of the third or fourth generation of the family who might appear. For several years, however, none has entered to stay, according to the veteran caretaker, David Wheeler.

Officials of the estate said the widow wished that no further effort be made to maintain the establishment as a home. She became the second wife of Mr. Field in 1905, a year before his death, and now is 82 years old. Many years ago she removed to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Field was the widow of Arthur Caton, son of Judge John D. Caton of early Chicago fame. The Caton residence on Calumet avenue adjoined the Field mansion. The first Mrs. Field died in 1896 and Mr. Caton in 1903.

Descendants Stay Abroad.

Marshall Field Jr., only son of the merchant, died a short time before his father. Since the children of the second Marshall Field have lived much of the time in England, the Prairie avenue abode has been little used for a quarter of a century. Gradually the servant staf was reduced to a housekeeper and a caretaker.

Mrs. Albert J. Beveridge, widow of the Indiana senator and a niece of Mrs. Field, has aided in disposing of the furnishings. Some of them have been claimed by the grandchildren and others are to be placed in a Marshall Field & Co. exhibit.

Visitors yesterday saw little of interest except a tall grandfather clock in the hallway dated 1689. The walls have been stripped of their paintings. The sightseers were assured that the gilded iron bedsteads still standing were those really used by the merchant and his family.

CAPE COD PROTESTS FORD'S PLAN TO MOVE OLDEST U. S. WINDMILL

West Yarmouth, Mass., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Cape Cod raised its collective voice today in resentment at Henry Ford's proposed plan to remove America's oldest windmill from this historic section.

Last night J. Frank Syme, a director of the village improvement association, announced Ford had purchased the landmark, built in 1633, and would remove it to his Wayside inn in Sudbury. Today, however, Syme said he had been informed Ford planned to dismantle the structure and take it to his Dearborn, Mich., museum.

Syme's statement set off petitions from natives and summer residents protesting Ford's plans to move the mill.

Syme asserted he had been informed 22,000 Ford company employés contributed to the purchase of the landmark as a gift for their employer.

To the native Cape Codder the windmill is second in sentimental importance only to the Provincetown monument, whose lofty tower serves as a guide to mariners throughout the year. The mill, of Dutch design, was built 13 years after the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

ROGERS PK. BOY ENDS LIFE AFTER TIFF WITH GIRL

Ralph Divver, 19 years old, a clerk in the C. D. Peacock jewelry store in the loop, ended his life by shooting himself with a rifle in his home at 6439 Newgard avenue late last night, following a spat with a girl to whom he had been paying attentions. He was found dying by his mother, Mrs. Agnes Divver, 42 years old, a widow, on her return home after an evening spent out with Timothy Maloney, 2415 Morse avenue. Maloney took Ralph to Edgewater hospital where he died.

The boy told his mother that he had shot himself with the .22 caliber rifle that lay by his side and that his reason was despondency after a quarrel with Miss Frances O'Hare, 6515 Bosworth avenue. Miss O'Hare told Lieut. Eugene Lee of Rogers Park station that she and young Divver went to a show last night and on their way to her home had a trivial dispute. She said she invited him to come into her home and have some coffee, but he refused. She slammed the door, she said, and he went away angry.

BULLETIN.

Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 11 (Monday).—(AP)—Inflation of the National Geographic society-army air corps stratosphere balloon was resumed at 12:50 a. m. today after repair of a rip in the fabric. Capt. Orvil A. Anderson, pilot, said the 20 foot tear had been repaired with an adhesive patch. The rip occurred after inflation was half complete. The delay meant the takeoff hour probably would not be earlier than 6 a. m.

(Picture on Back Page.)

Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Inflation of the world's largest stratosphere balloon in preparation for flight tomorrow on a scientific exploration trip was started in the rock-walled natural bowl, 11 miles southwest of here, shortly before 3:30 o'clock today.

Officials said about 230,000 cubic feet of helium would be poured into the giant bag and they expected the task to be completed shortly after midnight. The takeoff was set for 5 a. m.

A light covering of snow was cleared from the circle in the center of the bowl before the balloon fabric was spread in the ring to take on its cargo of gas. The temperature in the bowl had dropped to 11 degrees as inflation started.

Confident of Success.

Confident despite failure on two previous attempts to attain their complete objectives, Capt. Albert W. Stevens, observer and commander of the flight, and Capt. Orvil A. Anderson believe their craft probably will reach a record height of approximately 14 miles.

Stevens and Anderson have been ready since Oct. 1 for their third attempt to journey into the stratosphere under the auspices of the National Geographic society and the United States army air corps.

Their balloon, Explorer 2d, has been rebuilt since last July 12, when it burst just before a scheduled takeoff.

Saved by Parachutes.

Then suddenly, while hundreds listened in horror to a broadcast from the gondola, the huge bag ripped at a height of 60,000 feet. Stevens, Anderson, and Maj. William E. Kepner saved their lives by leaping out with their parachutes.

Run to Foreign Zone on Rumor of Jap Attack

SHANGHAI, Nov. 11 [Monday.]—(AP)—A stream of fear stricken refugees poured into the international settlement yesterday and again today from adjacent Chapei, Chinese native quarter. They fled on the heels of widespread rumors that Japanese military action was impending in retribution for the unsolved slaying of Hideo Nakayama, a Japanese marine.

A Japanese consular official said this morning that the Japanese government will formally point out to Chinese authorities today the "seriousness" of the situation arising from the slaying.

[Tokio intends to leave the incident to settlement by Japanese officials in Shanghai, a foreign office spokesman said. "The Japanese government," he said, "has no expectation that the affair will develop into anything like the Sino-Japanese conflict at Shanghai in 1932," adding the government hopes a settlement "will be effected soon."]

Relive 1932 Scenes.

The area relived the scenes of 1932 when Shanghai was attacked and a similar exodus took place on a somewhat larger scale. Yesterday the Szechwan road, main artery into the foreign controled area, was cluttered with rikshas, wheelbarrows, and other archaic vehicles, all piled high with pathetic household belongings, all moving in the same direction.

Wealthier residents taxed the facilities of taxicab agencies, while poorer families trudged wearily through the settlement gates, carrying their entire wealth on their backs. Many were forced to submit to police search.

The Japanese continued to press for the fullest assistance of settlement police, who are responsible for order in the area of the shooting.

Japanese Press for Action.

Representatives of the Japanese community [the Hongkew quarter] demanded that in view of the situation "the marines take stern and adequate measures for the maintenance of peace and order."

The Japanese Amalgamated Street federation, including virtually all Japanese residents in its membership, adopted a resolution saying the situation "has caused great uneasiness among our residents."

The Japanese consul general, I. Ishii, will call today on Mayor Wu Teh-chen of greater Shanghai expressing his concern and requesting "the most exhaustive efforts" in tracking the slayer of Nakayama.

The consular spokesman said investigations "strongly indicated" that the slaying was "perpetrated as a demonstration against the Japanese naval forces." The crime was committed within sight of the Japanese naval barracks.

Disagree on Slayer.

ITALIANS DRIVE 100 MILES INTO SOUTH ETHIOPIA

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 11 (Monday).—It was learned here unofficially that the Ethiopians are in full retreat on both the northern and southern fronts. Italian infantry are reported to have captured Antalo, south of Makale. Mobile Italian forces now are said to be north of Daggahbur and moving toward Jijiga.

ROME, Nov. 11 [Monday].—(AP)—Italy's invading forces occupied new outposts early today in advance of the main armies on both northern and southern Ethiopian fronts, Italian press dispatches from east Africa announced.

The reports, reaching here from both fronts, said Italian troops, after capturing Makale in the north, threw outposts ahead to Antalo, approximately halfway on the road to Amba Alaji, in the vicinity of which more than 200,000 Ethiopian warriors are reported to be preparing to resist Benito Mussolini's troops.

The southern army from Italian Somaliland, which has just taken the strategically important city of Sasa Baneh in Ogaden, sent a similar advance guard to Daggah Bur, about 30 miles northwest of Sasa Baneh on the road to the Ethiopian railway connecting Addis Ababa with the outside world.

Report Leader Assassinated.

A dispatch from an Italian correspondent at Djibouti, French Somaliland, said travelers arriving from Diredawa reported Ras Nasibu, governor of Harrar, was assassinated during a revolt among his troops at Sasa Baneh shortly before it fell to the Italians.

The capture of Sasa Baneh took the advancing forces of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani deep into southern Ethiopia in a rapid advance on Harrar and Jijiga, where the enemy is believed to have made its heaviest troop concentrations.

Push On Toward Railway.

It is approximately the same distance from Jijiga and somewhat more than 150 miles from Diredawa, important station on the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway.

Information reaching here from Italian correspondents in the north said 50,000 men under Ras Seyoum, Ethiopian commander in Tigre province, 70,000 under Ras Kassa, 50,000 under Ras Immeru, and 7,000 imperial guardsmen were assembling to stop the Italian advance. About 40,000 more warriors were reported moving up from Dessye, 150 miles south, to join the defense.

Munition Trains Move Up.

Airplane and patrol reconnaissance parties, Italian sources said, revealed large numbers of warriors and columns of munition trains moving forward, apparently to enable the Ethiopians to make a stand against the Italians.

Meanwhile, the Italians were hurriedly building fortifications in their new positions and improving communication facilities to the rear.

Submissions of leaders and residents of the newly occupied territory are continuing, it was stated.

A report from Asmara, Eritrea, said Italian authorities had announced that unless Ethiopia ceases putting Red Cross emblems on private buildings they will bomb everything in the areas attacked.

Sultan Deserts Ethiopians.

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Nov. 10.—[Havas.]—With 5,000 warriors who have joined him in deserting the Ethiopian army, Mohammed Yayo, sultan of Aoussa, was on his way tonight to join the southern Italian army.

He left his capital, Adele Guibo, several days ago, it was learned here, and was expected to join the invading forces early this week. His following is made up of warriors from several tribes of Aoussa, all dissatisfied with the treatment accorded their moslem fellow tribesmen by the Christian rulers of Ethiopia, according to Italian sources.

Thus reinforced, the Italian high command is determined to sweep all

Ethiopian defense forces from the region of Diredawa.

The object of this move, it was said, is to open the way to Harrar for the troops of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani. A junction of his Somaliland army with Italian troops forcing a wedge between Ogaden and the Tigre province would leave Ethiopia almost completely helpless, Italian military experts believe.

Completion of the plan would make it virtually impossible for Emperor Haile Selassie to receive badly needed shipments of arms and ammunition from Djibouti and British Somaliland.

The caravan route from British Somaliland to Ethiopia was reported cut off and the interruption of trafic on the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad would be the logical strategical result of the new offensive.

Ethiopian Commander Slain.

HARRAR, Ethiopia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The death of Commander Afework of the Gorahai garrison, while attempting to shoot down an Italian plane, and the attempted bombing of Ethiopian ammunition trucks were reported here today from the Ogaden front.

The reports said Afework, en route from Dagga Bur to Gorahai, was killed and 13 others were either slain or wounded when the plane they were attempting to bring down dropped bombs.

Eight of the wounded were received today at the Swedish hospital here and additional trucks filled with wounded were expected from the Gorahai area.

Five Italian planes bombed ammunition trucks between Gorahai and Jijiga, but the trucks reached shelter without damage, the report said.

There were other reports of heavy fighting in the Gorahai area, with Italian tanks participating.

Mass Powerful Army.

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government announced tonight that more than 100,000 warriors under Ras Kassa—the empire's greatest army—have been thrown behind an 11,000 foot natural fortress south of Makale to reinforce the defending hordes of Ras Seyoum, the northern war lord.

These powerful forces, officials said, are concentrated behind the mighty range of the Kidonemiret mountains, not far beyond the northern city which the regiments of Benito Mussolini occupied in their last great push.

The announcement followed disclosure by authoritative sources that other tribesmen, under Dedjazmatch Ayelu, had been ordered by Emperor Haile Selassie to cut behind the Italian armies in the northwest. This, it was said, involved an attempted invasion of part of Eritrea.

Reviews Gold Army.

Today the emperor's "gold army" from Wallega province, 50,000 strong, marched proudly past their ruler.

The warriors of Wallega, which produces most of the empire's gold and platinum, were attired in smart khaki uniforms with lion's mane capes and headdresses. They carried modern rifles.

Each soldier of this elite army possesses considerable gold of his own and each has from ten to 100 servants, all fighters.

BRITISH BOMBERS TO JOIN HUNT FOR KINGSFORD-SMITH

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Airplanes combed the western shores and coastal islands of the Bay of Bengal in a fruitless search again today for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, famed Australian airman and his co-pilot, Tom Pethybridge, lost for three days on an attempted record flight to "down under."

Two more Royal Air force bombers, now at Victoria Point, lower Burma, will join the searchers tomorrow.

Vigilance Units Visit Shops to Regulate Sales.

[Special to the London Daily Telegraph and The Chicago Tribune.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Nov. 10.—The fight against the increase in food prices today became the most active part of Italy's campaign against league of nations sanctions. Each Fascist organization in Rome has appointed a vigilance committee. These committees visit all shops—beginning with the food stores—to see that goods are not being sold above regulation prices.

The first proof of this watchfulness was the appearance of a blacklist of profiteers. Their shops have been closed. The list was prominently displayed in newspapers with the double object of warning other tradesmen and maintaining the confidence of the public.

Seek to Calm Public.

The latter purpose is by far the most important. Despite all reassurances, most Italians who can afford to do so are laying in stocks of provisions. Consequently the authorities fear hoarding and a panic. By giving proof that they intend to keep the shop prices at the present level they hope to calm anxious housewives.

For this reason, the vigilance committees are extremely thorough. Some shopkeepers reported for punishment were guilty of very minor acts of "profiteering."

New business hours will come into force tomorrow to bring the whole nation's life into harmony with Premier Mussolini's "economy" timetable for government offices. Henceforth, the food shops must close at 7:30 p. m. All other shops must lock their doors at 7 p. m. A half hour extension is provided for in the summer months.

Theaters to Close Earlier.

Theaters and moving picture houses where performances often lasted until about 1 a. m. must also close earlier. A play or picture from now on must be finished and the public must be out of the theater not later than 11:30 p. m.

To conform to the "early to bed" time-table while doing a normal day's work, most Italians will be compelled to sacrifice an old Italian institution—the siesta.

MORON VICTIM'S BODY IDENTIFIED BY HIS MOTHER

The body of a boy found slain by a moron in Whiting a week ago Sunday was identified yesterday by Mrs. Isabella J. Canty, 200 Goodrich street, Pittsburgh, Pa., as that of her son, James Andrew Canty, 14 years old. At an inquest she told Deputy Coroner David Bopp of Lake county, Ind., that the boy left home on Nov. 1 when he learned a truant officer was going to force him to attend school.

Mrs. Canty left last night by train for Pittsburgh with the body of her son. Mayor James T. McNamara of Whiting purchased a coffin for the boy and Chief of Police Richard Springgate provided Mrs. Canty's railroad fare. Funds supplied by a Pittsburgh newspaper enabled her to come to Chicago.

MYSTERIOUS DAYTIME STAR EXCITES SELASSIE AND PARADING TROOPS

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 10.—All eyes here turned today to a more minute inspection of a mysterious daytime star that is visible, but never very clearly, in the morning.

Crowds of merchants and warriors parading before Emperor Haile Selassie halted and gazed at the star for several minutes and after the emperor had a servant bring powerful field glasses he ignored the troops to peer at the sky.

No one here has a logical explanation for the phenomenon, and the absence of any astronomical talent precludes a scientific opinion. Some contend it is not unusual to see stars in daylight in high equatorial altitudes.

ITALY TO HONOR WARRIOR KING ON 66TH BIRTHDAY

Victor Emmanuel Gets Nation's Cheers Today.

ROME, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Italy will honor the sixty-sixth birthday of a warrior king tomorrow as her contribution to a celebration known elsewhere in the world as Armistice day. The celebration will catch King Victor Emmanuel III. in the midst of the fourth war he has seen as sovereign.

Italy celebrated her own Armistice day Nov. 4. That was the anniversary of the end of the war on the Italo-Austrian front.

On Monday, the tri-color will fly all over Italy in homage to the king who ascended the throne in 1900 and who has remained there through the four wars and one revolution.

Clings to His Crown.

The king has worn the uniform of "generalissimo" throughout Italy's war with Turkey, the campaign in Libya, the world war, and now the Ethiopian campaign. He wore it during Benito Mussolini's march on Rome and retained it when Il Duce cast the Fascist vote for continuance of the monarchical scheme of government.

Now he wears it as the titular head of Mussolini's campaign in Africa.

The birthday ceremonies will throw Rome into a whirl of diplomatic and social activity, while citizens throughout the empire observe the date as a national holiday.

King to Review Troops.

The king will make a public appearance during the morning, reviewing troops in the Via Dell'Impero. Otherwise, it is expected to be a quiet celebration for the monarch and the royal family.

As a soldier who spent nearly every day of the world war in Italy's front lines, Victor Emmanuel is loath to permit gayety in the royal household while Italians are still struggling in Africa.

Two of his cousins, the duke of Bergamo and the duke of Pistoia, are at present at the head of their commands in east Africa.

Emperor of Japan Takes Command of Army Games

KAGOSHIMA, Kyushu, Nov. 11 [Monday.]—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito has fully recovered from a slight illness caused by a cold, it was learned today, and has assumed personal command of the Japanese army maneuvers. He has established headquarters in the field at Miyanojo.

gators alleged the killer was a Chinese soldier in plain clothes.

The asphalt pavement of Darroch road where Nakayama was shot still showed the bloodstains today. The spot was roped off and was guarded continuously by Japanese who prevented any one from making a close inspection.

Observers pointed out the incident and its threat of a new disruption in Sino-Japanese relations struck China at a peculiarly critical period, in view of the proximity of the fifth Kuomintang congress for which most of the nation's leading militarists now are assembled in Nanking. Reports from Nanking said postponement of the congress a few days after its scheduled opening Nov. 12 was believed inevitable.

Act to Separate North China.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Nov. 11.—[Monday.]—Following a meeting of officials of the navy and the foreign office this morning to decide their attitude on the slaying of a Japanese marine in Shanghai, it was understood that steps for an epoch making development in North China was ordered. Meanwhile Japanese military authorities at Tientsin invited to their headquarters Gen. Hsiao Chen-ying, chairman of the Chahar provincial government; Gen. Sung Che-yuan, head of the Peiping-Tientsin defense corps; Mayor Chin Teh-ching of Peiping, and Mayor Chen Ko of Tientsin to explain the army's new policy.

According to information from Japanese sources these Chinese leaders "have come to a strong determination that North China cannot exist unless it coöperates with Japan and Manchukuo by cutting away from Nanking."

Jugo-Slavia Opens 5,000 Ft. Bridge Spanning Danube

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 10.—One of the greatest bridges in Europe was opened here today in the presence of Regent Prince Paul and members of the government. The bridge connects Belgrade over the Danube river with the town of Panchevo. It is 5,000 feet long. Work on the structure began in 1928, and its total cost was more than $8,000,000. The bridge shortens rail communication between Jugo-Slavia and Rumania.

14,000 VISIT ART ODDITIES; MANY GRIN—FEW GASP

Garfield Park's Nut-less Show Attracts Throng.

Crowds reminiscent of World's Fair days visited the Chicago Art institute during the week-end as a result of the controversy over what art really is. The current forty-sixth annual exhibition of American paintings, which has brought protests from some of the institute's patrons, attracted nearly 14,000 persons Saturday and yesterday.

However, the adjective "atrocious," used by one of the displeased patrons in describing certain paintings, was replaced by the adjective "humorous" or "ludicrous" as visitors shuffled past. Many of those viewing the works said they had never been in the Art institute before and merely dropped in out of curiosity. They were indifferent when solicited for opinions and the inference is that Mr. and Mrs. Public's chief demand of art is that they be given something colorful to look at.

Following the Crowd.

"Dime a Dance" by Lester J. Ambrose, "Beach" by Jane Spear King, and "Lovers on a Stoop" by Mary E. Fife attracted the most spectators in the order named.

"Why?" several were asked.

"Because I saw pictures of them in the newspaper" [THE TRIBUNE], they replied. One citizen prefaced his criticism with the comment: "Well, most of my art is confined to motion pictures," and remarked of the "Dime a Dance" painting: "I don't think it's art."

Others thought the colors "beautiful," the grouping of faces "splendid," and some of the facial expressions "immoral."

Concentration of visitors on the second floor of the institute building, where the exhibit is located, left little doubt as to why they were there. Only a scattering of spectators had time to look into the many rooms where the famous works of the old masters are on display.

Calm at Garfield Park.

But the masters were having their day at the Garfield park galleries, where a new exhibit of "representative American art" was opened yesterday. And it was to this movement that Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan, 1150 Lake Shore drive, subscribed. They are among the objectors to the Art institute exhibit, toward which they contributed a medal and $500.

"We are delighted at this collection," said Mrs. Logan of the Garfield park show. "That is the contact we have hoped for and we are very pleased to see that, as James O'Donnell Bennett put it, the work of American art nuts is excluded."

More than 5,000 persons visited the Garfield park galleries yesterday. Similar shows are to be opened soon in the former administration buildings at Lincoln and Washington parks.

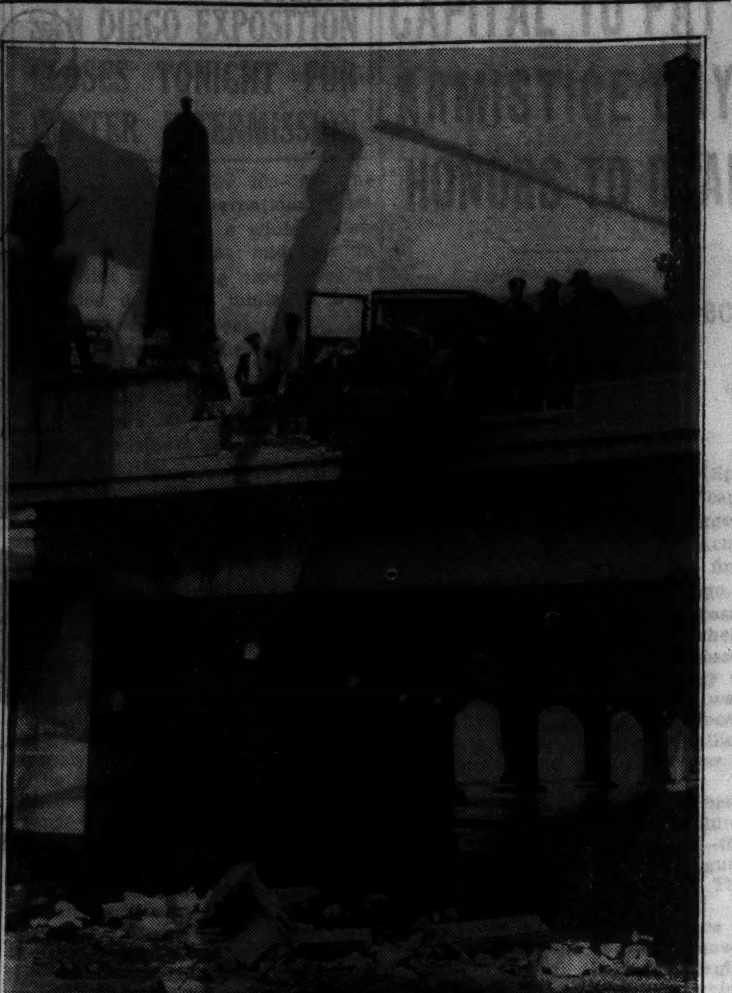
AUTO SMASHES BRIDGE WALL



Police were trying yesterday to find the owner of this sedan, which was driven part way through the concrete retaining wall on the northwest side of Wacker drive at Franklin street and then abandoned. The car carried no state license plates, but investigators hoped to learn the name of the owner from records in city hall this morning through a city license tag on the machine. A bridgetender reported he saw two men leap from the car and flee.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

No State Plates

Two men who escaped death when their automobile crashed through the concrete wall on the northwest side of Wacker drive just west of Franklin street shortly before midnight Saturday were sought by police yesterday. Joseph Siebert, bridgetender at the Franklin street span, said he saw two men climb gingerly from the car which was teetering over the edge and run away. The car, a 1925 Studebaker sedan, carried no state license plates, but police expect to trace the owner through a city vehicle tag when the city hall opens tomorrow.

CARS COLLIDE; HIT PEDESTRIAN; HE LOSES LEG

Joseph Krause, 56 years old, 3243 Parnell avenue, was standing on the sidewalk at 33d and Wallace streets last night when automobiles driven by James Udvare, 29 years old, 911 West 31st place, and Harry Fisher, 42 years old, 2938 South Canal street, collided at the intersection.

The impact of the crash plunged both automobiles over the curbing. Locked together, the cars struck Krause and threw him into the plate glass window of a store. The glass severed Krause's right leg at the knee. He was taken to St. Paul's hospital and the two auto drivers were held by Deering police.

6 HURT AS THIRD CAR RAMS CROWD AT DOUBLE CRASH

Three Accidents Injure 7 in All; Driver Held.

Six persons viewing the wreckage of two automobiles after a crash at 4719 Drexel boulevard were injured yesterday when they were struck by a third machine driven by Dr. Gilbert F. Schneider, an interne at the Passavant hospital.

The series of accidents started when a Yellow cab struck an electric light post. A few seconds later a car driven by Walter Nielsen, 34 years old, 651 Groveland park, crashed into the cab. Nielsen was injured.

Two policemen were among the six injured persons who were not actual participants in the double crash. They are George Bainbridge, 38 years old, 507 West 43d place, of the Hyde Park station, and Joseph Leonard, 28 years old, 7525 Ridgeland avenue, a member of an accident prevention squad, who were investigating the wreckage.

Driver Is Arrested.

The other four victims are Tracy O'Brien, 23 years old, 3850 Ellis avenue; Charles Stead, 37 years old, 120 East 26th street; Michael Shira, 28 years old, 1423 East 65th place, and John Nolan, 18 years old, 29 West 46th place.

Dr. Schneider was arrested on four charges of reckless driving and will be arraigned before Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland tomorrow. Police said the driver of the taxicab fled and that the company officials told them they would not be able to learn his identity until the offices open this morning.

Warrell Werner, 50 years old, 3058 Sarak avenue, died yesterday in the Alexian Brothers' hospital of injuries incurred Nov. 3 when he was struck by an automobile at 1122 Diversey boulevard. Stephen Fierabend, 35 years old, 1928 Oakdale avenue, the driver, was ordered to attend the inquest today.

Father of Six Killed.

Andrew Pignotti, 45 years old, 1530 Portland avenue, Chicago Heights, the father of six children, died in St. James hospital in the suburb yesterday of injuries incurred Saturday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Ignatz Kumiega, 1147 Superior street. Kumiega was released on $5,000 bond pending the inquest today.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 834 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. In that period 650 were killed and 14,978 injured in trafic crashes within the Chicago city limits.

TWO DIE, 7 HURT AS AUTOS CRASH ON INDIANA ROAD

Mishawaka, Ind., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—A head on collision between two automobiles traveling at high speed cost the lives of two persons early today on the Lincoln highway near this city. Seven persons, some of whom may die, were injured.

The dead:

Miss Charlotte Mills, 23, South Bend.

The injured included Elfie Cross, 23; Jack Reed, 25; John Singler, 23; Terill Austin, 23, all of South Bend, and Norman Drake, 23; Leona Weidner, 22, and her brother, Fred, all of La Porte.

Crash Fatal to Three.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Philip Lundberg, Ralph Anderson and Aaron Brownlee, all of New Windsor, were killed early today when the car in which they were riding collided with a Galesburg garage truck on the hard road near Alpha.

Two Motorists Killed.

Bradford, Ill., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and three injured late last night when John Duncan of Osceola, Ill., drove his car into the rear end of an automobile driven by Chester Thompson of Ohio, Ill., near here during a driving rain. The dead were Mrs. Walter Bickett, 17, and her sister-in-law, Miss Kathleen Bickett, 18, both of Dover, Ill.

TRIPS OVER RUG; INJURY FATAL.

Mrs. Marjorie Wollak, 26 years old, an expectant mother, was fatally injured when she tripped over a rug and fell in her home at 5332 Altgeld street yesterday.

SWEITZER TO GO ON STAND AGAIN THIS MORNING

Robert M. Sweitzer, Democratic politician who held the office of county clerk for 24 years, will resume the witness stand today in the Criminal court of Judge John C. Lewe to defend himself against the charge that he withheld $414,129 in public funds from his successor in the office of clerk.

Although most courts will be closed today in observance of Armistice day, Judge Lewe has ordered a special session so that the evidence may be concluded today and the case may be given to the jury tomorrow.

Defense Attorneys I. Harvey Levinson and Benedict Short said yesterday that "several surprise witnesses" would be called in Sweitzer's defense, but refused to elaborate.

All evidence in the trial is expected to be concluded today and final arguments are scheduled to start tomorrow. Sweitzer's fate is expected to be placed in the hands of the jury late tomorrow afternoon.

ALLIED VETERANS JOIN IN ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE

Six Nations Represented; Other Services Today.

World war veterans of six nations joined in paying tribute to their comrades of the allied armies yesterday in an impressive Armistice day program held in the auditorium of the Chicago Historical society building in Lincoln park. It was said to be the first interallied service ever held in Chicago.

Veterans and their friends also participated yesterday in other observance in churches and in community gatherings commemorating the armistice of 11 a. m. Nov. 11, 1918, that ended the world war. Seventeen years after the memorable date, at 11 a. m. today—Armistice day—the veterans will bring to a climax ceremonies ranging over four days.

Six Countries Represented.

Several hundred persons filled seats in the historical society building for yesterday's program. On the stage were consuls of three European nations. With them and in the audience were members of the American Legion, American Jugo-Slav Legion, Belgian-American War Veterans, Les Camarades de Combat, French veterans' organization; British-Canadian Legion, post No. 61, and Italian War Veterans, who had marched earlier in a parade.

After the trooping of the colors of the allied nations, greetings were given by Lewis Bernays, British consul general; Vladimir Vukmirovich, Royal Jugo-Slav consul; M. Rene Weiller, consul for France, and Horatio Tocco, representing Dr. Mario Carosi, new Italian consul general in Chicago.

"I bring a message to you today and that is that Italy is not engaged in a war," said Mr. Tocco. "It is only a colonial expedition desired by the Italian people. Certain newspapers try to make a mountain out of a molehill, but Italy and the other nations are as friendly as ever."

Many Services Held.

Sir Norman Angell, British winner of the Nobel peace prize, was a speaker at an Armistice service held in St. James' Episcopal church, Wabash avenue and Huron street.

Services were held in the morning and in the evening in other churches. In the afternoon the Cook county council of the American Legion dedicated a plot for veterans in Memorial Park cemetery. The Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross joined in an Armistice service conducted by the Sunday Evening club at Orchestra hall. Services by the Italian Chamber of Commerce of Chicago were held on the occasion of its 28th anniversary at the Hotel Sherman.

Today's observances of the actual Armistice day will take place in many parts of the city, but the most extensive services will be centered in the loop area. Legion posts and their drum and bugle corps will participate in two divisions of a parade that will converge at the La Salle street entrance to the city hall. Another parade will form in East Monroe street in Grant park to march to the annual 11 o'clock service at State and Madison streets.

Events of the Day.

While all trains of the elevated system halt for one minute at 11 o'clock buglers from Chicago Elevated post of the Legion will sound "Taps" from four overhead transfer bridges in the loop. All North Shore Line and Chicago, Aurora and Elgin trains operating within the city also will come to a stop for a minute of silence.

Preceding the general ceremonies in the loop, Van Buren post of the Legion will hold a service at the United States courthouse, at which a wreath will be placed on the tablet at Adams and Clark street in memory of Chicago federal employés who lost their lives in the war. The All-Chicago Kiwanis club will hold services in front of the doughboy monument in Lincoln park in the morning.

Many luncheon services have been arranged, including those of the Union league, Advertising Men's post of the Legion, Covenant, and Trafic club, at which ex-service men and ranking officers of the army and navy will speak.

PASTOR RAPS CURLEY FOR 'IRREVERENT' NEW DEAL PROPAGANDA

Winchester, Mass., Nov. 10.—(AP)—An Armistice day proclamation by Gov. James M. Curley was bitterly criticized from the pulpit today by Dr. Howard J. Chidley, Congregational minister, as containing political propaganda for the New Deal. He took exception to a portion of the proclamation reading:

"In our present hour of national distress we give thanks for a leadership in the nation that is the embodiment of the faith of the leaders who have gone before," and to another reference to the country's "inspiring leadership."

"I think this is the most flagrant misuse of the governor's proclamation for political purposes I have ever witnessed in 20 years' ministry in this pulpit," declared the clergyman to his First Congregational church parishioners, mostly well to do suburban residents. "The governor's irreverance in making the commemoration of the sacrifice of our soldier dead a vehicle for political propaganda is almost unbelievably bad taste."

CHURCHMEN URGE WORLD ACTION TO STAMP OUT WARS

PacifismChallenged by Other Pastors.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

What had been announced as a citywide mass meeting on the subject of "The voice of religion in the present crisis," was attended by 485 persons in the New England Congregational church last night.

The speakers were Rabbi Louis L. Mann of Sinai temple, Dean Charles W. Gilkey of the University of Chicago chapel and Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston. The Rev. Dr. Duncan H. Browne, rector of St. James's Episcopal church, presented a formal statement representing the pacifist views of more than 200 Chicago pastors and rabbis.

Seek World "Coöperation."

According to this statement, the voice of religion calls for an end to our "fiercely competitive" society followed by development of "a world congress, a world executive body, and world court and [it may be] an international police force."

Religion's voice, speaking to the church, according to the statement, demands that the church no longer give sanction or support to war.

Other pastors in Armistice Sunday sermons represented the voice of religion differently. Rabbi George J. Fox of South Shore temple, declared he would not sign the formal statement because he asserted wars will continue until religion has changed characters and aspirations of people; that new international organization or economic changes in themselves offer no guarantees of peace.

Dr. Vance Stresses Point.

This line of reasoning was further emphasized last night by Dr. Joseph A. Vance of Detroit, Mich., moderator of the Presbyterian church, in the principal address of the Sunday Evening club's Armistice day services in Orchestra hall, attended by an audience of 2,000.

"We will have war so long as men love to fight," Dr. Vance said. "If men can't fight themselves they will pay to see somebody who can. We need a moral equivalent of war. Men will have to have some great call to righteousness into which they can pour their fighting spirit. Christ provides this."

MARINE CORPS 160 YEARS OLD; CELEBRATE DAY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—With pomp and panoply the United States marines today celebrated their one hundred and sixtieth birthday.

A radio program in which the high command participated featured ceremonies on ship and shore, wherever detachments were stationed.

Maj. Gen. John H. Russell, commandant, Assistant Secretary Henry L. Roosevelt, Maj. Gen. J. G. Harbord, retired, and the marine band featured the broadcast, in which speakers paid tribute to the corps.

"I have complete confidence," said Gen. Russell, "that the marines of the future will well sustain the high reputation for steadfast courage and unsullied honor that has been handed down to us by our predecessors."

with the D. S. C. for bravery in the battle at Blanc Mont ridge while he was in the Marine corps.

The marines were advancing under heavy fire. Heedless of severe powder burns which later cost him the sight of one eye, Merkle continued giving first aid to the wounded and directing the evacuation of those out of combat.

T. J. Baldridge, 3239 West 61st street, an air mail clerk, was presented with the D. S. C. for an act of heroism he performed while a corporal in company A of the 18th infantry, First division.

Machine Gun Silenced.

His act was to lead a party of four men 400 yards in advance of his own line where an enemy force was attempting to man a machine gun in a disabled French tank. Baldridge and his companions routed the enemy and recaptured the tank. "His company," the citation says, "was thereby enabled to continue the advance with slight loss."

Jacques de la Chapelle, 132 Abingdon road, Kenilworth, holder of the Croix de Guerre, has turned his war-gained knowledge of guns to his own profit. He is an executive of a sporting goods company that sells firearms. Although a naturalized American, he volunteered for France in 1914, and served with the 175th French infantry.

He Froze His Feet.

"I was decorated because I froze my feet," De la Chapelle said. His regiment was in the mountains west of Monastir, Macedonia. Manning a machine gun, De la Chapelle was largely instrumental in holding his trench for three days under severe fire. He stuck to his post despite his frozen feet.

"Ever since," De la Chapelle said, "I have been trying to straighten out my tangled citizenship."

Raoul Borne, 920 North Michigan avenue, a designer of clothing, fought with his French countrymen in the battle of Verdun, was captured by the enemy, and spent three years as a prisoner of war in Bavaria. He has a Croix de Guerre.

Borne's captain was shot down in advance of the line. Borne braved the shellfire to bring his captain back for first aid. A bursting shell all but buried the rescuer.

"But my captain was dead," Borne said. "Thus, I did nothing. I got my decoration for something I did not do."

Marine Wins Honors.

Attorney C. Wayland Brooks served in the Sixth marines. He holds the Croix de Guerre and the D. S. C. He was loath to discuss the manner in which he earned these honors, preferring rather to praise the heroism of his brother, who died in England.

"I was fortunate enough to come to the attention of men high in command," he said. "That may be why I was singled out for decoration."

Brooks' citations belie his words. "In the Bois de Belleau, France," says one, "he displayed great courage and disregard for personal safety in repeatedly going through heavy machine gun fire with messages."

George E. Clarke, 219 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, who is an unemployed insurance broker, was reluctant to tell why he was awarded the D. S. C. and other medals and citations. He served in the Argonne offensive as a sergeant in the 122d field artillery of the 33d division.

Hero Loses an Arm.

On Oct. 2, 1918, near Epinonville, France, Clarke's battery was bombed. He conducted his men to shelter, then superintended care of the wounded. A bomb exploded near him, tearing away his right arm, shattering his left hip and inflicting a grave chest wound.

Thomas Gilroy, 3739 Wabansia avenue, a machinist, fought for four years with the 7th brigade of the Second Royal Scots, and was gassed and twice wounded. He holds the Military cross and was cited for bravery by the French and English governments.

During the battle of the Somme all except 15 members of Gilroy's company were killed. He assumed charge and with the 15 held the position without the loss of another man. British by birth, he is now an American citizen.

From the Other Side.

Otto Schworck, 3714 Central Park avenue, a carpenter, is commander of the German War Veterans in Chicago. He has five medals for bravery and was cited on as many other occasions.

"There are no war heroes," Schworck said. "We only did our duty. Fighting is not glorious—not noble. If you will tell the people the truth there will be no more war."

Qualapaca Overcoat

The Qualapaca coating is a blend of 4 wools, Alpaca, Llama, Guananco (another member of the camel family) and kid Kashmir—each one famous in its own right and accustomed to hobnobbing with fancy prices. Together these 4 wools make a fabric of luxurious feel and appearance, which at the same time is generous with practical qualities. It is rain repellent, wear resisting and wrinkle proof—and provides its warmth without cumbersome weight.

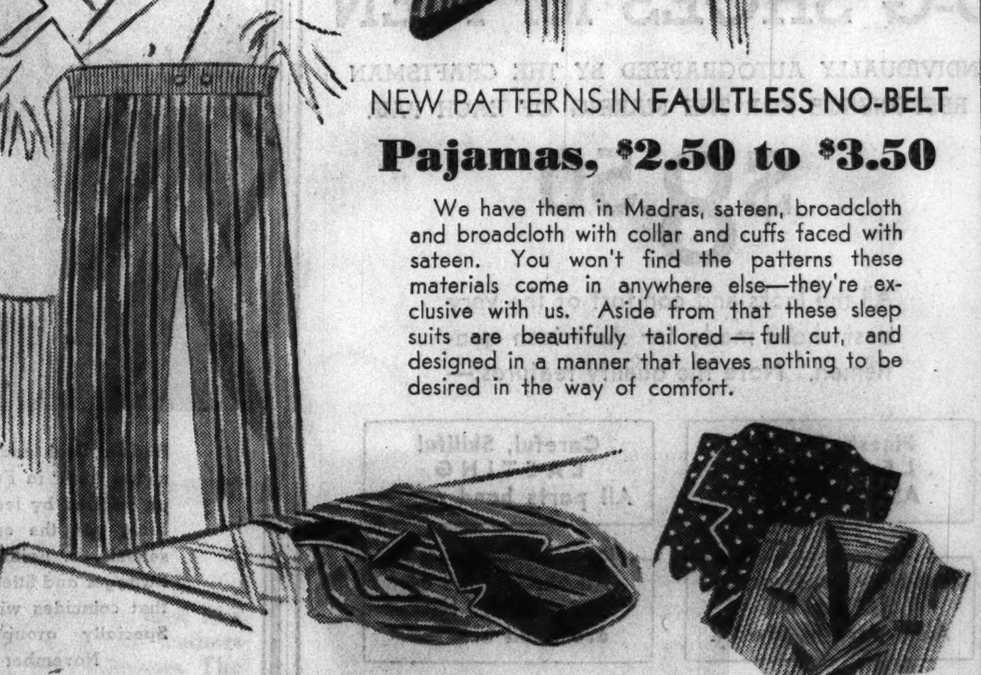
THE DOBBS
Bowler
$7

Being a Dobbs bowler there is little we can add to what you already know of this famous hatter's reputation for quality. There are a few points concerning the styling of this Fall's bowler that we might tip you off to. They are—the top of the crown which has been leveled off a few degrees and the brim, which while not actually wider, looks it by reason of the curl which does not turn in so far that it seems to rest against the crown. Silk lined and flexible.

Westminster
ALL SILK HOSIERY
$1 Pair

The full fashioned socks shown are a fine narrow rib weave—styled after English half hose that run into several shillings a pair. Equipped with triple reinforcements at toe and heel, and because there are more actual tailoring principles employed in their knitting—they're shaped to follow more closely the contour of foot and ankle.



NEW PATTERNS IN FAULTLESS NO-BELT
Pajamas, $2.50 to $3.50

VETS CLASH AT FRENCH RALLY TO HONOR WAR DEAD

Factions to Hold Separate Parades.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—(AP)—France's war veterans, split by political quarrels, today received marching orders for three different Armistice day parades. The day was marked by one clash.

Police and mobile guards intervened in a fight between nationalist and leftist war veterans at Epinal which caused injury to three persons, including a policeman. The fight occurred at a veterans' meeting before the soldiers' monument.

Rival political forces will use Armistice parades to the Unknown

Rival political forces will use Armistice parades to the Unknown Soldier's tomb and the Arc de Triomphe to show their strength tomorrow. Strong police forces were assigned to maintain order.

The Nationalistic Croix de Feu will open the day with a morning procession, preceding even the official military parade which President Albert Lebrun will watch.

Protest Laval Decrees.

Despite Italy's ill feeling toward France because of its sanctions policy, Germany's new armed strength dominated French thought on the Armistice anniversary. An unofficial report of plans to offer Reichsfuehrer Hitler an opportunity for Germans to exploit colonies of other nations in exchange for a limitation of armaments and an air assistance pact was published here.

The French press also revived discussion of supposed overtures for a Franco-German understanding.

Silent for Two Minutes.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Britain, awaiting a general election Thursday in which rearmament is a dominant question, will observe Armistice day tomorrow with a ceremony that has become traditional since the conclusion of the world war.

For two minutes, starting at 11 a. m., London will be stilled in honor of the 1,104,890 empire war dead. Shortly before 11 a. m., representative detachments of the navy, army, air force, merchant navy, and ex-service men's associations will deposit wreaths on the cenotaph at Whitehall.

In Westminster abbey a special service will commence at 10:30 a. m. Official deputations, bearing wreaths, will pass before the grave of the Unknown Warrior.

SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION CLOSES TONIGHT FOR WINTER INTERMISSION

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The California Pacific international exposition will close for a winter intermission tomorrow at midnight in ceremonies combining observance of Armistice day with jubilation over reaching a twofold goal.

The objectives of the fair were to demonstrate the physical and cultural growth of the southwest since the exposition here 20 years ago and to stimulate business here and in nearby communities.

Both succeeded beyond expectations, said exposition officials in announcing the fair will reopen Jan. 15 of next year to run until Sept. 9. Since the opening last May 29 there have been nearly 5 million paid admissions.

CAPITAL TO PAY ARMISTICE DAY HONORS TO DEAD

President to Make Speech at Arlington.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Residents of the nation's capital will join tomorrow in the biggest and most completely organized Armistice day celebration since the first Armistice day seventeen years ago.

Thousands will ascend the grassy slopes of Arlington cemetery where long lines of small white crosses mark the resting place of many of those who died in the world war. They will listen to President Roosevelt pay a tribute to the half million Americans who gave up their lives in that conflict.

The President will make a brief speech, scheduled to begin at 10:45 a. m. and end promptly at 11—the hour on Nov. 11, 1918, when the guns ceased firing in the world war. The speech will be broadcast.

Mr. Roosevelt will then place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. This will mark the beginning of a series of ceremonies which will last throughout the day at Arlington. In other parts of the city dozens of patriotic organizations will conduct other observances.

The ceremonies at Arlington will be under the auspices of the American Legion with other patriotic organizations participating. Throughout the day each of the various patriotic societies will lay wreaths on the Unknown Soldier's tomb.

For six hours, according to the program, variously uniformed organizations will march "up the hill," upon the summit of which the Unknown Soldier lies in lonely grandeur. Most of the services will be simple. Mellow bugles will blow "Taps." There will be a minimum of flowery oratory.

The celebration will be culminated by the ball to be staged by Veterans of Foreign Wars at which Congressional Medal of Honor men will head the list of guests which will include cabinet officers, diplomats, and high army, navy, and marine officials. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will be one of the guests.

North Side Woman Notes Her 102d Birthday Today

Mrs. Marie Lies Wiltgen will celebrate her 102d birthday today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Staerk, with whom she lives at 2085 Estes avenue. Her two sons, Joseph and Matthias, both of Chicago, will be present at a quiet family observance. Two years ago a second daughter, Mrs. John Miesch, came here from her home in Texas for her mother's 100th birthday but she will be unable to attend this year. Mrs. Wiltgen, born in Luxemberg, settled in Chicago in 1890.

BERLIN TO PUNISH GRUMBLERS OVER SHORTAGE OF FAT

Special Courts Prepare to Try Fault Finders.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Berlin's special "extraordinary courts" prepared today to try a number of persons who "made remarks hostile to the state in connection with the shortage of butter." The defendants will go on trial this week. There will be no appeal against the decision of these courts.

The shortage of butter and animal fats is becoming noticeable. Authorities have drafted a plan for regulating the slaughter of cows for the next three years.

List Households in Shops.

To avoid issuing butter or fat cards the government has ruled that all households should be inscribed in shops where they are in the habit of buying butter and fat. A number of Berlin "hausfrauen" attempted to increase their families' supplies by listing themselves in several shops. As a result, the lists are being controled to halt this practice, and the housewives are rushing to the shops to eliminate their names in an effort to avoid possible punishments.

Bakers of the district of Thuringia, meanwhile, were informed that their supplies of raisins, almonds and eggs for Christmas baking will be rationed.

Fines Hit Monasteries.

Catholic circles reported today that a number of important German monasteries are in financial difficulties because they must pay the fines of the nuns and monks sentenced for taking money abroad to pay the debts of their convents and monasteries. It was asserted that a number of Roman Catholic orders have sold real estate to foot the bills while the property of others has been attached by bailifs. The Catholics were especially grieved because in a number of cases in which they must pay fines the sums of money and securities seized by the government are more than the fines.

WOMEN TO FIGHT NEW DEAL IDEAS ON NORTH SHORE

Republican women of the north shore suburbs will enter the fight against the New Deal at a meeting in Winnetka Wednesday afternoon.

Chauncey McCormick, who has been assailing the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration from the platform for several months, will be the speaker at the first of a series of meetings planned by the Republican Woman's club of Winnetka, which has the co-operation of similar organizations in several north shore towns.

WOMAN SMOKING A CIGARET NODS; BURNED TO DEATH

Mrs. Marion Cummins, 34 years old, 7211 Stewart avenue, was fatally burned early yesterday when she fell asleep in a chair in her home while smoking a cigaret. Her daughter Jean, 13 years old, awakened by the smoke, found the woman enveloped in flames. The girl pulled her out and extinguished the fire. Jean's screams attracted her father, Francis Cummins, an insurance salesman. Mrs. Cummins died several hours later at the Auburn Park hospital.

While the firemen were taking her to the hospital a police squad car drove up bringing home a son, John, 12 years old, who was found wandering about in the vicinity of 71st street and Stony Island avenue.

John told the police that he was afraid to go home because he expected to be scolded for staying out late after visiting a motion picture theater.

Young Republicans Make Policy Declaration.

along this American way our citizens can go forward to greater happiness and greater security, yet holding fast to the best ideals and traditions of the nation. We believe that this American way requires a program of political action which must move toward a solution of our unemployment and agricultural problems.

Want Promises Kept.

"We stand unequivocally for honesty in government; for adherence to party platforms and campaign promises by all who are placed in public office on the faith of the public in the inviolability of their promises to adhere thereto.

"We, as young men and young women who will have to pay the bills which are being incurred in the present unparalleled orgy of national spending, declare ourselves for abolition of wasteful practices in government, for a prompt balancing of the national budget, and for a permanently stabilized currency.

"We, as young men and women who have built our lives on the theory, always recognized in this country heretofore, that every one was master of his destiny and that one's success was dependent upon one's initiative and effort, seek to preserve the American system by which individuals are protected against governmental regimentation and by which business is freed from domination by government and government is kept in the position of umpire rather than that of dictator.

Place Hope in G. O. P.

"We believe that the Republican party offers the only machinery available today to accomplish our purpose.

"The broad general principles of the American way are now clear and may be stated as follows:

"1. Reduce our national debt.

"2. Oppose inflation in whatever form.

"3. Limit governmental projects to essential governmental services with emphasis on economy and efficiency.

"5. Correct the encoachment of the federal government upon the proper jurisdiction of the states.

"6. Encourage regional compacts between states.

"7. Remove all barriers to international trade not essential to the protection of American living standards and encourage the increase of exports.

"8. Supplement private relief by public relief only as long as the national emergency requires, and to be administered free from political control.

"9. Secure sound social welfare which recognizes the obligation to support the aged and infirm, and guards against the privations of involuntary prolonged unemployment.

"10. Restore and maintain the separate functioning of the executive, legislative, and judicial departments as prescribed by the constitution as safeguards against dictatorial and ill-considered judgments.

"11. Preserve the American system of government set up in the constitution. To make changes only when necessary to meet new conditions and then by the orderly process of amendment and not by unconstitutional legislation.

"12. Concentrate upon reëmployment of the idle by private business.

"We have faith that the Republican national committee will join in the support of these Republican principles of government and we, as loyal young adherents of the Republican party, offer them our wholehearted coöperation."

FORMER SUITOR SEIZED IN DEATH OF BRIDE-TO-BE

Escort of Murdered Girl in Recent Weeks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mount Rainier, Md., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—A stalwart, six foot college student who had paid ardent but unsuccessful court to Corina Loring, pretty 26 year old Sunday school secretary and public stenographer, was taken into custody tonight for questioning concerning her murder last Monday night, two days before she was to have been become another man's bride.

The new suspect is Aubrey Hampton, 27 years old, of Washington, D. C., who is taking an advanced course at a night school in the national capital.

Washington police, accompanied by Chief Eugene Plumer of the Mount Ranier force, arrested him shortly after 11 o'clock at his home on New Hampshire avenue in Washington.

For several months before he was replaced in her affections by Richard Tear, 29 year old hospital orderly and ex-marine to whom she was to be married last Wednesday, Hampton, police say, was Miss Loring's frequent escort.

A friend of Hampton, a young man named Hough, also was being sought for questioning tonight. Hough and Hampton went out often with the slain bride-to-be and another girl, according to police.

Despite the fact her wedding date was near, Miss Loring had permitted Hampton to escort her out several times in recent weeks, detectives have been informed.

Plan Trip to Murder Scene.

After Hampton has been given an intensive grilling, he and Tear, who has been in custody since a few hours after the murder was discovered, will be taken to the lonely thicket where her battered body was found, the authorities disclosed.

The trip will be made by the eerie glow of flashlights, for police expect to reach there by 2 a. m.

From the first investigators have held to the belief that jealousy was the murderer's motive. But, despite a multiplicity of clues, they have admitted being far from solving the mystery of the slaying.

Tangle of Clues Puzzle Police.

A bloody thumbprint, a tangled strand of hair, a battered watch and a man's glove, the most obvious clues, have almost convinced detectives that the slayer left them deliberately to throw suspicion on some one else.

As basis for belief that more than one person may have committed the murder, Dr. Oscar Levine, acting coroner, said Miss Loring was a "heavy, strong girl" who could have put up an extended struggle against one person.

Asserting that Miss Loring had been bitten on the arm, the coroner said it was possible a woman may have aided in the slaying.

Baldness is Not Inherited

SCIENTISTS who study the laws of inheritance have found that "acquired characteristics" are not inherited. Baldness is in all cases acquired many years after birth and it is therefore agreed that it is not inherited.

Thomas case histories further prove that many men who are bald have fathers and grandfathers with good heads of hair. It is also found that many men keep good heads of hair throughout life even though their fathers were bald at early ages.

Eighty-five percent of all cases of baldness can be traced to neglect or to one or more of 14 local scalp disorders. Thomas treatment overcomes all of these local scalp conditions—ends dandruff, stops falling hair and re-grows hair on the thin and bald spots. Come in today and receive the benefit of sound advice from a Thomas expert. No charge is made for consultation nor for scalp examination. (Always in private).

Neenah, Wis., Ship Circles Park and Falls.

Neenah, Wis., Nov. 10.—(AP)—After battling to keep their ship away from several hundred football spectators, two licensed pilots were crushed to death here today when their open cockpit biplane plunged in a yard at the rear of a residence.

The dead were Fred Stecker Jr., 26 years old, and Alfred Bauer, 25. Neither was married. Both were residents of Neenah, and had been flying about two years. Bauer owned the plane.

Try for Emergency Landing.

The men took off from the Larsen air port and cruised about the cities of Neenah-Menasha. As they passed over the Menasha ball park, where several hundred persons were watching a football game, the plane dived to about 100 feet from the ground and failed to rise.

The plane circled about the park several times, as if its pilot was seeking an emergency landing place. Suddenly it plunged into the yard and nosed deep into the ground.

Four Die in Plane Crash.

Pontotoc, Miss., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Dean Faulkner, 31, Oxford, Miss., brother of the novelist, William Faulkner, and three passengers in Faulkner's big cabin plane, were killed at Thaxton, Miss., this afternoon when the plane crashed in an open field.

Bails Out; Pilot Lands Plane.

Mitchel Field, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Sergt. G. E. Layman piloted an army plane to a safe landing here this evening after his companion, Corporal H. W. Fischer, had bailed out safely when fog made a landing appear hazardous.

COUPLE SEEK ADVENTURE IN CANOE; FIND IT

Frank Goodwin, 40 years old, 345 Belden avenue, and Miss Lena Weiner, 25 years old, 619 South La Salle street, took a chance on the November weather yesterday afternoon and went canoeing in the lake. A strong west wind kept them from returning to shore and, with darkness coming on, they paddled to the two mile crib off Chicago avenue and beached their canoe on its rocky base.

Capt. John O. Anderson of the central coast guard was notified and came out with a crew in a cutter to take them off, but the waves were so high that the cutter could not land. Miss Weiner was lowered on a rope into the cutter. Goodwin jumped and landed safely in the boat.

Quintuplets to Have Role in Movie of Dr. Dafoe's Life

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A "lucrative" contract between the guardians of the Dionne quintuplets and Twentieth Century-Fox Films for a motion picture featuring the five sisters has been approved by David A. Croll, Ontario minister of welfare and special guardian of the quintuplets, it was announced officially tonight. Dr. A. R. Dafoe, physician-guardian of the quintuplets, said at Callander that money earned by such a contract would be added to the quintuplets' trust fund, which is already $200,000. A statement from Croll's office said the photoplay would be titled "The Country Doctor" and be based largely on Dr. Dafoe's life. Parts of the picture in which the quintuplets appear will be produced in the children's nursery at Callander under the doctor's supervision.

NEARBY INDIANA CITIES FOLLOW CITY IN LINING UP FOR EASTERN TIME

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 10.—(AP)—When setting your watch, do as Chicago does; this apparently describes a growing attitude in northwestern Indiana cities.

Influenced by Chicago's decision to adopt eastern standard time permanently beginning next March 1, several Indiana communities in the Chicago area are considering similar action.

Cities in Lake county, which shares a part of its boundary with Chicago and Illinois, appear definitly headed for year around daylight saving time.

One of them, Hobart, already has before the city council a proposed ordinance similar to that passed by the Chicago council last week. Similar bills may be presented soon to Gary, Hammond, East Chicago, Whiting, and Crown Point.

Michigan City, South Bend, Mishawaka, and Goshen officials are testing sentiment on the plan. Mayors of both Michigan City and South Bend have indicated a desire for a referendum on the subject.

One Fort Wayne firm reported a poll of employés showed 508 in favor of eastern standard time and 9 opposed.

A Michigan City newspaper reported a poll showed 250 in favor of fast time and 54 opposed, while a Goshen newspaper polled two men in each of five professions and found only one opposed to a time change.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

Famous Trees.

November 10, 1935.

TWELVE memorial black walnut trees were planted yesterday afternoon by representatives of the American Nut Growers' association and Boy Scouts of Wheaton at the Tribune Experimental farm near Wheaton. The trees are descendants of the famous walnuts that shade the grounds of the battlefields at Gettysburg in Pennsylvania, and at Winchester in Virginia, and Arlington National cemetery on the banks of the Potomac.

They were planted under the direction of John S. Campbell, 999 Exchange avenue, Union stockyards, a representative of the Nut Growers' association, as a part of the national nut tree planting project designed to promote the preservation and to increase the growing of descendants of the famous parent trees that still thrive at scenes of memorable incidents in American history.

The trees planted at the Wheaton farm were grown from nuts planted in 1932 by Mr. Campbell and the scouts on the grounds of the Theosophical Society of America one mile north of Wheaton. Seventeen hundred nuts were planted at that time in a nursery 15 by 400 feet in rows 3½ feet a part. The young trees now are about four feet tall and are ready to be transplanted to permanent locations.

The twelve planted at the Wheaton place have all been labeled indicating the location of the parent trees. The labels will be kept on the trees for the benefit of farm visitors.

There are approximately 400 more of these trees ready to be transplanted. They all came from nuts gathered by Boy Scouts at shrines such as Arlington, Gettysburg, Winchester and Mt. Vernon.

After the ceremony the planting of the trees at the Tribune farm yesterday, Mr. Campbell announced that the other trees would be given away free of charge at the nursery, or would be shipped to persons willing to pay the transportation cost and to promise good care for the trees. He said that these trees were ready for distribution as a part of the national planting project for reforestation of the country.

The following were present when the trees were set at the Wheaton farm yesterday: Boy Scout Troop No. 38 of Wheaton, Scoutmaster Albert F. Hardcastle and Troop Committeeman Donald W. Greenwood, Mrs. J. S. Campbell, representing the conservation department, Illinois Women's club, district No. 2; and Mr. Campbell, who presented the trees on behalf of the American Nut Growers' association and the Wheaton scout troop. They were accepted by Carl Henderson, manager of the farm.

Twelve additional 3 year old walnut trees were presented at the ceremonies yesterday to be set on THE TRIBUNE experimental farm near Yorkville. They were "heeled in" at the Wheaton place and will be taken to the other farm soon.

Last week men at the Wheaton farm began the work of transplanting approximately 1,000 trees to their permanent location along Roosevelt and Warrenville roads. The trees are 3 to 12 feet tall and are being dug up and moved without balls of earth attached to their roots.

Some of them are volunteer trees that came up in an old nursery, and include box alders, thorne apples, and ash trees. Maples, oaks, box alders, and ash are also being moved from a clump of trees growing on the farm. The trees will be used as a screen and windbreak along the highways. They are being moved on a wagon.

WIFE IDENTIFIES ROBBER SLAIN BY WOUNDED VICTIM

The robber fatally shot late Saturday night by Joseph Moravec, 50 years old, owner of a meat market at 1346 South Kenilworth avenue, Berwyn, during a holdup battle, which also cost the life of Moravec, was identified yesterday as Burl Harrison, 26 years old, 2716 Grove avenue, Berwyn. The identification was made by Harrison's wife.

Harrison was shot when his companion in the holdup discharged his gun while Moravec was complying with demands to turn over his money. Harrison, startled by the shot, also fired, fatally wounding the grocer, who, despite the wound, wrested the gun from Harrison and shot him while the other intruder fled. Moravec died in the West Suburban hospital.

PACIFIC AIR FLEET TO SURVEY 10,000 MILES OF OCEAN

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Ten thousand square miles of ocean was blocked off today as a testing area for the United States navy's mid-Pacific air fleet, operating from French Frigate Shoals, 550 miles west of here.

The 41 powerful planes which hopped from Pearl Harbor to the shoals yesterday were conditioned and fueled today. Maneuvering will be resumed tomorrow.

A test of aerial navigation and gunnery will be made with comparatively short flights westward from the shoals. Bombs filled with water rather than explosives were provided for the marksmanship exercises.

By midweek the sky fleet will reach still farther toward the west to make the acquaintance of tiny reefs and shoals unknown to all but the saltiest of mariners and the map makers.

A flight to Johnston Island, 825 miles southwest of here, also may be made. Johnston recently was taken over by the navy department. Possibly squally weather was in store for some of the operations.

Output of Lake County's Relief Gardens 276 Tons

William F. Kirkham of Waukegan, chairman of the Lake county emergency relief commission, announced yesterday that 1,166 families on the relief rolls cultivated gardens during the last summer and produced 552,109 pounds of vegetables. Much of the yield was canned and will be consumed by the gardeners this winter. Mr. Kirkham said that the cultivation was valuable also in that it increased the self respect of the relief clients.

STANDARD RED CROWN

THE FASTEST-STARTING GASOLINE IN STANDARD OIL HISTORY HAS ARRIVED

35% QUICKER WARM-UP

WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

AT THE PRICE OF "REGULAR" GASOLINE

Copr. 1935. Standard Oil Co.

SOME surprising new discoveries have been made recently about what it takes to start a cold automobile engine—start it and warm it up to full, smooth drive-away power faster.

For many years Standard's research staff has been at work on this problem. Not satisfied with laboratory experiment alone, they have conducted thousands of road tests—in all sorts of temperatures—using all sorts of gasoline formulas.

And now they come forward with a motor fuel that is different, in many respects, from any that ever went into a gasoline tank before—a motor fuel which embodies all these newly discovered principles—which really is quick starting without the drawbacks that so often go with that quality.

This new Standard Red Crown starts at the first flash of the spark. But on top of that it has fully 35% faster warm-up speed in zero temperatures. Actually it will get your car started and under way as quickly and easily in mid-winter as in midsummer. You'll be free from vapor lock. You'll get better winter mileage. Try it!

It's ready in the pumps now—where you see the sign of STANDARD OIL SERVICE.

One suggestion: Because this new Double-Quick gasoline does turn on full power in a cold engine so quickly, the use of a light grade of winter motor oil is desirable to assure instant, active lubrication of all moving parts. Iso-Vis "D"—10-W or 20-W—is a perfect running mate for the new Standard Red Crown.

BUSINESS CLUBS HIT NEW DEAL'S TREND IN POLL

Vote Emphatically Against Administration Goals.

[Copyright: 1935: By the Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Organized business is expressing emphatic disapproval of "recent trends in federal legislation" in a referendum conducted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A survey disclosed today that polls taken so far among widely scattered member organizations showed a strong tide of opposition to policies attributed to the New Deal.

26 to 2 Against.

Only two local business groups out of 28 whose votes were reported to the Associated Press favored trends for which a special committee of the national chamber's directorate requested "the most thoughtful attention."

Several other chambers, however, have refused to take part in the referendum. Some objected that questions submitted were "too broad." Others complained that the subject matter was "partisan."

The chamber at Columbia, S. C., where there is much New Deal activity, resigned from the national organization. Its board of governors charged the U. S. C. of C. with "anti-New Deal proclivities."

Four Questions Asked.

Four questions, based on the special committee's report—highly critical of the New Deal—were submitted by the national chamber to more than 1,000 local chambers and trade associations:

1. Should there be extension of federal jurisdiction into matters of state and local concern?
2. Should the federal government at the present time exercise federal spending power without relation to revenues?
3. Should there be government competition with private enterprise—for regulatory or other purposes?
4. Should all grants of authority by congress to the executive department of the federal government be within clearly defined limits?

Twenty-six of the local and state groups have answered "no" to the first three questions, and "yes" to the fourth.

The Helena and Kalispell, Mont., chambers were the only ones shown by the survey to have taken an opposite stand.

The referendum will not be completed until midnight Nov. 23. Many chambers in some of the largest cities have not yet voted.

Only Partial Returns.

While the national chamber has announced it will not disclose any returns until all are in, a nation-wide survey by the Associated Press shows this action to date:

East—Connecticut and New Jersey state chambers, New York City Merchants' association, and Hartford, New Haven, and Torrington, Conn., have voted disapproval of the "trends."

South—Similar action has been taken by the Tennessee Manufacturers' association, and the Atlanta, Savannah, Fort Worth, Galveston, and Nashville chambers. Governors of the Jacksonville, Fla., chamber held the questions were "too general" to be answered yes or no, and also that they "smack of political partisanship." The Knoxville chamber criticized the questions as "not specific enough" and refused to vote, while the national affairs committee of the Chattanooga chamber deferred a vote until the U. S. C. of C. furnishes all 700 members with complete ballots and pro and con arguments. Houston's chamber is not participating in the poll.

Opinions of Midwest Groups.

Midwest—The "trends" were opposed by the Kansas City, Springfield, Mo., Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lansing, Mich., and Indiana state chambers. A special committee of the Waterloo, Ia., chamber recommended similar action. The Des Moines, Ia., chamber is not voting; a Grand Forks, N. D., committee will recommend similar action tomorrow on the ground the questions are "general and vague," and the St. Louis chamber declined to make public the result.

Far west—San Francisco chamber directors said an answer to question 1 was "impossible because of its broad scope," but voted against the "trends" on the other three. The Wallace, Idaho, Board of Trade voted "no" on questions one and three, declining to vote on the other two. All four "trends" were disapproved by Oakland, Cal.; Ogden, Utah; Reno, Nev., and Tacoma, Wash. Salt Lake City's chamber declined to vote on the ground that the subject matter was "partisan," while Seattle's chamber will decide Nov. 19 whether it wants to vote.

Committee of Three.

The national chamber's committee of three which prepared the report on legislative trends consisted of John W. O'Leary, Chicago manufacturer; Harry Scherr, Huntington, W. Va., attorney, and Thomas Guy Woolford, Atlanta, credit firm chairman.

Chairman O'Leary and Scherr are listed in "Who's Who" as Republicans, O'Leary serving as vice treasurer of the Republican national committee in the Hoover campaign. Woolford, a Democrat, is a colonel on the staff of Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

KENTUCKY HILLS VOTE SHOWS DRYS CARRIED MOONSHINE COUNTIES

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 10.—(AP)—While Kentucky voted overwhelmingly in favor of repealing state constitutional prohibition, its mountain, bluegrass, plain, and "pennyrile" sections wrote divergent viewpoints on the ballots in Tuesday's referendum.

Nearly complete returns today gave a statewide majority of about 110,000 for repeal, but a geographical "breakdown" of the vote showed 69 of the state's 120 counties and four of its five congressional districts returned majorities for retention of the state prohibition amendment.

The mountain districts, widely known for potent beverages and clashes between 'shiners and revenoo-ers, registered emphatic protest against repeal.

Among the mountain counties opposing repeal was Clay, whose county seat of Manchester was occupied by state troops earlier in the year by order of Gov. Ruby Laffoon to "curb crime." Clay county has been the scene of frequent slayings attributed to feuds and moonshiners' quarrels.

In western Kentucky's "Pennyrile" section "along the rivers" where the underbrush is heavy and whence came what was reputed to be a superior product during prohibition days, the vote was against repeal.

In metropolitan Louisville, Frankfort, Lexington, and Owensboro, site of large distilling plants, the majorities for repeal were large. Louisville's majority was 84,861.

WORLD WAR VETERAN ENDS LIFE.

Moline, Ill., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Despondent over ill health, Robert Boone, 43 years old, a disabled world war veteran, ended his life in his home this evening by shooting.

5 TRAPPED, DIE AS MONTREAL ASYLUM BURNS

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A fire in a wing of the St. John de Dieu Hospital for the Insane last night caused the deaths of five "violent" patients, one of whom died of a heart attack during the excitement, authorities announced late today.

The patients were all men. Four were burned to death when they fled back into their blazing quarters after the wing had been emptied of its 350 occupants, some in strait-jackets, by guards and fire fighters. Officials conceded a final checkup might disclose more victims. Property damage was expected to be in excess of $50,000. Authorities believed one of the inmates might have set the fire.

TREAT A COLD AS IF YOU MEAN IT!

Don't Fool Around with Half-way Measures and Invite Serious Complications!

The so-called "common cold" causes more serious sickness and more enforced absence from work than anything else.

It's a mistake to treat a cold lightly. A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a "cure-all". A cold calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

One of the best things you can take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Your own doctor will tell you that.

First of all, Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

Secondly it is internal medication and of fourfold effect.

Here's what it does:

First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. For more than 40 years it has been the largest selling cold tablet in the world. There must be a reason for its popularity.

Play safe! The moment a cold threatens, go right to your druggist for a package of Bromo Quinine. Start taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. Prompt action will often see your cold stopped in 24 hours.

All drug stores sell Bromo Quinine tablets. The few pennies' cost may save you heavy medical bills. Ask for, and insist upon, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

IT'S ALL IN FUN

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—[Special.]—All through this far western country the New Deal is going strong. Business men in the larger cities are overwhelmingly against it as they are almost everywhere, but they are a minority. This region undoubtedly would plump for Roosevelt today.

Republican leaders privately concede as much. Some of the more optimistic think that California and Oregon are doubtful, that the Republicans have a fighting chance in these two states. But beyond that their hopes do not extend at this writing.

Source of Populism.

The attachment of this part of the country for the New Deal springs from a soil that produced populism, William J. Bryan and the free silver cult, Sockless Jerry Simpson, W. A. Peffer, Mary E. Lease, Hiram Johnson, and George Norris. It was strong for the New Nationalism of Roosevelt the First, the New Freedom of Woodrow Wilson, and now it has taken with no less enthusiasm to the New Deal of Roosevelt the Second.

Among the outstanding factors in the support of the New Deal in this region are the AAA, the relief expenditures, the public works projects, the silver subsidy and the general radicalism of New Deal doctrine with its emphasis on strafing Wall street, soaking the rich and taking from the haves to give to the have nots.

Little Wheat Grown.

In California the AAA is not so much of a factor, for there is very little wheat and cotton grown, corn and hogs are not an important item and citrus fruits are not embraced in the scheme of regimentation.

The New Deal's big drawing card in this is the distribution of government funds for relief and public works. In Los Angeles county alone there are 520,000 persons on the relief rolls, more than one-third of the population. The state has expended a great deal of money for relief, but it is only a fraction of what has been obtained from Washington.

Feel Tax Burden Just.

The Californians feel it is only just that the taxpayers at large should contribute bountifully to support the indigent within their borders, for most of them are outlanders attracted from all over the country by that far famed climate in which you can sleep in the park the year around in perfect comfort.

But when they advertised and boasted of their climate in every breath the Californians were inviting those who would help to support California instead of expecting California to support them.

By flivver and brake beam the indigent have been arriving in California at the rate of an estimated 100,000 a year, mostly in the southern part of the state.

Former System Recalled.

The federal relief is of a character and volume best calculated to inculcate a feeling of direct gratitude to Mr. Roosevelt. Under Mr. Hoover, who himself was a relief expert, having successfully administered the agencies for relief of 150 million people in Europe at the close of the war, relief was treated as an emergency condition for each person on the dole and as a local responsibility. The federal government merely contributed to the local funds and had nothing to do with the local administration, which was in the hands of unpaid volunteers.

Under the Hoover system local relief committees administered the funds economically, providing no more than each family, according to the differing circumstances, needed for food and clothing and shelter. Grocery and rent bills were paid by the local committees and money seldom advanced directly. The local committees were interested in getting people off relief in order to hold down the local cost and consequently were active in obtaining jobs for the unemployed.

New Deal Changes System.

The Roosevelt administration changed all this. The federal government took over the relief job, placed paid workers, mostly Democratic politicians, in charge in place of the local volunteers, enormously increased the allotment of federal funds, established a standard amount of relief, regardless of the requirements as to different families and different localities and paid the dole in cash.

As a result there was no local incentive to hold down relief costs and get employment for the idle. Employers who had been induced by the old local committees of volunteers to keep employés on part time work proceeded to turn off unnecessary help and let them go on the dole.

In San Francisco alone the number of persons on relief soon increased 5 per cent over the number at the close of the Hoover régime. Those on relief received more than they did under local administration of the dole and they knew they were indebted for the change to the great white father in Washington. All of which redounds enormously to the political profit of Mr. Roosevelt.

Charge Political Uses.

When it was to the interest of local committees to hold down the relief cost there was little graft and virtually no such thing as getting people on the relief rolls through political pull. Now the prostitution of relief to political purposes is notorious.

Although by virtue of the lavish spending of public money the President continues to enjoy the favor of the populace his party in this state is rent with factionalism. There are Upton Sinclair Democrats who captured control of the Democratic party in the primary last year. They are still bent on putting over Sinclair's EPIC scheme of "production for use" and are threatening to make trouble in the presidential primary.

Sinclair himself may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, hoping to capture the California delegation and carry his "production for use" movement into the Democratic national convention.

McAdoo Heads Faction.

Then there is the McAdoo faction, including J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency, and other federal office holders. Senator McAdoo, although no New Dealer himself, has garnered rich reward for his part in starting the stampede to Roosevelt at Chicago. He has landed several of his law partners, including Mr. O'Connor, in fat jobs. Even George Acret, Sinclair's candidate for the state Supreme court last year who was recently appointed to the Guffey coal act board, turns out to have been employed in McAdoo's law office.

Within the last fortnight McAdoo has named the appointees to two federal judgeships.

Finally, there are the old line conservative Democrats headed by Isadore Dockweiler and Justus Wardell, who dislike McAdoo about as much as they do Sinclair. They used to run the party in the pre-Roosevelt days and they are about as enthusiastic New Dealers as Al Smith is. And to them McAdoo is a carpet bagger who hitch-hiked into the senate on Roosevelt's coattails.

When Mr. Roosevelt was here in early October he made a speech in which he courted the favor of the radicals. He had been preceded in August by Mr. Farley, who hobnobbed conspicuously with Sinclair.

JAILED IN CAR CRASH DEATH.

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Horace Belote, 42, of La Porte, Ind., is in jail here charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Pearl Cromer, 42, near here last night when the Cromer car crashed into the rear of the stalled truck which Belote had left on the highway without the required warning flares.

PUBLIC SUPPORT OF RED CROSS IS URGED BY FORGAN

James B. Forgan Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross yesterday appealed to the public to support the annual Red Cross roll call which opens today, continuing until Thanksgiving.

"In Chicago half of the revenue necessary to carry on the work of the Chicago chapter is secured through participation in the Community Fund, but the balance must be secured through voluntary subscription in this roll call," he said.

He pointed out that for the year ending June 30, the Chicago chapter received $80,867 from the Community Fund and the balance of its income of $137,258 for the year came from private subscription.

The Chicago chapter during the last year, in addition to being prepared always to assist in any disaster, aided 6,441 war veterans, awarded 4,030 life saving certificates and instructed 17,496 persons in various phases of household and personal hygiene. To assist the blind, 23,283 volunteers worked to bring Braille books to the blind and the Junior Red Cross gave to the Chicago Public library 15,861 pages transcribed into Braille for the blind, Mr. Forgan said.

LA GUARDIA RUNS AFFAIRS OF CITY FROM HOSPITAL

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Mayor La Guardia continued to run the world's largest city today by remote control, from a hospital bed where he is confined with arthritis.

Equipped with a portable typewriter and a couple of pencils, the mayor will transact only the most urgent city business during his confinement.

One of his first bedside orders was to call for curtailment of trafic for a two minute period tomorrow, Armistice day. He is expected to remain at the hospital for a week.

Now Ease a Cold without Quinine

This way, relief comes with amazing speed

To ease a common cold almost as fast as you caught it, just get a tin of Acquin at the nearest drug counter and do these three simple things:

1. Take genuine Acquin Tablets as directed on the leaflet inside the package. 2. Drink plenty of water. 3. Dissolve two Acquin Tablets in one-third glassful of very warm water and gargle at frequent intervals.

This quickly reduces fever and eases the aches and pains that come with common colds. It acts as an antiseptic in the throat, soothing the raw, inflamed tissues, easing the soreness and rawness. It relieves a simple cold almost as fast as you caught it — before it has a chance to take hold and develop into Broncho-Pneumonia, Lobar-Pneumonia, Influenza, Pleurisy, Grippe or one of the 17 dread diseases now traced to neglected colds.

Note: If your cold has gone too far, we suggest you see your doctor.

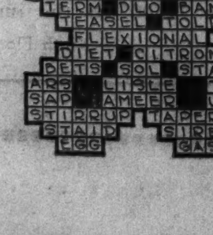
SATURDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED.



KING SAYS HE'LL RETURN AT ONCE TO GREEK THRONE

George II. to Quit London by Midweek.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(AP)—King George II. of Greece formally accepted his nation's invitation to return to his throne at a brief ceremony in the Greek legation today, and announced he would go back "almost immediately to my beloved people."

It was learned he would go to Athens with the three man delegation which brought the formal invitation, probably on Thursday, and possibly Wednesday.

More than 97 per cent of the people of Greece voted in a plebiscite last Sunday to bring him home to the throne he abdicated 12 years ago.

Joins British Soverigns.

Following the ceremony, the 45 year old monarch, with the Princes Paul and Peter and the Princesses Catherine and Olga, the latter a sister of the duchess of Kent, attended a special service of thanksgiving at the Greek orthodox church. Then the Greek king lunched with King George and Queen Mary of England at Buckingham palace.

Obviously under deep emotion, the monocled king received the invitation from the delegation, and rising, declared:

"I shall never forget the past. I shall return almost immediately to my beloved people.

"May we have divine guidance to bring happiness, peace, and prosperity to our Greece!"

His Greatest Moment.

Then he told the delegation the occasion was "probably the most momentous of my life."

The king wore morning dress, in contrast to the bemedaled Gen. Alexander Papagos of his entourage, who was attired in a blue and gold uniform surmounted by a purple cloak.

[In Athens picked troops pledged their allegiance to the king in an oath taking ceremony at the Athenian stadium in the presence of cabinet members and diplomats. Throughout Sunday scores of workmen labored to prepare the royal palace for the monarch's return.]

STREET CAR MEN PLEDGE $60,000 TO COMMUNITY FUND

A $60,000 pledge to the Community Fund from employés of the Chicago Surface lines put the public utilities soliciting group over the top yesterday on its $325,000 quota in the $3,200,000 campaign. G. K. McCorkle, chairman of the public utilities division, who obtained the pledge, reported his division had raised $333,209 with other pledges promised.

"We feel that this is an unusually generous pledge," said Halbert O. Crews, supervisor of public relations of the surface lines, "in view of the fact that our employés themselves take care of all their indigent associates and their families. So far as we know no employé or any member of his family is on public or private relief.

"The $60,000 was allotted to the Community Fund from a subscription of $230,000 made by employés for the company relief committee. The employés had previously, since 1930, subscribed $669,600 to this committee and had given the fund $120,000. We have about 16,500 employés and this gift represents almost every regular employé."

Less than $700,000 remains to be raised in the current drive.

Ship Wrecked on Rocks Off Philippine Islands

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 11 [Monday].—(AP)—The freighter Silver Hazel was smashed today on the rocks of San Bernardino Island off the southern Philippines and her crew and passengers numbering about 50 marooned on a small rock, radio messages received here said. Heavy swells and tide rips kept off rescuing boats after the freighter, a craft of 3,091 tons, was broken in two, said messages intercepted by the Radio Corporation of America.

The master of the steamship New York which made the futile rescue attempts, wirelessed that the only means to save the crew was by motorized boats, but he was standing by.

The Manila agent for the Java-Pacific line, operators of the Silver Hazel, said the freighter carried a crew of 45 or 50 and had booked four or five passengers. It was en route from San Francisco to Manila.

RUSSIANS ORDER PRIEST SHOT IN "HOLY WAR" PLOT

Three Aids Also Must Face Firing Squad.

TASHKENT, U. S. S. R., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Mohammedan priest, Pir Ishan Abdul Mutaliev, and three of his aides were ordered shot after their conviction of plotting a "holy war" against the soviet union, publication of the court decision disclosed tonight.

The sentence was pronounced Nov. 3, with no right of appeal. Hence it generally was understood the sentences already had been carried out. In such cases sentences must be fulfilled within 72 hours, unless an appeal is made or clemency is granted.

The presumed executions ended a sensational 16 day trial before a special collegium at Kokand, near here. Thirty alleged plotters were convicted of planning an invasion by the "troops of Islam," which was to coincide allegedly with an uprising in the soviet republics of Tadzhikstan and Kirghiz and the territory of Ferghana. Pir, it was contended, was to have headed a new Mussulman state in the region to be wrested from the bolsheviks.

26 Sent to Prison.

Sentenced to death with him were his principal "haphas" or assistants, Mula Dekhan, Halmirza, and Abdul Satter. Four other convicted plotters were sentenced to ten years in prison, 22 received lesser terms, and two were acquitted.

The prosecutor accused Pir of attempting to refit the yoke of superstition and ignorance on a people, whom, he said, were being enlightened by soviet rule.

In a bitter attack on religion, he declared that in the pre-bolshevist era the Kulaks [well-to-do peasants] and priests played on the superstitions of the people to cheat and exploit them. The plot, he charged, was backed by former landholding emigres, who were organizing the invasion.

State witnesses brought out during the trial that Pir made frequent visits to the border to confer with Van Khadja, in command of the invading troops, and the agent of one Kurshirmat, described as a leader of the emigre group.

At one time Kurshirmat was said to have written a letter to Pir telling him to "build up food reserves, for in the autumn of 1935 I will come with my troops."

The country from which the invaders were to come was not named, but it was stated they were to strike first in Ferghana.

Pir had three wives, one of them only 12 years old. His aide, Mula Dekhan, allegedly had been abroad for him for two years, contacting emigres and organizing bandit raids across the border.

GARNER LEADS JUNKETERS TO BALL IN MANILA

Quezon Honors Murphy at Brilliant Reception.

MANILA, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Philippine officialdom, playing host to a large group of distinguished Americans, plunged tonight into an ambitious round of inauguration week social activity as the prelude to the birth of the new commonwealth.

Vice President John N. Garner and Speaker of the House Joseph Byrns, heading more than two score United States congressmen, rushed back to Manila by special train tonight from Baguio, mile high mountain resort 150 miles north of here, to attend a reception and ball given by President-Elect Manuel Quezon in honor of Governor General Frank Murphy.

Submits With a Smile.

"Cactus Jack" Garner's 9:30 p. m. Washington bedtime became only a memory to him as he was caught up in the whirl of festivity. He has been less successful here than in Washington in shunning social activity. He submitted here with a smile.

To the children lining the route from Manila to Baguio he shouted "Mabuhay!" the Filipino word of greeting equivalent to Hawaii's "Aloha."

At Baguio Garner and the congressmen on the $200,000 junket witnessed the tribal dances of the mountain pagans. En route they saw growing sugar cane, coconuts and hemp, for which the Filipinos hope to preserve a duty free American market after independence.

White haired William Allen White, Kansas editor accompanying the American party, repeatedly has been mistaken for Garner by the Filipinos.

The whole American group has been amazed at the wide reach of Filipino hospitality.

Recalls Belshazzar's Feast.

"All this food," said White on one occasion, "looks like a cross between Belshazzar's feast and the loaves and fishes in the Bible."

Despite the gayety of both officialdom and the citizenry in general, an undercurrent of resentment over the September presidential election persisted.

Whether Emilio Aguinaldo, badly defeated National Socialist presidential candidate, would be permitted to stage a demonstration planned for next Tuesday in favor of immediate and complete independence remained to be seen.

Aguinaldo's followers have been insistent that election frauds were committed by the victorious coalition behind Quezon. They also dislike the commonwealth program of ten more years of dependence on the United States.

SCHOOLGIRL, 19, KILLS HERSELF AFTER A PARTY

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Miss Beulah A. Newell, attractive 19 year old Rockford high school senior, went to her bedroom upon her return from a birthday party shortly before midnight last night, removed her party dress and then shot herself with her stepfather's revolver. She died early this morning at Rockford hospital from a bullet wound directly beneath her heart.

Tony Pazera, who had escorted her to the party last night, said today that before he left the girl last night he had told her they were "through." The girl then had rejected his offer to accompany her to the door of her home.

He said that the girl had threatened to kill herself last June when he told her then he would never go out with her again if she created another "scene."

Double-Mellow Old Golds

Double your money back

...if it isn't the finest cigarette you ever smoked

THROUGHOUT CHICAGO today, cigarette counters are offering you a new cigarette delight. Double-Mellow Old Golds . . . made of the finest tobacco ever put in a cigarette.

But we are getting ahead of our story.

Back in 1933, Lorillard set out to create a new standard of quality in popular priced cigarettes. "Never mind the cost!" Lorillard's leaf men were told. "Go out and buy up the pick of the world's prize tobacco crops.

"Scour the markets of Greece, Turkey and America. Get the luxury types of tobacco; those customarily used in the most expensive cigarettes."

We've had to wait two long years before we could pass this pedigreed tobacco along to you. But now, at the peak of its perfection . . . aged and mellowed two years . . . it is ready for you in Double-Mellow Old Golds.

Finer quality at no extra cost!

Add up all the claims you have ever read or heard about cigarettes.

1 . . . They're milder.
2 . . . They taste better.
3 . . . They give you a pick-me-up.
4 . . . They're easy on the throat.
5 . . . They don't get on your nerves.

The sum total will be just the thrill you'll enjoy when you smoke Double-Mellow Old Golds.

But are these finer cigarettes more expensive? The answer is . . . No!

Cigarette manufacturers have to spend huge sums for advertising to hold their smokers in line. Double-Mellow Old Gold will make a booster and an advertiser of its every smoker; and thus make possible substantial advertising savings.

And so this finer cigarette is offered to you at no more than the price of ordinary cigarettes.

If you don't get a thrill . . . we'll pay the bill! (twice over)

Claims are easy to make . . . for any cigarette. But you can't smoke claims.

An Old Gold in your lips is better than all the adjectives in the dictionary to get over the superiority of this cigarette to your taste buds.

So, to relieve you of all gamble, we invite you to try Double-Mellow Old Golds on this "double your money back" guarantee.

Buy a pack of Double-Mellow Old Golds at any cigarette counter. Smoke 10 of the cigarettes. If you're not convinced that it is the finest cigarette you ever smoked, just mail the wrapper and the 10 unsmoked cigarettes to: P. Lorillard Company, Inc., 119 West 40th St., New York City . . . and we will send you twice the price you paid, plus postage.

CENSORSHIP AND THE THEATER.

The suppression of the play "Tobacco Road" has raised the question in some of our readers' minds why in a nation whose fundamental law guarantees freedom of speech and of the press, theatrical performances are subject to various forms of legal censorship. An interesting question, the answer to which has its roots in our history, including that part of it which precedes our birth as an independent nation yet is the source of most of our political principles and institutions.

We need not repeat here the story of freedom of speech and of the press. That of the theater, so far as it has freedom, is different and for reasons which will readily enough appear. When the printing press came to England in the fifteenth century and writings could be published in pamphlet and book form, it very quickly became apparent to the autocratic government of that period that it was or could be, as it has become, a mighty engine of criticism and agitation. Therefore the masterful Tudors quickly moved to control it. Their device was the royal license. Books were not to be published without royal consent. There began the long fight for freedom of printing, of the press when it appeared, a fight not yet over, since authority usually, if not invariably, would like to be immune from criticism and revolt.

The theater was another affair. It was primarily concerned with entertainment and seldom was or is a vehicle for political ideas. Furthermore, the men who were making the fight for political liberty and for the freedom of printing as an essential to political liberty were largely of the class which disapproved of the theater. Indeed, under the commonwealth the theater was suppressed. The aspiration for political liberty did not regard control of the drama as a serious threat and while freedom of thought, of conscience, and of utterance were theoretically involved, it has generally been at least tacitly assumed that government, charged as it is with public order and decency, should exercise restraint upon public shows.

The theater, therefore, even in America, which is or has been, at any rate, especially jealous of political authority, was not guaranteed the freedom recognized and protected in our constitutional system. It is subject to government control, even to prior restraint, through the licensing power, through the taxing power, and virtually everywhere through the police power.

There are ways of evading at least the first form by giving plays in private; that is, to private groups of subscribers. But the authority of government to suppress or even prevent any entertainment or play offered to the public is clearly established. Such action may not be capricious or arbitrary. It must be founded upon law, upon a statute or ordinance. But these grants of power employ terms which generally involve differences of interpretation by individuals, by official censors, and by courts. The power to restrain or even suppress is therefore rather broad. Not only in the serious drama but in mere shows for entertainment what is decent or obscene or calculated to stimulate the senses injuriously to public morals are questions upon which not only individuals but communities are likely to differ, as experience abundantly has shown.

Censorship of the theater, including, of course, the films, has concerned itself chiefly with this problem of morals and no certainty can reasonably be expected in this field of government activity, although there is a large part of it in which differences will not arise among normal people.

There remains the interesting question whether the guaranty of free speech would protect the drama from restraint if it were a vehicle of deliberate propaganda deemed subversive by an existing régime. But this question must be reserved for discussion another day.

CANADIAN TITLES.

Under Premier MacKenzie King the Canadian parliament is expected to renew its request that no titles be given Canadian citizens. The Liberal party, winner in the recent elections, has opposed the extension of these honors to the dominion. Mr. Bennett, the defeated prime minister, liked them. When he saw his way clear to restore the custom which had been stopped he did so. He was in time to let Dr. Dafoe in the honors, a final incident in the stupefaction of the Dionnes, who now have no idea what their relation to the quints may be.

The British government will not force titles on the Canadians. King George will include them or forget them as the Canadian government wishes. The British no doubt would prefer to use some minor titles to good purpose in the dominion as ties that bind. A country which will not have titles in its social and political order and one which regards them as high rewards, as something to fill the cup of ambition, are not seeing eye to eye. Canadian refusal implies a criticism of the British caste system, although the fact is likely different. Canada was given the crums. It did not really cut into the cake and there is more dignity in declining any part than in taking the colonial and inferior share. Plain Mister is a taller fellow than little Sir John.

If the Canadians in refusing wish to have their good judgment sustained all they need do is to observe their new governor general, Baron Tweedsmuir, who until that elevation extinguished him was honest and distinguished John Buchan.

OUR TRANSPORT SURPLUS.

A half century ago a certain Canadian prairie town reached that stage of civic development usually associated with growing pains. Its citizens visualized a future Chicago, and as such its streets must offer public transportation, the badge that distinguishes the city of importance from the country town. The necessary capital was found, the franchise granted, the rails laid and horse cars were installed to give the streets the necessary metropolitan touch.

Only those past middle age can appreciate the tragedy that followed. A newfangled device called the "trolley car" had sprung into public favor in the east almost overnight. In what seemed an incredibly short space of time the horse car became the insignia of the hick town. Our up-and-coming community must have the new trolley car—but how? The horse car company, falling into disfavor, had lost earning capacity and had become all tangled up in courts and receivership to the point where it could neither modernize its property, abandon its rails nor offer satisfactory fares to the citizens.

A bright alderman found the solution in the discovery that the franchise was not monopolistic. A second permit was granted and an electric line soon paralleled the tramway on either side. The city continued its upward climb, but a visitor, watching the equipment parade down the center of the street, might readily have observed, "You appear to have a surplus of transportation in this man's town."

The story differs only in minor details from the history of the oversupply of transport facilities recently noted by President Roosevelt's National Resources board in its report. The entire breadth of the United States had, and still has, a competent system of railways that was, a quarter century ago, amply sufficient for our transportation needs. It has been rendered impotent, however, by over-regulation to a point where it can no longer modernize itself to meet the changing demands of the public or to accommodate its freight charges and passenger fares to the delicate balance between production costs and profitable distribution. Progress makes no discrimination between things inherently and superficially archaic, and has paralleled the entire system with a more elastic form of transportation.

As might be expected from a political group seeking ways and means of invading private industry, the National Resources board has recommended legislation to assign and to a certain degree restrict our duplicate facilities to what it terms "a proper sphere." With true political nearsightedness they fail to see that "restrictions" form the underlying cause of the present surplus of facilities and that further application of the same remedy will merely produce a third parallel system.

THOUGHT FOR YOUNG AMERICA.

An "anxious parent" poses this query for discussion during Americanization week by our youth of the schools and colleges, "Who must assume the consequences of the New Deal?"

"Has the taking over of munitions by the governments of Italy, Germany, and Russia, as well as control of industry, agriculture, banking, credit, securities, communications, public utilities, foreign trade, education, and charity brought economic security, social justice, happiness, and peace to the peoples of those nations?"

Editorials of the Day

THE BALDWIN WARNING.

[Sioux City Journal.]

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, speaking in London, warned that the British government is prepared to resort to force if necessary to carry out the economic and financial sanctions voted against Italy by the league of nations. He said: "We mean nothing to the league if we are not prepared in the end, and, after grave and careful trial, to take action to enforce its judgments."

It seems to be significant that now for the first time the British government is beginning to talk of force rather than persuasion. Possibly, private advices from abroad to the effect that the British are determined to stop Il Duce for all time are to be taken seriously after all.

No observer anywhere can read cable dispatches of developments abroad without feeling that the old world is dangerously close to a crisis that may mean another European war. There have been times when it appeared that the cataclysm might be avoided. Just now it seems to be closer than ever.

Violent anti-British demonstrations in Italy have been under way for several days. London has protested to Rome, but the demonstrations continue. Anything may happen now. Somewhere, some crazy fool will light the fuse.

A WHOLLY INDEFENSIBLE SYSTEM.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

We must import coffee and bananas. But butter? Something is amiss when in the first nine months of this year we were compelled to import $21,948,000 worth of butter. In the same period last year we imported $844,000 worth of butter. One might think the cattle on our thousand hills were not producing. That is not the case. It is the policy of the Agricultural Adjustment administration. It has reduced the number of our cattle and resulted in a shortage of butter. We must bring that commodity from abroad.

In the same period we imported meat products valued at $141,868,000, as against $80,954,000 in the same period in 1934. Our imports of grain and fodder in the nine months was $85,441,000, compared with $21,293,000 last year.

No sensible man, not even a sensible farmer who is the alleged beneficiary of this system, can defend it. Farmers are being paid for cutting down the yield of their fields and foreigners are reaping a harvest by supplying us with what we need to make up the deficiency which we have created in this artificial way. Prices of all agricultural products have risen until the high cost of food is a serious problem to hundreds of thousands of our people.

ARMISTICE DAY

(Reprinted by request from the Linebooks, 1924-1934.)

ARMISTICE DAY! And a moment in which we pause in our tasks and face to the east in memory of those who died. But through the days and the years the Eternal Fire burns beneath the Arc de Triomphe, a soldier forever stands guard by the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington, the steady stream of hurrying people pass bareheaded by the Cenotaph in Whitehall, and every sweet and peaceful village of England has its cross engraved with the last stanza of Laurence Binyon's beautiful poem "For the Fallen"—

"Solemn the drums thrill: Death august and royal
Sings sorrow up into immortal spheres.
There is music in the midst of desolation
And a glory that shines upon our tears.

They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,

Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning

THE ROAD TO VAUX.

The Fifth and Sixth from Quantico
Come up the Avenue,
With summer sunlight streaming
On columns in review;
The President stands at salute,
In homage as they go,
Remembering that Fifth and Sixth
Who took the road to Vaux.

There was Paoli from Hester street,
McFadden from the Yards,
And little Hopkinson from Yale,
Who lost his shirt at cards;
There were Scots, and Poles, and Hunyaks,
Who thrilled at a Yankee chance
To meet femmes, or vin, or foemen,
Out on the roads of France.

The Fifth and Sixth from Quantico,
Lord love 'em, how they played
"The Halls of Montezuma" and
"The Raggedy Pants Brigade"
As they answered brazen bugles
Of the worn Chasseurs Alpines,
And plunged on to death and glory
In the Wood of the Marines!

On crimson fields of Soissons,
Up slopes of Blanc Mont's hell,
Through marshes of the Argonne,
And doom of St. Mihiel
The Fifth and Sixth from Quantico
Turned back the German tide,
With youth, and fire, and courage,
Lord love 'em, how they died!

The guns on the Virginia hills
Roar in the sullen noon
To honor leathernecks who fought
With Harboard and Lejeune.
New men, new hopes, old flags, old faith
Come up from Quantico,
But never come that Fifth and Sixth
Who took the road to Vaux.

THE WINDS OF ARMISTICE.

Blowing in a bugle rune to summon up today
The young lads, the lost lads, that ride a wind like this
To mock in silence-shod parade the term of Armistice!

There's a sad wind, a mad wind, slaughter-crazed to tell
Of what it's seen along the Meuse and on to St. Mihiel,
Red sights and dead nights, and scarce the living hear
Of youth that lived another war and died another year.

Ghost lads, the lost lads, in long, unseen array

THE SOLICITOR.

SELL ME A DREAM.

Ah, Maker of Dreams,
Could you sell me a dream
Of a home-coming soldier boy
With his old sweet smile
On his nut-brown face,
And his eyes telling tales in their joy?

Could you send him back
In his battered old plane,
With a whir and a whiz through the air,
To a dear little cottage
In a wee western town
And have me waiting there?

Could you blot out the long
Lonely years that have gone
Since he fell and the best of me died—
What is it you're saying,
Oh, Maker of Dreams?—
"Ah, no, I cannot, I have tried!"

LUN DEE.

ARMISTICE DAY.

Face to the East! It seems a grim jest,
For this is to honor the lads who "went West."
Face to the East! Stop the traffic and noise;
Face to the East! Banker, farmer, and clerk,
Every rank, all conditions, stop both play and work!
Face to the East! This moment's for them,
Our gay laughing boys who died, aye, like men.
Face to the East! and murmur a prayer
For the lads who forever have gone "Over There."
Face to the East! While Mem'ry enwraps
Her dear arms around us. Now, Bugler, sound "Taps."

PLEURISY A DANGER SIGNAL.

COLDS rarely start in the bronchial tubes. On the contrary, infection usually manifests itself first in the nasal passages or the throat. If unchecked, and because there is an open pathway to the bronchi and the lungs, inflammation of these areas may follow along with cough and profuse expectoration. With the coming of cool and cold days and nights with blustery winds, we are much more prone to infections of the air passages. The surface of the body chills quickly, resistance is lower, and bacteria go on the rampage, multiplying in great numbers.

There is one type of inflammation, however, that is often confused with a cold but which is not due to an acute infection of the respiratory tract. More often than not it is caused by the tubercle bacillus, which most of us harbor in our bodies at one time or another. The condition is known as pleurisy and is characterized by pain in the side. The pleura is a two-layer membrane forming a sacklike affair which encloses the lungs. When these two layers become inflamed and rub together severe pain results.

Sometimes disease of the pleura begins gradually. The individual may note a slowly increasing physical weakness, some loss of weight, and a capricious appetite. Now and then a dry cough unaccompanied by sputum is present. Sooner or later pain is felt in the chest. It may be first noticed in the early hours of the day; later, the patient may be wakened out of a sound sleep because of its intensity. In some cases the pain is stabbing and lightninglike and is apparently confined to a small area in the chest wall. At this time the afternoon temperature is between 99 and 100 degrees F.

In other cases the symptoms of pleurisy come on without warning. The first intimation that something is wrong is a sharp, stabbing pain which almost paralyzes breathing. It may be located in the front of the chest, in the back beneath the shoulder blade, or low down in the back or in the abdomen. In this latter situation it is occasionally mistaken for the pain of appendicitis. If cough is present, it is generally hacking in character. When the symptoms come on suddenly the temperature is much higher than in the period of slow onset, and 102 to 103 degrees F. is not at all unusual. The pulse is increased correspondingly and the patient looks and feels ill. If the inflammation is severe enough to cause the pleura to secrete fluid, thus separating the two inflamed surfaces, the pain will abate and the patient will become comfortable.

Treatment must be directed first toward relieving pain. This may be accomplished rather quickly by applying strips of adhesive plaster to the affected side, thus preventing movement of the chest. If the two inflamed layers are not allowed to rub against each other pain will cease rather quickly. Rest in bed must be enforced strictly and the management of the case should be that of a possible tuberculosis, with plenty of food, fresh air, and good nursing.

If fluid collects in the pleural space so that the lung is compressed and unable to function, it may be necessary to remove it by tapping the chest. In this procedure physicians have learned that withdrawal of but a portion of the accumulated fluid is the wisest course. As recovery occurs the remainder is absorbed.

We must regard true pleurisy as a warning that tuberculosis is probably present in the body, and that unless the signs are heeded infection of the lungs may develop. In a report of over one thousand cases of acute pleurisy, 10 to 12 per cent later developed pulmonary tuberculosis.

There are many types of chest pain entirely unassociated with pleurisy. Some of these are rheumatic in origin affecting muscles, nerves, or joints. One should not jump to the conclusion that pleurisy is present until after a careful study has ruled out the many common and reasonably innocent causes of chest pain.

LEAD POISONING.

A. B. writes: My father has been an interior decorator for thirty years. He is now suffering from lead poisoning. Is there any way in which lead can be eliminated from the system?

REPLY.

It is very important that your father avoid further exposure to lead. As long as lead is present in the circulating blood stream it is dangerous. Knowing the close association between lead and calcium, treatment should be directed toward storing in the bones the excessive amount of lead. The diet should consist of milk, green vegetables, fruits, and eggs. Later an acid diet should be given to remove the lead from the body. This diet is composed of meat, liver, potatoes, tea, and coffee. A physician should direct the treatment as the condition must not be allowed to "run along."

PELLAGRA.

A. R. writes: What is the cause of pellagra? What are the symptoms? Does it affect the brain?

REPLY.

Deficiency of vitamin G is considered to be the cause. This vitamin is found in cheese, eggs, fruits, meat, milk, yeast, wheat germ, whole cereal, liver, lean meat, and vegetables. Among the symptoms are digestive disturbances, dizziness, a feeling of depression, skin eruption and discoloration, and extreme weakness. Mental changes occur and many persons with pellagra, who have not been treated, are compelled to enter institutions for the insane.

MAY BE TRENCH MOUTH.

X. Y. Z. writes: For some time I have had ulcers in the mouth, a bad breath, no taste, and not much appetite. What can I do about this condition?

REPLY.

You may have Vincent's angina, or trench mouth. Keep the mouth as clean as possible, do not use common drinking glasses or cups, build up your health with proper foods and cod liver oil, and consult a physician as soon as possible. Sodium perborate is recommended as a mouth wash and gargle.

WHO TO PAY?

Chicago, Nov. 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man who holds trust deed and semi-annual interest coupons on a bungalow, on which an extension was made, gave trust deed and interest coupons to a building contractor as part payment on a home to be erected for him. Before the semi-annual interest payment became due, Oct. 19, 1935, I was notified by the attorney of the owner of the trust deed not to pay interest to the building contractor, as he obtained the trust deed on misrepresentation and that a replevin suit is pending. The attorney of the building contractor threatens to start foreclosure if I do not pay him the interest. Am ready to pay interest, but how can I determine who is the legal holder of trust deed and interest coupon?

F. M. P.

One course would be to notify the attorney to secure an injunction if he wishes to stop you from making the payment that you are obliged to make. Another would be to try to work out an arrangement by consent to deposit the money in a separate bank account pending adjustment of the dispute. Another would be for you to file a bill of interpleader.

CCC ENROLLMENTS.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—[Friend of the People.]—I am very desirous to enlist in a CCC camp. I am 18 years old and have finished four years of high school. My family is not on relief. I would like to know if I am eligible to sign up? When and where may a person enlist or register? When will the next enlistment of men go to camp? Can you tell me where I can get any additional information?

W. O.

The instructions of the federal government limit enrollments in CCC camps to young men between the ages of 17 and 28 who are members of relief families. The writer states that his family is not on relief, which would make him ineligible. The enrollee must agree to let $25 of the $30 which he receives go to his family, which amount in a good many cases means that the family thereupon needs no relief. All CCC enrollments in Cook county are handled through the public relations service of the Cook County Relief administration, Illinois Emergency Relief commission, 740 West Harrison street.

"ONE DAY'S REST IN SEVEN."

Chicago, Nov. 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I have read different articles in your column and wonder if you could help me or let me know if there is anything that can be done in my case. I work for a large club in the city ten hours every night, seven nights a week, and I have read and heard of a thirty hour week that is in effect; that a person is supposed to have a day off with pay each week, but we fail to get it. The day workers get it, but the night workers do not. Please let me know if there is anything that can be done or where to report this matter.

H. B.

The 1935 act for one day's rest in seven applies to "Every employer operating any factory, mercantile establishment, transportation or public service company, restaurant, theater, or freight or passenger elevator in this state." The act excepts: "1, janitors; 2, watchmen; 3, superintendents or foremen in charge of groups of employés; 4, employés whose duties on Sunday shall not consume more than three hours [examples are given], and 5, employés in various listed lines depending on milk as a raw material 'where not more than seven persons are engaged.'"

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, Australia.—The first country in the world to do so, Australia has approved postoffice proposals for the use of airplanes to fly mails at ordinary letter rates.

The move by the federal government represents the first step in conquering the great distances which separate the capitals of the different states of this commonwealth and will be the greatest help that interstate communications has ever received. A letter posted late in the afternoon in Brisbane, Queensland, will be delivered early next morning at Melbourne, Victoria [850 miles away], or Adelaide, South Australia [1,000 miles distant].

This will be possible because the government has adopted the principles of night flying by high powered machines capable of 200 miles an hour in all weathers.

The service is to be applied only between the state capitals at first, but the organization necessary to link these distant points of the continent will be large. More than 60 new airdromes and emergency landing grounds will be built all over the country. Their building will be an unemployment relief measure. All the airdromes will be connected with interrelated telephones, and weather observation stations will have to be established.

Radio beacons, refueling stations, light beacons, and an elaborate ground organization are also being created.

The new scheme has been made possible by utilization of the postoffice surplus—estimated at £2,000,000 [$10,000,000] at the end of June, 1936. The first establishment will cost about £300,000 [$1,500,000], and it is calculated that the system will cost at least £250,000 [$1,250,000] a year to run.

The dramatic step in the plan has been the decision to attempt to make the service pay by offering it at no increase on the postage rates. The expense of operating an air service is not a net addition to the costs of mails because the new plan will completely replace the existing system, which costs a great deal.

In beginning the new air mail the postoffice will place one section—that between Sydney and Melbourne, the capitals of the two principal states—in operation first. To provide for capital expenditures a trust fund will be created from postal revenue and the flying will be done by private companies which succeed in the bids which the federal government is shortly to invite for the various links in the scheme.

This new step has behind it the shadow of the all pervading issue of defense. Airports and emergency landing grounds, refueling depots, and radio beams are all useful in strengthening the Australian coast against attack. The establishment of a backbone of aviation services will enable blows to be struck at any enemy from a wide range of points.

Linked with these defense issues is still another matter—the fact that establishment of the air mail scheme will lead to the creation in Australia of a complete aircraft building industry. The development of such an industry has always been one of the main points of the present government's defense policy.

A SLUMP IN THE ART BUSINESS.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—It would seem that your renowned correspondent, James O'Donnell Bennett, failed to get all the news when he had his prolonged interview with the celebrated head of the Art institute in regard to the present exhibition of alleged American art. We feel timid about questioning the acuteness of Mr. Bennett's nose for news, but surely he should be aware that the idea that individuality is the main essential of art has been out for several seasons and is on the verge of becoming passé.

Neither is the "pointing of orange with blue" any great novelty. These have been complementary colors for some centuries and are a favorite recourse of the printing trade, almost as popular in fact as red and black. If the old combination of taste, intelligence, and skill [which was the accepted formula for art] has become trite and that only is acceptable which breaks with tradition, surely we have a right to demand something fresher than a combination of complementary colors as the raison d'être of a work which aims at modernity.

Is it hot news or good copy that practically every artist of note in Chicago who has made his living at his trade for fifteen years or more, including honor students and former teachers in the institute school, have had their best works ruthlessly thrown out of the show while their youngest and least apt pupils got in?

Does Mr. Bennett know that the business of selling pictures is so dead in the United States that it is a hot topic with the art magazines, which are making a survey of the situation in order to attempt a revival?

It is pretty generally conceded by those in the art world, who are in a position to know, that the attempt to foist upon the public an art devoid of taste, intelligence, and skill, and distinguished only by novelty, has resulted in a general distrust of art on the part of the former buying public. People cannot stomach this new art and are afraid to buy any other kind because it is not considered fashionable. The result is a vogue for plain walls, relieved by mirrors. Meanwhile most of the buying of pictures is done at auction sales by canny people who have faith in the old schools and look for them to return to favor and increase in value.

All this is fact, whereas the idea that individuality is all there is to art, whether it is news or not, comes under the head of "Important if True."

EVELYN MARIE STUART.

SHE LIKED IT.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—I must be depraved or crazy; I came away from the much talked about art exhibit aglow and tingling! Why? I don't know. I went there expecting to be shocked and disgusted; instead, I was thrilled.

They have something there. True, much of it is crude, vulgar, almost horrible. At least it is not static. It lives and breathes; in fact, sparkles.

It stirs something in one!

There is beauty, humor, pathos, fun, nature at its best and its worst; not much delicacy or idealism, but truth!

Had the back stoop been a drawing room it may have caused no comment. "The Thanksgiving Dinner" reminds one of Gaar Williams' drawings, a bit more polished. But one feels the stir and hustle.

People have raved and "oh-ed" and "ah-ed" over dead fish, raw pigs, and murdered turkeys, to say nothing of clumps of color no one understood. Why such a hubbub over life as it is today? Of course it is different, but aren't we all?

Something is being born! Again I say I like it.

Please do not print my name. I should be mobbed. I am married, have a husband and three grown children. My morals have always been above reproach.

THE FIGHTING IRISH.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 8.—Some one wrote in claiming Andy Pilney as a Bohemian and deploring the name "Fighting Irish" as applied to Notre Dame teams. I don't know what Pilney is, but let me say that I, for one, am in favor of dropping the appellation "Fighting Irish" as applied to Notre Dame football teams. True, the Irish fostered the game and made the name of Notre Dame great on the gridiron, but of late years the amazing fecundity of the southern Slavs has caused a change in the complexion of South Bend elevens. I resent the extension of the name "Fighting Irish" to include these people.

JOHN MCGRATH.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—You have undoubtedly seen on more occasions than one headlines that went something like this: "Badgers Beat So and So," or "Wildcats Win." However, a badger was never known to make a touchdown or a wildcat throw a forward pass.

If these boys are willing to carry on under the title of the "Fighting Irish" I am sure they have a good reason for doing so. Have you ever known it to be said that there are only two kinds of people, the Irish and those that want to be Irish? No offense, please!

R. O'MALLEY.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Let's not demoralize that select group of office boy coaches who have been writing the praises of Bohemian Andy Pilney and English Bill Shakespeare, but it was my impression that Notre Dame's victory was made possible by the cool, intelligent thinking of Elmer Layden. He is, I believe, of Irish descent.

JAMES E. LYONS.

OPERA IN ENGLISH.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—I have just read, with the deepest of sympathy, the plaint of Mr. Robert Ware-Mabley, your correspondent, and, I am most deucedly sure, my countryman, as set forth in the columns of your valued gazette of the 2d inst. The fellow asseverates that he had to listen to "hopeless gibberish" at the opera.

Although I realize that we English are better qualified than any one else in the world, through the purity of our own accent, to criticize that of lesser nations, I should point out, as a matter of simple justice to you quaint Americans, you know, that I am most reliably informed you have neither state nor federal laws compelling one's attendance at the opera. I am told, as well, that it is perfectly permissible for one to depart at any time during the performance, if you know what I mean.

I have it on excellent authority that all the singers in the opera Mr. Ware-Mabley attended are naturalized or American born citizens. However, I do share his indignation over the possibility that even so remotely as the Paris opera a rôle might be sung by a 300 pound alien. Away with all aliens, say I!

As I am leaving shortly for England, where these things are done so much better, may I request that all replies to my communication be addressed as below.

Toodleoo, pip-pip, and yours most respectfully.

FLYING THE FLAG.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—I was amazed to hear the speaker at the Indian Council Fire meeting last Sunday, a full blood Indian, by the way, who spoke on Americanism, make the statement that no building in the loop other than the postoffice building [which is compelled to] flies the American flag; that the only building in the downtown section that flies the American flag every day, rain or shine, is that of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Can this be true?

Results that Count!

Marshall Field & Company, Retail, with 67 acres of floor space often handles 40,000 phone calls, delivers 100,000 packages and serves 200,000 customers in a single day.

FOR 83 YEARS, Marshall Field & Company have studied Chicago buyers and their habits. They know what the people in this market read, where they live, what they buy. They get results because they know where results can best be obtained.

Today, 67 acres of floor space are eloquent testimony to Marshall Field & Company's policy of building fundamentally. Often they serve as many as 200,000 customers a day, while as many as 40,000 phone calls and 100,000 delivered packages are all in the day's work.

Theirs is a business which combines long range planning and day-to-day results. Each day, each week, each month sales quotas are set up. Each must show gains. Each must bring a closer relation between customer and store.

Selling by Forceful Advertising

One compelling force in this remarkable store's steady growth is its outstanding and result-producing advertising.

Distinctive, year after year, Marshall Field & Company's advertising has appeared in the Chicago Tribune. Side by side the two institutions—the newspaper and the store—have grown with Chicago, for over 80 years inseparably a part of it.

Results, after all, measure the value of newspaper advertising.

In the same period they increased the Tribune's percentage of their total linage in Chicago newspapers from 23% to 45%—almost double! During the first nine months of this year the proportion was 47%.

Marshall Field & Company know by their own sales records that the Chicago Tribune puts them in far more Chicago and suburban homes and reaches far greater buying power than any other medium.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS Point of Shopping ADVERTISING

The actual daily difference—the Tribune's numerical circulation leadership in the city and suburbs over the next Chicago daily newspaper—is 244,000 families. This is 60% more coverage than the second Chicago newspaper provides—a plus circulation in itself the equivalent of a city of a million people!

The Tribune's circulation of 649,000 in metropolitan Chicago is practically equal to that of the next two Chicago newspapers combined.

This great store points with pride to customers made through each day's ad, customers who buy at once the specific items offered, and customers who are so favorably impressed by today's advertising that they come into the store to buy months and years afterwards.

Such two-fold sales results are typical of the stability of this great institution, and clearly reflect the type of dependable readers obtained by them through the Chicago Tribune.

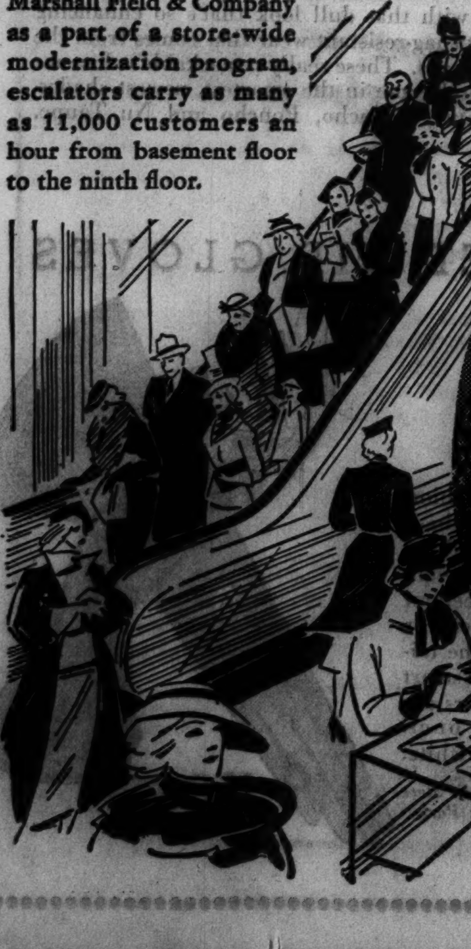
Sales, When You Want Them

National advertisers want, in addition to prestige and consumer acceptance, returns immediately following money spent.

Money spent in the Chicago Tribune returns itself in immediate sales. More and more, advertisers are turning to this one great sales medium—to get high volume response. Chicago department stores as a group place more advertising in the Tribune than in any other newspaper.

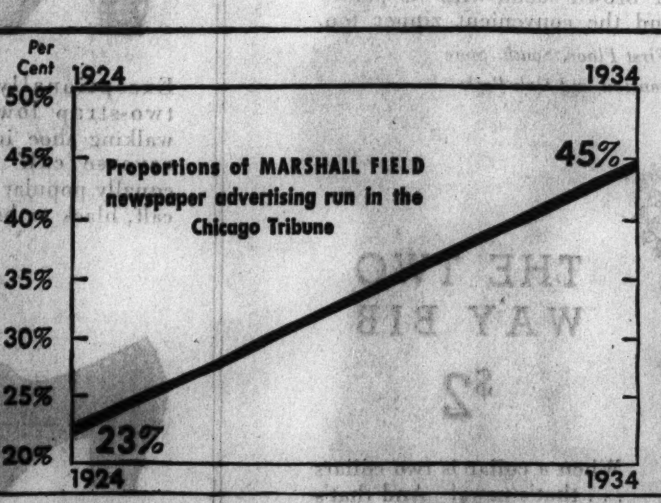
The general milline rate of the Chicago Tribune is exceptionally low—lower than that of any other Chicago newspaper for both total circulation and for city and suburban coverage. If you want more sales in Chicago, place more of your advertising in the Chicago Tribune which reaches more of your best prospects.

Advertising has played an important part in the growth of Marshall Field & Company. In the past ten years the proportion of this great store's linage in the Chicago Tribune has almost doubled. The Tribune's linage lead over the second Chicago newspaper has jumped from 3% in 1924 to 75% in 1934.



NEWLY INSTALLED by Marshall Field & Company as a part of a store-wide modernization program, escalators carry as many as 11,000 customers an hour from basement floor to the ninth floor.

READER INTEREST measures response—the backbone of circulation leadership as well as of advertising leadership. The Tribune last year led the second Chicago newspaper by 1,531,877 lines in retail advertising, and by 835,400 lines in general advertising.



THIS CHART is typical of the Chicago Tribune's enviable position in this great market. From 1924 to 1934 Marshall Field & Company increased their volume of advertising in the Chicago Tribune by 51%. In the same period the Tribune's proportion of linage run by Marshall Field & Company rose from 23% to 45%.

Open Woman's Symphony Year Auspiciously

Ebba Sundstrom Appears as Violin Soloist.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The tenth season of the Woman's Symphony orchestra opened auspiciously yesterday afternoon when a not too ambitious program was excellently played before a friendly audience at the Studebaker.

In compliance with her wise policy of not trying to compete directly with old established organizations with ten times her rehersal time at their disposal, Ebba Sundstrom chose for the purely orchestral parts of the program a Cherubini overture, the effective Mottl transcription of some Rameau melodies, and the G Minor Symphony of Kalinnikow. In addition, she consented to appear as violin soloist in the Mozart E Flat Concerto.

This symphony of the almost unknown Kalinnikow is rich in noble thematic material. It has a quiet sweep and sureness about it, and gives a general impression of sanity and balance.

The music is suffused with sunlight, which is odd when one considers the circumstances of its composer's short and thwarted life. Yesterday's program notes drew a parallel to Mozart in the matter of length of life and the comparison could perhaps have been carried further. Has it not always seemed miraculous that such a shaft to joy as the older master's G Minor Symphony should have been raised in the midst of poverty and overwork and trouble of so many sorts? For those unfamiliar with the place of Kalinnikow in the time scheme of music, the notes carried the information that he was born in 1866 and died in 1901.

Sanity and sweetness of an entirely different type distinguish Ebba Sundstrom's solo vehicle, the E Flat Concerto of Mozart.

Miss Sundstrom is a classicist at heart, I believe, and she exults in the exquisite craftsmanship of eighteenth century German music, the balance of phrase against phrase, the building of ideas toward a climax which stops short of complete fulfillment. Only a classicist would be patient enough to work out the thousand technical difficulties of a Mozart concerto and be able to keep the purity of tone and ease of execution without which the gossamer structure would come to earth.

Miss Sundstrom received a great deal of applause at the end of the concerto. That was a nice gesture of the orchestra in refusing to rise at her invitation and share the adulation.

Gladys Welge, usually a violinist in the orchestra, took the baton for the first half of yesterday's concert.

Earlier in the afternoon I heard a little of the Silvio Insana concert in Curtiss hall. The ensemble did some nice concerted bits from "Cavalleria Rusticana," and Jeanette Albert played a Brahms group. Whether one agreed with her interpretation of the B Minor Raphsody or not, there is no denying that it was a spirited and well executed conception.

Because of the unfortunate timing of the day's programs, I heard Ray Olech at Orchestra hall in only one song, and did not hear his assisting artist, Michael Wilkomirski, at all. In that one song which, by the way, was an encore, the bass-baritone displayed a rather richly textured voice, well produced and controled.

Yesterday was the lull before the storm as far as concert and recital are concerned. Next Sunday every theater in the loop, it seems, houses some sort of program. The names that lead the host are Kreisler, Roland Hayes, and Ted Shawn.

If you clipped the opera schedule from yesterday morning's paper, please change the time on "Rosenkavalier" Saturday to 2 o'clock.

A MERCHANDISING representative recently had to go to a Greek grocery to put in the window a display of the Dionne quintuplets reaching maturity on an advertised brand of milk. He showed the display to the proprietor, who, after looking it over, inquired suspiciously:

REMEMBER the story about the woman guest in a south side hotel who telephoned the management she must get a letter back she had dropped into the mail chute? The management went to great trouble, trying first the substation, then the main postoffice, finally getting the letter back for her, and she thanked them sweetly, saying she had misspelled two words in it.

Yesterday the lady dropped a note to this department, wondering who had betrayed her. She added that when she tore open the letter she found she had not misspelled any words after all. Instead of misspelling "atmosphere" as she had thought, she had used the word "climate." The other word was correctly spelled. So she put the letter into another envelope and readdressed it.

TWO pretty girls who are studying journalism in a suburban high school came to this desk, notebooks in hand, on the serious business of getting an interview, their first. In the course of the conversation their teacher was mentioned and they spoke of her quick wit.

"Is she a young woman?" we inquired, having some curiosity as to what kind of women are teaching journalism in the high schools. But we winced visibly at the answer.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Talking with the manager of one of the most complete beauty salons in the world, which is the pride and joy of a Chicago shop, we suggested that women were a bit wary of the great big beautiful shop. We find that a lot of women who could and would enjoy the complete scientific beauty care offered in one of these beauty palaces feel that in such shops they'll find efficiency, speedy service and what have you—everything except what they really want more than anything else, truly personal service.

In this shop as it is now planned this is an erroneous notion. It is not run like clockwork, with every client considered a sales slip instead of a woman in search of the most intimate personal sort of assistance. You'll be pleasantly surprised at how nicely the human element is figured in in this beauty palace.

If, for example, you have a shampoo before your trim and your wave your individual shampoo needs will be considered. Maybe fifteen minutes will be sufficient; maybe yours is the sort of hair that needs a good brushing by strong fingers to get the natural oil into action. Maybe you need a scalp treatment; in any case you'll get what you need. The clockwork system is abandoned there—and for that we'd like to give loud, rousing cheers. We, for one, always resent being sent through the beauty routine with all the impersonal efficiency of a motor being assembled in a big factory.

Then, when it comes to hair style, the operators there have got their orders to do their best. They're not to consider Mrs. Patron as just another gal in to have her hair done. They're to look you over with an eagle eye and do something individual in the way of design and execution—whether it takes fifteen minutes or half an hour or even longer. Your skin is creamed before you go under the drier—and you're not left under said drier until you begin to feel as though you must have leprosy, what with every operator's disinclination to look your way; much less find out whether your right ear has yet burned to a crisp. These small touches of service, say we, are important and we're glad to see the big shops get wise to the fact.

This shop, though it's enormous and complete, with a section for tailored hair styles, another for individual ones, a body department, a facial department, a huge manicuring section, a department for scalp treatments, and even a makeup bar, isn't to be considered an impersonal one. If it ever was, those days are over.

Knit Woolies Keep Sleepers Smartly Snug

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Even the best grumblers can't find anything wrong with the newest knitted woolies appearing in one shop in town. In fact, the gay, almost flippant ball decorations on some of them would give grandma a good shock. The canary yellow numbers have three darn giddy looking green balls down the center of the chest for shockers, while you can get other color schemes equally eye catching.

The two piece sleepers are of rather thin but very warm knitted material. They ought to be instantaneous successes for college and school dormitories, for they are young, exceedingly gay and probably the most practical things in town. No chills or shivers with these high colored woolies snug around your anatomy, even though all the windows in the room are wide open and the wind is blowing a gale.

The pajamas have trick trousers made like skiing trousers, sort of bloused around the ankle, achieved with snug ribbing to make the things stay in place. The tops have long sleeves and the contrasting colored ball pompons complete the ensemble. You can get dusty pink with blue pompons or cadet blue with scarlet pompons. Women who can't, will wear the matching tassel caps to match the suits.

For the die-hards who spurn the pajama idea, the same knitted material comes in some amazingly good looking nightgowns, also cut with long or short sleeves and a very becoming cowl neckline. As an extra comfort, swagger coats of the knitted stuff also are available so that you can use the outfit for decorative lounging. Nothing has been neglected to make you comfortable snoozers.

Good Morning!

It presents its subject from a refreshing new angle and shows bankers and beer barons [of sorts] as brothers under the skin.

Dad Van Dyke, so-called "head" of the family of "Mad Van Dykes"—his wife, daughter, and son have earned the title—gets a stretch in the penitentiary for income tax evasion. He goes gladly to serve his term, regarding it in the light of a rest cure. . . .

There, his cellmate turns out to be Tony Ricardi, one time beer racketeer, who, during the six years of his incarceration, has discovered that life is real, life is earnest, and means to make good honestly upon his imminent release into a world he's brainy enough to realize has changed.

Close association with and observation of Ricardi convinces Van Dyke, who's suffering with a fatal heart ailment, that here is the man in all the universe who could manage his family, and, on his deathbed, and in the presence of irreproachable witnesses who are prepared to vouch as to his sanity, the old man appoints the one time racketeer sole trustee of his estate. . . .

And so Tony the Tamer enters the lives of frivolous Mrs. Van Dyke, pretty, stubborn Carol Van Dyke, and the good looking Van Dyke son whose main ambition up to date has been to figure out in how many different ways he can manage to attract the attention of the police. . . .

Tony's difficulties with his charges, his encounters with the gang he'd formerly bossed and now works against, furnish sequences that are both exciting and mirthful.

George Raft can no longer be classed as merely a hoofer. Unless I'm wrong, he's becoming a real actor. Walter Connolly's brief appearances are highly effective. Joan Bennett is appealing and zippy as the poor little rich girl who learns about gentlemen from gangsters. Other rôles are brightly interpreted by folks who know the ropes. Direction—oke.

You want to know what it was "she" "couldn't take"?

Suppose we leave the answer up to the movie?

Winners in Hunter Trials

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Kimball Salisbury (left) and Miss Jean Schweppe were among the fortunate contestants in the hunter trials of the Mill Creek Hunt club yesterday at Milburn. Mrs. Salisbury, Miss Schweppe, and Miss Gwendolyn Bowen placed first in the trials for hunter teams in the afternoon, and in the forenoon Miss Schweppe and her hunter, Field Marshal, received an especial award.

Hunter Trials Title Bowl Won by Mrs. Walker

BY BETTY BROWNING.

The rolling gray hills and russet oak woods of Roger C. Hyatt's farm offered a background suitably reminiscent of the English shires for the hunter trials of the Mill Creek Hunt club yesterday at Milburn. Mahlon Ogden West and William B. McIlvaine Jr. generally were commended for their choice of the course, the whole of which was visible from the slope just south of the barn.

This small stretch of countryside was spared by the weather man, and with no rain since the previous night, riders and mounts found the temperature ideal and the footing "a bit wet but not bad," in the words of Col. Harry D. Chamberlin of Fort Sheridan. Col. Chamberlin, four times a member of the United States Olympic riding team, with Mrs. Ortin Prime of Milwaukee was the principal judge.

Mrs. Samuel J. Walker and her hunter, The Raider, carried off the championship bowl in the individual hunter trials in the morning. The trophy previously has been held by Laurance H. Armour and by Mrs. Howard Linn.

It was a lucky day for Miss Jean Schweppe. Her mount, Field Marshal, won her the cigaret case presented by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Kimball Salisbury as a prize for the best working hunter, judged for performance and way of going.

Again, in the trials for hunt teams of three in the afternoon she shared victory with Mrs. Kimball Salisbury and Miss Gwendolyn Bowen. Mrs. Merrill Hubbard and the Prentice Porters placed second, and Mrs. McIlvaine and the John Payne Kelloggs third.

It was almost as good as a circus so far as the younger generation was concerned. Most of the children straddled motor hoods and mounted station wagons better to view the proceedings, but the John F. Jelkes' quartet stood decorously with their parents, just back from a fortnight of cub hunting in Virginia.

When she was not riding Mrs. William H. Mitchell found a perch on a fender, and Mrs. Salisbury, Mrs. Valentine Bartlett, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen Jr., the Thomas A. Connors, Mrs. Walker, and Prince Michael Cantacuzene occupied motor seats placed in a sociable crescent on the ground.

Every one jumped to his feet when Mr. Hyatt took a spill, but he was up on his mount again in a moment, in spite of the brace which he still wears on account of a broken ankle. James Simpson Jr., another casualty of the hunting field, surprised his friends by appearing, a cane the only apparent evidence of his long siege in the hospital. The young Edward H. Lihmes [Eleanor Wheeler], here for a few days after their honeymoon, also were spectators.

Helen Robbins' Wedding to Be Thanksgiving

Plans Home Ceremony in Late Afternoon.

BY JUDITH CASS.

DURING the last few years Thanksgiving has developed popularity as a wedding day for quiet ceremonies at home and this year is to be no exception, for Miss Helen Robbins and William Whipple Miller have chosen the holiday for their marriage. The ceremony will be read at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in the home of Miss Robbins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy A. Robbins, a large, rambling house on the lake shore in Highland Park. Just relatives and close friends will hear the Rev. Christoph Keller of Trinity Episcopal church, Highland Park, read the service, but this does not mean that the group present will be a small one, for Mr. Miller is a descendant of Roswell B. Mason, Chicago's mayor at the time of the great fire, and has about sixty-five cousins in the Mason family alone. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Miller of Winnetka.

Miss Robbins, who is familiarly called "Teddy," and her fiancé have been waiting for her father's return from an Alaskan trip to set the date of the marriage. He returned last Monday and preparations for the wedding have gone ahead rapidly since. Miss Ruth and Miss Jane Robbins will be their sister's only attendants and Mr. Miller's younger brother, Joseph S. Miller, will return from his studies at Yale university to be best man. Mr. Miller may ask some of his close friends to serve as ushers, although they are not necessary in a home wedding.

The bride and bridegroom will go to Bermuda on their wedding trip and will be at home after Jan. 1 at 22 East Division street.

Supper for Ruth Swift and Errett Van Nice.

The Charles F. Cutters [Audrey McGrath] entertained at supper last evening for another bride and bridegroom-to-be, Miss Ruth Swift of Boston and Errett Van Nice, whose wedding will take place Nov. 22. Miss Swift and her mother, Mrs. George H. Swift, have been spending a few days at the Blackstone, and are returning to Boston tomorrow after a round of informal parties. During their visit here Mrs. Swift and her daughter

INSTALMENT I.
EARLY MORNING REVELERS.

If there are ghosts on the island of Manhattan they walk not in its garish midnights but in the long hour before sunrise. That is the time when life's tide is said to ebb, so that strong men weaken and sick men die—the hour of the false dawn when Hamlet's restless father returned to jibber on the battlements of Elsinore.

Manhattan slept, with no dead kings to haunt her turrets and no cheerful cockcrow to send them scurrying. Business had been so bad that night that Mr. Solomon Rosen slept also, his head pillowed on his arms across the wheel of his taxicab, lulled by the diminishing patter of rain on the roof.

He awoke with a start to find an apparition beside him—a remarkably solid apparition that weighed upon his running board. A low harsh voice spoke in his ear—"Follow that hack!"

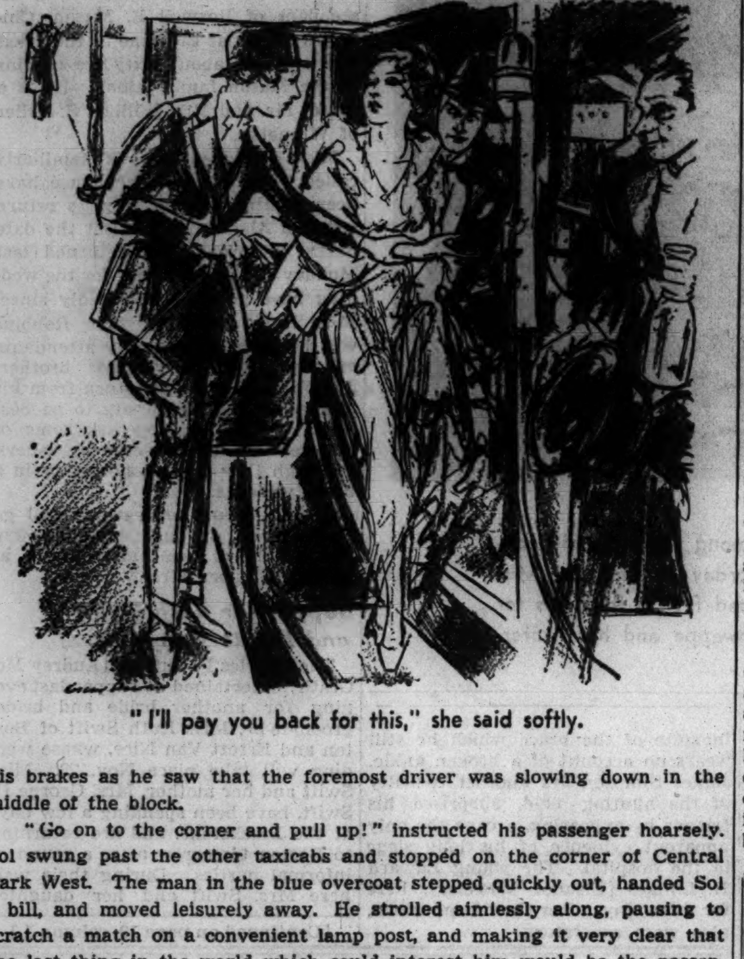
Sol Rosen peered sleepily at a man in a badly fitting blue overcoat, a harried looking young man whose breath was heavy with stale tobacco and whose eyes were weary and bloodshot. The stranger was pointing across Broadway to the cab rank in front of the Hotel Harthorn.

He got inside and Sol kicked the starter. Then he noticed that not one but two taxicabs were pulling away from the canopy at the hotel entrance. "Which one," Sol wanted to know, "the Yellow?"

"Never mind the yellow one," his passenger ordered. "Tail the Checker, the one in front, and don't lose him."

Sol got his cold motor going, roared into an illegal "U" turn, and rolled southward on Broadway about half a block behind the two other taxis. The cars ahead passed 72d. Sol Rosen was just beginning to hope that this was to be a long and lucrative haul when the two cars ahead swerved suddenly eastward toward the park and 65th street.

Sol followed, with a screech of tires on the wet pavement. He put on his brakes as he saw that the foremost driver was slowing down in the middle of the block.



"I'll pay you back for this," she said softly.

"Go on to the corner and pull up!" instructed his passenger hoarsely. Sol swung past the other taxicabs and stopped on the corner of Central Park West. The man in the blue overcoat stepped quickly out, handed Sol a bill, and moved leisurely away. He strolled aimlessly along, pausing to scratch a match on a convenient lamp post, and making it very clear that the last thing in the world which could interest him would be the passengers who were now piling from the checkered taxicab.

As soon as the door was opened a young man in full evening dress had plunged sprawling out, to the detriment of his silk topper. A fat man and a girl followed, she wearing her evening wrap of red velvet hoodwise over her blond curls.

There was loud laughter, but not from the tall young woman who now emerged from the crowded taxicab. She was incongruously dressed in a dark mannish riding coat and jhodpurs. Her auburn curls had been caught under a stiff derby and the silk stock at her throat was fastened by a gold pin the shape of a polo mallet. She was thrityish and pretty. She might have been more than pretty if she had taken time for a few hours' sleep, or even had lingered long enough at her dressing table to remove the makeup which still smeared her mouth and eyelids.

She stood alone on the sidewalk as the others began laboriously to pack themselves back into the taxi. "Good night, Violet darling," cried the blonde in the red wrap. "It was a lovely party!"

"Even if you did throw us out," chorused a feminine voice from within the taxi.

"Violet likes horses better than she likes us," cried a young man in a high tenor voice.

"Goodnight, all," said Violet Feverel. She was sick unto death of her last evening's guests, and her voice was thin and tired. She waved mechanically as the carload of departing merrymakers rolled away, and then turned to face the second taxi which was pulling up alongside the curb.

This vehicle, too, was packed to the running boards. "Change your mind and come with us!" sang out a young man with a very red face, whose whim it had been to ride beside the driver.

"No, thanks," Violet told him. "Run along—the party ends right here as far as I'm concerned."

"It's our loss!" responded the red faced youth gallantly. "Good-by, then—come on, Eddie, say good-by to Violet!" He leaned back and prodded at the protruding knee of a young man who was jammed in the corner of the taxi with a girl on his lap.

Eddie was softly singing a ballad of his own composition, dealing with the further adventures of the notorious Miss Otis after she broke her luncheon engagement on account of being lynched.

"When Miss Otis was dead and safely gone to hell, madam—
They found her a spot where the fires were hot—as hell.
As she writhed in the fearful heat
She gently rubbed her blistered seat and cried,
Madam, Miss Otis regrets she's unable to lunch today!"

He was rudely shouted down by a chorus of demands that he say goodnight to Violet, good old Violet.

"Why should I?" demanded Eddie.

"Because Violet's going by-bye on a big horsey!" cried the red faced youth. "She'd rather ride a horse than make whoopee with us in Harlem."

"Violet," pronounced Eddie solemnly, "is nothing but a menace to navigation. Some day the coast guard will explode her with d—dynamite. She's an old frozen iceberg, that's what Violet is. But, boy, am I glad right now that it doesn't run in the family!"

Somebody nudged him quickly, but not quickly enough. Violet Feverel had heard. She came over and flung open the door of the taxi.

"Eddie—you swine! Did you let Babs sneak in here—as soon as my back was turned?"

The girl on Eddie's lap raised her head from his shoulder. Except that she wore a white lace evening dress and a last season's bunny wrap she was just a later edition of the girl who now faced her accusingly. Babs had the same warm reddish curls, the same light brown eyes. She also had youth, lots of it.

Now she laughed nervously. "Don't be like that, sis!"

Violet Feverel bit her lip, and her voice was thinner than ever. "I told you you weren't going on to Harlem with these—these soaks! I told you to stay home and go to bed. Come out of there!"

As the younger girl hesitated, Violet leaned forward and caught her wrist, half dragging her from the taxicab.

Barbara did not resist, but her face had suddenly gone white as chalk. "I'll pay you back for this!" she said softly.

The young man known as Eddie started protestingly out of the taxi, but Violet Feverel slammed the door in his face and told the driver to go on. There was a scream of gears and the yellow taxicab rolled on after the first one.

"Back in Syracuse you can do as you like," Violet snapped. "But here with me you'll do as I say. And I say you've had enough gay night life for one evening—and enough of fooling around with Eddie Fry. When I left I thought you were going to bed where you belong!"

"Eddie said he'd wait for me with the second taxi, after you'd started," Barbara protested. "It was going to be such fun—and now you had to spoil everything. We were going to a place in Harlem where a big colored woman fries chicken and sings songs. . . ."

Violet knew that chicken and those songs. "You're going straight home, my darling kid sister. You can get a taxi at the corner. . . ."

Barbara stared at the other girl, her lips hard. "I won't!" she flared. "You can't make me. I know—you're sour on everything because you went and made a terrific flop out of romance——"

Deodorant Is Necessity in Winter Time

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"No amount of deodorizing will serve as substitute for a good old fashioned bath!"

When a line like that emanates from a house whose mainstay is a well known brand of deodorant you may be sure that there is no substitute for the bath. The same authority, however, says that not even two baths a day are sufficient to keep the body protected from perspiration odor and dampness at every hour. Here is where the work of these modern blessings, liquid nonperspirants and their ally, the powder deodorant, come in. The use of one or other of the safeguards becomes as essential a part of the daily beauty routine as does the bath.

With the oncoming of colder weather often a woman may think she does not need the same vigilance in this regard. This is a dangerous assumption. It's true that people perspire more in hot weather, but the normal body exudes from a pint to a quart of perspiration every day of the year. So this body dampness is in some respects a more urgent problem in winter than in summer.

The cool clothes that we wear in the summer months allow much of the perspiration to evaporate in the open air. There are no tight sleeves and armholes, no heavy fabrics to absorb the moisture. Another summer advantage is that perspiration has no odor when it comes to an open surface and is immediately evaporated. Odor arises only when it is allowed to grow stale on the body or the clothes. With the cold weather come tweeds and woolens, sweaters and heavy suits.

ROSES BLOOM.

The death of Jasper Ford cleared the atmosphere of Los Pinos. Frightened by the fate of their leader, Black and his associates decided to live up to the paper signed at the salt lakes and relinquished their claim to a prominent Spanish-American who agreed to hold the property in trust for the public. It became apparent that though Los Pinos was going to remain what is known as a wide open town, law had come to the community to stay. The worst of the desperados, who had hailed Ford chief, departed inconspicuously for other pastures. The best of the saloonkeepers and dance hall owners welcomed a cleanup which put out of existence the places of vice that flagrantly violated ordinances for the protection of citizens.

Dan welcomed the new era. He felt it would affect favorably his personal fortunes, since he had been a factor in bringing about the change. It pleased him to have the esteem and respect of the town. He felt a boyish pride in the fact that Milly could not help knowing he was far from an outcast in the minds of her friends. If she felt that blood stained his hands and barred him from the love of a nice girl, she was almost alone in that opinion.

But he made no effort to see her. He was afraid she would think he was basing a claim on the help he had given her the night of the riot.

He was not happy. Once she had admitted her love for him, but he believed now that he had caught her at a moment of emotional stress. It was clear she did not love him or she would not be so unfair.

Tom Sutherland brought him a note one day. It was a prim little letter from Milly thanking him for all he had done for her and the children.

Dan put as much time interpreting its meaning as Milly had in writing it, and that was a good deal. On the face of it she said very little. Was it merely an ungenerous duty note? Or was he to read between the lines an emotion she was too shy and too modest to express? He did not know. He did not want to hurt himself by asking for a rebuff. On the other hand if this was a gesture of friendship, he did not want to ignore it.

Dan compromised. He hung around waiting for a chance to meet Milly apparently not by design. Several hours were wasted staring at the shadows on the blinds of a lighted room from across the road. But on the third evening the door opened and a light graceful figure came into the garden, perhaps to draw in the fresh clean air of the night.

Now or never, thought Dan. He crossed the street, opened the gate, and walked into the garden. Milly was bending over a rose bush, but at sight of him straightened swiftly.

He told her it was a pleasant evening and she agreed, after which there was a stiff and brittle silence.

"I got your note, Miss Sutherland," he said at last.

"I wanted you to know—that we are grateful," she answered in a small voice.

"That's all right. You don't owe me a thing." He spoke brusquely.

"I'll owe you a great deal as long as I live," Milly said quietly.

His pulses began to hammer. He told himself not to be a fool. This did not mean anything. A girl had to be polite.

"I've been . . . awf'ly silly," she went on, finding words with difficulty. "You were right, and I was wrong. I—hadn't any right to try to—make you do what would have been wrong for you."

His heart skipped a beat. "I—had to kill a man," he reminded her. "Just as you said I would."

"You did it in self-defense." She spoke in a murmur, not looking at him.

He had a lucid interval and took her in his arms. The lips that had lately touched a rose met his.

Plans Home Ceremony in Late Afternoon.

found an apartment on the near north side into which Mr. Van Nice and his bride will move when they return from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Lawrence W. Scudder is congratulating herself on having obtained Mrs. Ruthven Wodell of Short Hills, N. J., as her speaker for the fall meeting of the Garden Club of Illinois this afternoon at the Palmer house. Mrs. Wodell will give an illustrated talk on "Garden Design," but members of the club particularly are looking forward to getting pointers from Mrs. Wodell for their annual flower show, since she is best known for her lectures on the art of staging such exhibits. Miss May Elizabeth McAdams also will speak on programs for garden clubs.

Afterward Mrs. Scudder will have as her guests at tea Mrs. Wodell, her sister, Mrs. Donald C. Cottrell, with whom she spent the week-end in Lake Forest, and Mrs. C. McPherson Holt and Mrs. Albert Day Farwell of the Lake Forest Garden club.

Lighthouse Aids' New Members to be Models.

The Chicago Lighthouse Volunteer Aids are wasting no time in initiating their provisional members into the work of the organization. Some 25 who were guests at a tea given for them Tuesday afternoon at the Lighthouse promptly were enlisted as models in a fashion revue which will be one of the chief drawing cards of the benefit which the aids are giving Wednesday at the Stevens hotel.

Besides the fashion show there will be a luncheon in the newly decorated Continental room, and afterward, in the new bridge lounge, L. J. Haddad, president of the American Bridge league, and William S. McKenney, his secretary, will speak. Card playing, interspersed with instruction, will follow.

This is the first project of Mrs. Roger Quincy White, the Aids' new president, and assisting her are Mrs. Charles S. Reed, Mrs. Paul Loeber Jr., and Mrs. William Stephens Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn will give a dinner party tonight at the Casino for Stephen Leacock, who is to speak at 8 o'clock in Thorne hall on the McKinlock campus of Northwestern university on "How Soon Can We Start the Next War?" Dr. Leacock, professor of political economy at McGill university in Montreal, is a noted humorist and the author of more than forty books. Among the dinner guests will be President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university and Mrs. Scott; Mark W. Cresap, the Albert H. Wettens, the James Cathcarts, Dr. Theodore Koch, librarian at Northwestern university, and Mrs. Koch; Mr. and Mrs. Wade Fetzer, the Walter P. McBrides, and the James S. Kempers.

Margaret Etter Creche Board Plans Ball Today.

Members of the board of the Margaret Etter Creche will meet at 11 o'clock this morning in the home of Mrs. John R. Thompson Jr., in Astor street, to complete arrangements for the Creche's golden jubilee ball Nov. 30 at the Bal Tabarin room of the Hotel Sherman. Several of the season's prettiest debutantes will sell cigarets and flowers at the ball, among them the Misses Evelyn Shuman, Katherine Bulger, Helen Bersbach, Nancy Bastien, Mary Armstrong, Mary Wood, Madelon Search, Mary Lou Laird, Mary Alice Bacon, Ellen Allen and Patricia Forsyth Kelly, and Miss Eleanor Kirkland, who came out last year.

The Arts club has issued invitations to the opening of its exhibition season Friday. Tea will be served from 4 until 6 o'clock. The opening exhibit will be of African Negro art.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay III. are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter last Thursday in Passavant hospital. The baby is the Lindsays' second child.

Three other sets of young parents are receiving congratulations on the births of children last week: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Camp, to whom a little girl was born Friday at Presbyterian hospital; Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Frederick Wendt, who have a new little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schulz, who have an infant daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp [Katharine Sheldon], who live in Glencoe, have two other children, a daughter, Hester, and a son, Edwin. Little Edmond Allan Wendt, who was born Friday, is the second child of the former Dorothy Stevenson and Mr. Wendt. They have a son, Stephen Alexander, about a year old. Mrs. Wendt and the baby are at the Michael Reese hospital. Tiny Barbara Schulz was born early in the morning Saturday at the Passavant hospital, and she is the first child of the former Jane Lawrence and Mr. Schulz. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Lawrence are her maternal grandparents.

Tailored Dress Ideally Simple

WOMAN'S DRESS.

This simple tailored dress is easy to make, to adjust, and to wear. The long lines are slenderizing, and the large, square buttons provide all the trimming needed. The shoulder tucks throw a slight fullness over the bust. The long sleeve figure is swanky made of a rabbit's hair woolen in a rich bottle green shade. This is an undeniably smart design, and well worth the trouble of making. Wool effects in silk and velvet are other suggestions.

The pattern, No. 3492, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

"Cooking After Office Hours," a booklet of tips and recipes for business girls who cook, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Putting your meals, to all outward appearances, on the gold standard is no more difficult than adding a few carrots. [Pretty frightful pun, yes?] These new favorites of ours pretty well illustrate what you can do with carrots in the way of kitchen alchemy. Carrot fluff, despite its unsubstantial title, is an excellent main luncheon dish, and so is the golden Carrot Loaf.

CARROT FLUFF.

In a buttered casserole put two cups of sliced, cooked carrots and cover with an equal amount of sliced, cooked potato. Top with a cup of medium white sauce, to which an additional two tablespoons of butter and a half cup of grated cheese have been added. Sprinkle with buttered crums and bake in a hot oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Golden Carrot Loaf.

1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup bread crums
2 cups grated raw carrots
2 eggs
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Brown the onion in the butter and add to the crums. Mix well with other ingredients, put into a buttered loaf pan, and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve hot with hot buttered asparagus and a sauce containing chopped, hard cooked eggs.

FRIED CARROTS

Cut carrots in long, thin strips. Boil in a small amount of water until tender. Dip each strip in fine cracker crums, then in slightly beaten egg, and again in seasoned crums. Sauté in a small amount of fat in a hot skillet until well browned and serve at once.

BAKED CARROT RING.

Boil six medium carrots until tender and put through a potato ricer. Add one cup of medium white sauce, season well, and combine with the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and put the mixture into an oiled ring mold. Set in a pan of hot water and bake for one hour. Serve with a filling of creamed lamb and peas.

According to CULBERTSON

OPENING SUIT BIDS.

After a beginner has thoroughly familiarized himself with "biddable suit" requirements, he is ready to take up the next vitally important step in bidding technique.

The possession of a biddable suit does not, in itself, justify an opening bid. In addition, the hand must contain a certain minimum number of honor tricks, which may be in the bid suit or in side suits. An opening suit one bid requires:

Three honor tricks with any minimum biddable suit.

Two and one-half honor tricks with any rebiddable suit.

These requirements apply to all four positions—first, second, third, or fourth hand; vulnerable or not vulnerable.

When a hand contains more than one biddable suit, the higher ranking (as spades are higher ranking than hearts) should be bid first. Where two biddable suits are of different lengths, the longer should be bid first. For example, holding: ♠ A J 6 2, ♥ A K 10 3, ♦ 7 3 2, ♣ 8 5, the proper opening bid is one spade, not one heart. Holding: ♠ A Q 10 8 6, ♥ 2, ♦ K 9 7 4 3 2, ♣ 8, the proper opening bid is one diamond, because of its greater length.

There are a few exceptions to this rule which may be somewhat confusing unless the reasons for their existence are clearly grasped.

With a hand such as: ♠ A Q 10 8, ♥ 6 2, ♦ 8 5 3, ♣ A Q 10 6, an opening bid of one club will make the future course of bidding easier for both partners. A club bid makes it possible for partner to bid one diamond or one heart, and then the spade suit also can be shown at the one level.

With such a disparity of high card strength as in the following holding: ♠ A K Q 10 6, ♥ K 6, ♦ 8 7 5 4 3 2, ♣ none, a spade bid, rather than a diamond, should be made.

A Bad Start.

Today's hand is a bidding exposition, rather than a problem of play. South, by his failure to start the bidding properly, found himself in a bad three spade contract, whereas the correct opening bid would have kept him at the one level.

Both sides vulnerable.
South, dealer.

SOUTH

SOUTH	WEST	NORTH	EAST
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
Pass	Double [final bid]

Opening lead, ♥ jack by West.

South had his first bid to thank for the mess in which he found himself. A moment's thought would have shown him how to keep the bidding within bounds, namely, to start with a club bid and, over any response from his partner except one no trump, to show the spade suit at the one level. Thus, the bidding should have been:

SOUTH	NORTH
1 ♣	1 ♥
1 ♠	Pass

In the play of the hand, there was no way to avoid the loss of seven tricks—three diamonds, two spades, one heart, and one club. A penalty of 1,100 points instead of 100 (since one spade would not have been doubled).

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My partner had bid diamonds, and I was on lead against four spades. Holding ♦ Q 6 3 2, which should I lead?

Answer: The fourth best—the deuce. It often is vital that your partner know how many cards of his suit are held by you and the declarer.

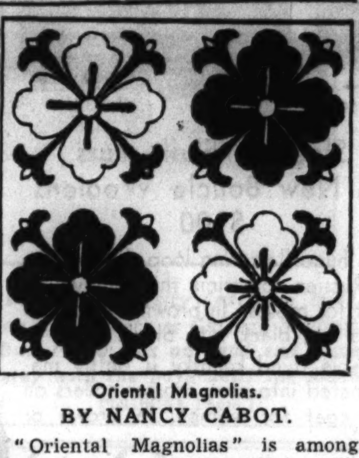
Color and Design Are Striking in Applique Quilt



Oriental Magnolias.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Oriental Magnolias" is among the unusual and beautiful quilt blocks. As may be seen in the illustration, this floral applique pattern boasts a most striking arrangement of design and color. Rose and magenta are planned as alternates on a white ground. The stamen of each flower is outlined with stitching in the contrasting color.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

If You Tend to Be Pessimistic, You Won't Be Easily Fooled

BY HUGO WESTERBERG.

KATHARINE HEPBURN.

A previous article on optimistic and pessimistic tendencies perhaps stressed the disadvantages of these last too strongly. The old observation that no human trait is wholly good or wholly bad may be made also in this case. True, the person whose nose is fleshy in the lower part sees the bad points mainly, but this has its advantages. He will not be easily fooled because he has an instinctive understanding of human nature, its motives and intentions. He knows, in dealing with people, how much their interests and his coincide, and therefore to what extent he can expect their good will.

The owner of a heavy, fleshy nose is a good mixer. One of this type depended entirely on this quality to make a considerable success in life according to the standards of his social circle. Not a good business man, he made a great deal of money in partnership with a friend of superior ability. When they split he went into politics and then cashed in on his talent for making friends.

Meeting him the first time you soon felt that you had known him always. Your impression was that here was a man who would do anything for you and you naturally responded by being ready to do something for him.

There was something intimately human about the man that made people feel at home with him immediately. His sympathy for his fellow men in less fortunate circumstances was genuine because he seemed to know better than they themselves how badly off they were. He was charitable as well as he knew how and as a social influence he was a success, but I do not think he was ever really happy.

Katharine Hepburn would make love one of the great forces of nature, moments of passion between long stretches of coldly intellectual pursuits. Her forehead is straight and wide, which indicates a capacity to use her knowledge of facts in logical thinking. Her nose tip is pointed, with a sharp upward slant, denoting a tendency to seek and to examine with zest new experiences. Her upper lip is firm but flexible and signifies broadminded self-assurance. Her chin has a decisively alluring softness that would quickly disappear if her will were challenged.

"The Doctor was RIGHT!"
Women should take only liquid laxatives
THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION
I Measure-out a cleansing dose of liquid laxative, regulating the amount to suit the age, condition and individual need.
II Tomorrow, take less; let the regular muscular action of bowels do part of the work—
III Use less each time until bowels require no aid at all.
SOME say there's no relief from constipation on account of the things we eat and the way we live, today. It isn't true!
Many believe any laxative they might take only makes matters worse. And that isn't true.
Do what doctors do to relieve such a condition. They use liquid laxatives, and keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.
Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.
The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. It's the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried. You'll never go back to fixed doses of strong cathartics that act with such violence!
Ask your doctor. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. Or get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if it doesn't give you absolute relief, if it isn't a joy and comfort in the way it overcomes any sluggishness or biliousness due to constipation, return it and get your money.
Try Syrup Pepsin! Just take regulated doses until Nature has restored regularity.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The six day bike race started whirling at Chicago Stadium last night at 9 o'clock and at 9:20 o'clock Al Letourner, figured a certain victor, was whirled right out of the panorama. But the race went spinning on without the little champ, who has won 19 six day races, including nine straight and one that ended in Cleveland last Friday night.

Letourner went out after taking the first spill of the race. But little Al never would have taken a solo spill under normal circumstances. Early yesterday he broke the little toe on his left foot in an elevator accident at the Morrison hotel, but had insisted upon starting. After the race got under way Letourner tried to take his usual part in the initial sprints, but found he could not control his bike. He bounced to the track, got a big cut over his left eye, and decided to withdraw.

Georgetti, Dempsey Team.

This left Franco Georgetti without a partner. There was a great flurry about this, for Georgetti is rated as a star rivaling Letourner in popularity. The situation straightened itself after 40 minutes of lone riding by Georgetti. Bill Honeman and Bob Lipsett tangled in a spill and Lipsett failed to come up sound. He withdrew and his partner, George Dempsey, promptly donned Letourner's No. 13 Red Devil jersey, the exclusive property of the champ when he's working.

The crowd of 14,000 which turned out for the opening night of the race expressed great disappointment at Letourner's misfortune, but the railbirds had the feeling that the race again is a wagering proposition, something it wouldn't have been with the Froggie riding.

Lead Keeps Shifting.

From the time the race was started by Noble Kizer, athletic director and football coach at Purdue, until it turned into Monday morning the lead shifted with almost every ten minutes of riding. There were several bad spills other than those which put Letourner and Lipsett out of the going, and shortly before midnight the race was suspended when the newly formed Georgetti-Dempsey team went down in an attempted pickup. During this lull it was announced that Gerard Debaets of Belgium and Bobby Thomas of Kenosha, Wis., were leading the race.

They did not stay out in front by themselves long, however, and the bugs had to make frequent reference to the standing tables to find out whether their individual heroes were first or last in the first night tabulations.

KIEFER CLAIMS WORLD RECORD IN 100 METER SWIM

BRESLAU, Germany, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Adolph Kiefer of Chicago claimed a new world record for the 100 meters backstroke swim today when he negotiated the distance in 1:04.9.

The listed record for this distance is 1:08.2, credited to George Kojac. Kiefer, Art Highland and Brydenthal bettered their own mark in the 300 meters medley relay, being timed in 3:22.7.

Boy Football Player, 13, Is Kicked in Head; Dies

Warren, Pa., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Thirteen year old Gordon Spink died last night a few hours after being kicked in the head during a neighborhood football game. It was the third fatal accident on western Pennsylvania gridirons this season. The youngster walked home after the game, complaining of a headache. He went into a coma and died in a hospital.

Hall Whips Hoppe; 50-43; Thurnblad Defeats Layton

BY FRENCH LANE.

Two of the big threats in the battle for the world's three cushion billiard championship were beaten in the title play at the Hotel Sherman's Bal Tabarin room yesterday.

Johnny Layton, champion of the world at the difficult angle game, came home on the short end of a 50 to 48 score in a long drawn out 66 inning game. It was Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago who turned back the champion.

Willie Hoppe, the boy wizard of the cue two score years ago when he was the master of the ivories at the balkline game, suffered his first setback in three starts when Allen Hall of St. Louis beat him in the battle at midnight by a score of 50 to 43 in 41 innings.

Cochran Is Undefeated.

These upsets—the two most startling that have occurred since the play for the crown started—left Welker Cochran of San Francisco as the only undefeated player in the field of ten. His next encounter is with Hall in the first game to be played tonight.

In interest the Hoppe-Hall battle was the high spot of the tournament. It started out as though it might develop into a knockdown and drag out affair.

Hall won the lag and scored five before they could get him away from the table. Up stepped Hoppe and he made a run of ten before he found a shot too difficult for him to make.

Hoppe Runs Four.

Hall got two more in the second and Hoppe missed but after Hall had drawn a blank in the third, Hoppe turned in another run of four.

It was a rousing battle. Hall started on his victorious march in the sixth inning with a difficult around the table shot. He got two more in the seventh and three in the eighth and three more in the ninth.

In the tenth he ran five before he missed and he came back in the eleventh with five more. It gave him a lead of 29 to 18. Hall had been blazing away at the ball during this sensational spurt with the carelessness of an amateur. The maneuver completely baffled Hoppe.

Hall Protects Lead.

Then suddenly Hall turned into a blasé, careful three cushion expert. The game went on and on but Hall always was in front. He was playing a safety game in the final innings and waited until the 41st to score the winning point.

Hall played the most perfect billiards of the tournament to date. His brilliant play against Hoppe caused many of the regulars at the tournament to pick him to knock off Cochran in their game which is to be played at 8 o'clock tonight.

Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago also leaped back into the thick of the fight for the title when he beat Tiff Denton of Kansas City 50 to 41 in 50 innings. The victory put Kieckhefer in second place in the race for the title.

Standings

TODAY'S MATCHES.
1:30—Hoppe vs. Denton.
3 p. m.—Bozeman vs. Reiselt.
8 p. m.—Cochran vs. Hall.
9:30 p. m.—Thurnblad vs. Matsuyama.

The Thurnblad victory and the down fall of the champion was not spectacular in any sense of the word. It strictly was a defensive game, with two great masters of the ivories maneuvering on the defense most of the time. There were more safety shots in this game than any other game played during the tournament.

Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia was the other winner during the afternoon session. He handed Kinrey Matsuyama of Japan a 50 to 36 lacing in a speedy 32 inning game.

The high run of the tournament was rolled up by Reiselt while he was performing the chore of handing Matsuyama his fourth straight defeat. He ran eleven.

Kieckhefer Beats Denton.

Augie Kieckhefer jumped back into a contending position for championship honors when he defeated Tiff Denton of Kansas City in the first game last night, 50 to 41 in 50 innings. It was the third victory he has scored. He was beaten in his other start by Otto Rieselt.

After taking an 8 to 4 lead in the tenth inning Kieckhefer always was the front runner. Denton was playing good but hard luck billiards. He missed twenty points or more by an eyelash, points which he believed he was certain of scoring. It was the third straight defeat for Denton.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—The Chicago Bears, aroused by a Boston touchdown in the first few minutes of play, drove over the goal line four times in the first half and scored on a 33 yard place kick in the fourth quarter to defeat the Redskins, 30 to 14, in a National Professional league football game here today.

The 16,000 spectators were treated to some excitement soon after the opening kickoff. The Bears, who had received, lost the ball on a fumble on their own 38 yard line.

Led by Doug Nott, recently acquired from Detroit, the Redskins opened up with a powerful running game. With Nott slanting off the tackles and Jim Musick hammering center, they marched to a touchdown, Musick eventually plunging over from the 1 yard line. The same player kicked goal and Boston led, 7 to 0.

Pass for Touchdown.

The Bears responded to this with a touchdown late in the first period. With the ball on the 30 yard line, Bill Karr scampered down to the end zone and took a pass from Bernie Masterson. A successful try for the extra point tied the score.

The Bears then went ahead to show who was boss, making three more touchdowns in the second period. The first of these was scored on a short pass from Gene Ronzani to Karr after the Bears had advanced to the 1 yard line.

Masterson and Feathers Score.

A few minutes later the Bears were back again at the Boston 8 yard line. Then Masterson went off tackle for a touchdown. The rout continued as the Chicago team drove to the goal immediately thereafter, Beattie Feathers smashing over from the 1 yard line.

The Bears eased up after that and there was no further score until the fourth period, when George Corbett kicked a field goal from placement from the 33 yard line.

Packers Pound Lions, 31 to 7; Hold 1st Place

BY CHARLES NEVADA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 10.—Wisconsin's title contender in the National Professional Football league, the Green Bay Packers, today ended its home schedule with a 31 to 7 triumph over the Detroit Lions. The victory, witnessed by 12,200, permitted the Packers to retain first place in the western section race.

The Packers, scoring in every quarter, cut loose with a passing attack that demoralized the Lions, particularly in the final period when Green Bay scored twice within two minutes. Arnie Herber and Johnny Blood were the heroes in this aerial act, with Herber doing the passing and Blood receiving for two touchdowns.

Hinkle Kicks Field Goal.

George Sauer and Don Hutson were responsible for the other touchdowns in which passes also figured. Clark Hinkle varied the attack by kicking a field goal soon after the contest started.

Detroit, despite its individual stars, was helpless in its attempts to check Green Bay's passes, and the Packers completed 12 of 22 for a total of 224 yards. Green Bay rolled up 13 first downs to 8 for Detroit.

Thirteen plays after the opening kickoff, Green Bay was in possession of its first points, the result of Hinkle's field goal from the Lion's 30 yard line.

The Packers made it 10 to 0 early in the second quarter when they uncorked a 58 yard march that closed with Sauer racing around right end for a touchdown. Four of eight first downs credited to Green Bay during the first half were reeled off during this drive, which included Herber's pass to Swede Johnston for 16 yards. Ernie Smith added the extra point.

Packers Hold at Goal Line.

After being stopped short of a score when Green Bay held for downs on its two yard line, Detroit counted six minutes before the second quarter ended. A weak punt by Hinkle gave the Lions possession of the ball on the Packers' 28 yard line. On the first play, Pug Vaughan dropped back and whipped a 40 yard pass to Ed Klewicki who was waiting in the end zone. Frank Christensen made good on the extra point.

Another sustained drive netted Green Bay its third touchdown of the afternoon, with Blood scoring after catching a 30 yard pass from Herber in the opening minutes of the second half. Smith came through with a successful placement kick for the extra point. The Packers drove 68 yards during this advance.

Herber Pitching for Green Bay.

After checking the Lions 30 yards from the Green Bay goal at the outset of the final period, Herber and Blood again got busy. This time Herber pitched 37 yards to Johnny, who loped 33 yards more to the goal line. Herber produced the extra point with a dropkick.

A minute later, Green Bay had its fourth touchdown. Mike Michalske made it possible by recovering Dutch Clark's fumble on the Detroit 44 yard line. On the next play, Herber sighted Don Hutson free in the end zone and shot a pass that Hutson speared easily. Blood passed to Hutson, one of the league's leading scorers, for the extra point, and the score was 31 to 7.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Chicago Cardinals began their promised march back to the top of the Western division in the National league yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 12 to 3, before 5,000 at Wrigley field. A blocked kick and a 47 yard march in the fourth quarter produced the two touchdowns by which the crippled Chicagoans won their fourth game in seven league starts.

Although they moved up a notch in the standings, the Cardinals failed to gain on the first place Packers, who defeated Detroit, 31 to 7. They also failed to gain on the Bears, who took undisputed possession of second place, half a game ahead of the Cardinals and half a game behind the Packers.

Cripples Pull Rescue Act.

Injuries forced the Cardinals to start the game with six substitutes, four in the line and two in the back field. Before the game was won, however, several of the cripples, notably Mike Mikulak, Harry Field, Lou Gordon, and Al Nichelini had to rush to the rescue.

Philadelphia led, 3 to 0, at the end of the third quarter, after staving off two Cardinal threats and making one of its own in the first half. The Cardinals put together four first downs to go from their own 20 yard line down to the Eagles' eight. This drive came to grief when Gil Berry slipped and lost nine yards and Sarboe ran across the field twice without gain, dodging Eagles who prevented him from passing on the last play of the half. The Eagles then wound up with an unsuccessful place kick by Hank Reese from the 36 yard line.

Jorgensen Boots One.

After an exchange of punts early in the third period, the Eagles connected with a 23 yard flat pass, Swede Hanson to Izzy Weinstock, and hammered the line to march 36 yards to the 18 yard line where Weinstock, a member of last year's College All Star team, was stopped on two line plays. Carl Jorgensen, former St. Mary's tackle, was called in to place kick and with Ed Matesic holding, he split the posts from the 27 yard line.

The Cardinals immediately opened up with another sustained drive, this time making three first downs to go 40 yards to Philadelphia's 30 yard line. A pass, Phil Sarboe to Nichelini, slipped off Nichelini's fingers into the arms of Matesic, who returned 13 yards to his own 49 yard line. Hereafter, until midway in the fourth quarter, the Cardinals seemed destined to defeat. The sparkle had gone out of their line play and backs floundered about, helpless before the charging Eagles.

Cards Block Kick, Score.

The tide of the battle veered suddenly when Joe Carter, an end from Southern Methodist, went back to punt on his own 22 yard line. Tony Blazine, who starred at tackle for the All-American team against the Bears last August, broke through and blocked the kick. It went straight in the air and behind Carter. Matesic rushed back and tried to catch the ball, but it slipped from his hands on the eight yard line and Bob Neuman, Cardinal end, was there to pick it up and rush across the goal for a touchdown. Bill Volok's place kick for the extra point was blocked.

In the lead for the first time now, the Cardinals were galvanized into action. Mikulak intercepted Matesic's pass on the Eagles' 46 yard line. The spurt was short lived, however, and Sarboe had to kick. He got off a beautifully placed punt of 38 yards which went out of bounds on the Eagles' 2 yard line.

Cardinal Passes Click.

Sarboe then carried back Hanson's return punt six yards to Philadelphia's 47 yard line. Ike Peterson

SONNENBERG TO MEET WOLF ON MAT TONIGHT

Varner Fights Mullins at Marigold Gardens.

Wrestling and boxing shows will share the spotlight in Chicago tonight. Gus Sonnenberg, holder of the heavyweight title five years ago, and Chief Little Wolf, latest championship threat, will meet in the main event of the mat show at the Coliseum, 15th street and Wabash avenue. Claude Varner, Los Angeles, Cal., and Winfrid [Moon] Mullins, Vincennes, Ind., leading featherweight challengers, will meet in the windup bout of the boxing card at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. They will meet for ten rounds at 129 pounds.

Frank [Man Mountain] Dean, bewhiskered Californian, will make his second Chicago appearance in the semi-final against Bill Beth, a newcomer from Texas.

Two old playmates, Ray Steele and Jim McMillen, will be opponents in a preliminary affair. Others will involve Hans Steinke and Olaf Oleson, and Pat Murphy and Andy Raschier.

Al Nettlow, 1935 international Golden Gloves featherweight champion, will return to action in the five round semi-final against Davey White, north side lightweight. Nettlow hung up a record of eight straight professional triumphs before being stopped by Aubrey Martin, a right handed swinger from Beckley, W. Va. Four round supplementary contests will bring together Jimmy La Grone, Des Moines, Ia., and Sailor Born, Chicago; Frank Vogel, Rockford, and George Bittner, Chicago; Bobby O'Dowd, Des Moines, and Bobby Ritchie, New York, and Joe Kelly and Chuck De Franco.

Another wrestling card tonight will be presented at White City Casino, 63d street and South Park avenue. Jack [Bad Boy] Brown, Shreveport, La., will make his first start here in several months in the main event against Ivan Rasputin of Detroit. Charles Grubmyer is paired with Charley Peterson, Bobby Roberts will clash with Jim Landis, Bill Kief is matched to meet George Schwab, and Faro Renaldi will oppose Tarzan Krause.

A second boxing show tonight, involving amateurs, will be held at the Johnny Coulon gymnasium, 1154 East 63d street. Benny Miller and George Clair will be opponents in the five round feature attraction at 135 pounds. Other matches include:

CHICAGO RACE HORSE OWNERS LEAVE FOR SALES

A party of Chicago race horse owners, headed by William Schmidt, proprietor of the Superior stable, left last night for Lexington, Ky., to attend the annual fall auctions of yearling thoroughbreds to be held this week.

Others in the party were John Marsch, former Ald. William O'Toole, owner of the Blue Ridge Farm stable; Charley Cleary and L. M. Severson. The Chicagoans hope to add considerable strength to their 1936 racing establishments by the purchases they make.

It's Iodine in the Blood That Makes Muscles of Steel!

Kelpamalt Feeds Glands Starving for Iodine — Builds Rich Red Blood — Pounds of "Stay-There" Flesh — Gives Steady Nerves and New Strength and Energy.

Many ailing, rundown men and women are wasting much of the nourishing food they eat. Glands starving for iodine are actually the cause of most of their trouble. When these glands don't work properly, all the food in the world can't help you—it just isn't turned into solid flesh, strength and energy.

The most important gland — the one which actually controls the assimilation of foods—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—natural assimilable iodine—not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic but the same iodine that is found in tiny quantities in spinach and lettuce. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine, can you regulate metabolism — the body's process of converting digested food into firm flesh, new strength and energy. The best source of Natural Iodine is Kelpamalt which you can get at any Walgreen Drug Store. This amazing mineral concentrate is 1300 times richer in iodine than Oysters, heretofore considered the best source.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take 3 jumbo Kelpamalt Tablets three times a day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again, and see for yourself how much you have gained. The present World's Heavyweight Champion, James J. Braddock, won his notable victory simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance which comes from having plenty of iodine in the blood. By taking Kelpamalt for six weeks, he put on 26 pounds and built up shattering new strength.

100 jumbo sized Kelpamalt Tablets—four to five times the size of ordinary tablets—cost but a few cents a day to use. The Distributors guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Get Kelpamalt today.

WeatherHolds Upland Game Hunters Home

BY BOB BECKER.

Rainy weather dampened the enthusiasm of Chicagoland hunters and cut down the number of men who took their guns and dogs into the fields of northern Illinois yesterday to open the 1935 upland game season. With a warm drizzle falling most of the morning to add to heavy rains which poured down Saturday afternoon and night, scores of hunters preferred to stay close to their fireplaces rather than crash through flooded lowlands and wet weed thickets.

Storekeepers reported a heavy sale of shotgun shells Friday and Saturday in several towns west of Chicago, and a merchant in one town stated that he had sold more hunting licenses than in any previous year. The fact that opening day fell on a Sunday increased greatly the number of hunters, but this increase was somewhat offset by the weather.

The hunters who had good bird dogs with them had the most success yesterday. The pheasants were well under cover because of the hard weekend rains, and hunters without dogs were almost forced to step on the birds before they would come out of hiding. On the other hand, the wet ground provided good scenting conditions for the dogs.

Hundreds of hunters devoted their time to hunting rabbits. With a fairly good supply of cottontails in the thickets, hunters who had access to acreage with adequate corn enjoyed excellent sport.

A checkup with enforcement agencies showed few arrests. A. E. Nelson, deputy sherif of Du Page county, which is one of the most heavily hunted areas in northern Illinois, said that his office had received only a few calls from landowners who reported trespassing violations, and no arrests had been made before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A justice of the peace in Glen Ellyn said that two men had been brought into his court for shooting on the highway.

Olympias Beat Hungarians in Soccer, 6 to 0

BY OFFSIDE.

The Olympias defeated the Hungarians, 6 to 0 in an exhibition soccer match yesterday. Keberle scored five goals and Kotovsky the other. Several of the principal games on the schedule were called off because of bad weather, among them being the one between Spartas and Maccabees.

Yesterday's scores:

CHICAGO LEAGUE.

[Second and Third Divisions].

Slovaks, 3; Hungarian Culters, 2.
Slavia, 0; Romans, 0.
Oak Park Acorns, 4; Northland, 2.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

First Germans, 1; Viennas, 1.
Chicago Sport, 2; Hansa, 2.
Forest Park, 1; Wanderers, 1.
Wilsons, 6; Fiechti, 1.

[Second and Third Divisions].

Hansa, 7; Chicago Sport, 1.
Swedes, 4; Schwabens, 0.
Wisla, 8; Forest Park, 0.
Wanderers, 6; Italian S. C., 2.
Schwabens, 5; Polish N. A., 1.

The Maccabees will go to St. Louis next Sunday to meet the Independents, formerly the Centrals. Buses have been chartered and fans wishing to make the trip are asked to call Lawndale 2875 during the day or Lawndale 5502 at night before Wednesday.

Two National Cup soccer games will be played in Chicago next Sunday, the Olympias meeting the Wilsons and the Hungarians playing the Vikings.

Owens Is Center of New Wrangle Over Olympics

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Larry Snyder, Ohio State university track coach, denied today that he had cautioned Jesse Owens, colored sprint and broad jump star, not to voice opposition to the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin, Germany.

David H. Pierce of Cleveland, public relations committee chairman for the American Federation of Teachers, asserted yesterday in a letter to the Amateur Athletic union that Snyder had taken such action.

"Someone is just trying to put the A. A. U. on the spot," Snyder said. "A delegation of students and others from Cleveland visited me at my office a few days ago and asked me to have Jesse go on record as opposing the games in Berlin. I refused to do it.

"I see no reason to get into a controversy over the Olympics. The games have been awarded to Germany, all preparations have been made, and now some people want to have America withdraw just because some of the German policies are not approved by them.

"Jesse and some of our other colored boys haven't been invited to the Sugar Bowl meet at New Orleans. But no one has asked us to go on record as opposing those games. Why should we oppose Germany for doing something that we do right here at home?"

RED WINGS AND RANGERS BATTLE TO 1-1 DEADLOCK

11,000 See Hocky Opener at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Detroit's Red Wings and the New York Rangers battled to a 1-1 overtime tie before 11,000 fans here tonight. It was the first National Hocky league game for each club, and pasing and team work were ragged.

Marty Barry, obtained in a trade with Boston, scored Detroit's goal halfway through the opening period, taking Aurie's shot in front of the Ranger net and slamming the puck past Davie Kerr. Vernon Ayres was in the penalty box at the time for charging McDonald.

The Red Wings were a man short when New York tied the score. Kelly had just entered the box for charging Mason when Dillon scored on a double pass in which Bill Cook and Frank Boucher figured.

NEW YORK [1].		DETROIT [1].
Kerr	G	Smith
Heller	R. D.	Goodfellow
Johnson	L. D.	Bowman
Boucher	C	Barry

CUBS' MASCOT ARRIVES TO OPEN MOVIE CAREER

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Paul Dominick, who is 3 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs 120 pounds, came to Hollywood today to make a movie career for himself.

Paul was too excited to talk when he arrived. At the station to meet him were other youthful actors and actresses, who will be his associates. Paul's movie contract has already been signed and delivered to Hal Roach, producer.

International sells nearly twice as many heavy-duty trucks as any other maker

FORTY-FOUR manufacturers in this country build heavy-duty trucks, 2-ton and over. International outsells the nearest rival nearly two to one.

And mark this: In all trucks, from ½-ton up, International registrations the first eight months of 1935 are 69 per cent over the same period in 1934. The entire truck industry together gained 31 per cent. No other leading truck, regardless of size or price, equals International's gain.

N.U. ENDS 34 YEAR WAIT TO TRIUMPH OVER NOTRE DAME

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern beats Notre Dame. For 34 years the Wildcats have sought a second victory over the Irish, losing many closely waged battles, fighting to a scoreless tie in 1931, but never able since 1901 to write in football's record book: "Northwestern beats Notre Dame."

Northwestern's 14 to 7 victory was well earned. It is doubly appreciated by Coach Lynn Waldorf, in his first year at Northwestern, and his squad, since it is recompense for defeats by Purdue, Ohio State, and Minnesota. Moreover, the Wildcats ended Notre Dame's victory march, a drive that had scored six triumphs this season and whipped Pittsburgh, Navy, and Ohio State.

There's No Doubt About It.

It is true that Notre Dame must have felt losses of such men as Pfefferle, Carideo, and Pilney; that Notre Dame's players were worn from exhausting, nerve racking battles, but it is equally true that the Irish will admit that they were bested in fair fight and victory was won by the better team.

Nor should this game really be termed an upset. While practically all predicted a Notre Dame victory, yet it was repeatedly printed that Northwestern had more than the customary chance of the underdog. While hoping for victory, Notre Dame still was apprehensive, and these fears were well grounded. Northwestern has steadily improved. The Wildcats seized opportunity to drive 30 yards for the winning touchdown and then turned back Notre Dame's final spirited rally which might have tied the contest.

By its victory Northwestern also demonstrated to the nation that midwestern football this season shows a preponderance of major teams in comparison to other sections of the country.

Here Are Two Others to Consider.

If it's an upset you wish, consider Wisconsin's 8 to 0 triumph over Purdue, or Illinois' conquest of Michigan, 3 to 0. Purdue had been beaten by Carnegie Tech and Minnesota, but Wisconsin had not won a game this season. Michigan had whipped Indiana and Wisconsin and had beaten down Columbia and Pennsylvania. Yet Saturday the Badgers shackled Purdue and the Illini held the Wolverines impotent. Michigan never threatened to score and made only one first down, and that by penalty.

Michigan not only is now dropped from a tie for the Big Ten leadership, but may finish in the second division, since Minnesota and Ohio State are opponents in remaining games.

Michigan may cast the deciding votes whether Ohio State and Minnesota continue to pace the Big Ten. This week, while the Gophers meet Michigan, Ohio State will play Illinois. Then the Buckeyes will travel to Ann Arbor as Minnesota concludes its season against Wisconsin.

Mr. Berwanger Does His Stuff.

On Saturday, Ohio State, beaten 13 to 0 by valiant Chicago at half time, rallied to push over three touchdowns for a 20 to 13 victory. The Maroons, led by Jay Berwanger, whose 85 yard sprint for Chicago's second touchdown proved again he is one of the nation's greatest backs, would have astounded the gridiron world had they been able to win. Even in defeat they may find solace in spirited defense.

Minnesota likewise was forced to call on its reserve power to down Iowa, 13 to 6, for Iowa led, 6 to 0, at the intermission. Minnesota's power, coupled with two accurate passes when the Hawkeye defense formation made passing imperative, smashed a tiring Iowa team for victory before a record homecoming throng of 52,000 at Iowa City.

Indiana added one more intersectional victory to the Western conference record by beating Maryland, 13 to 7.

Marquette hurdled its most dangerous opponent, Michigan State, 13 to 7, and bids to finish the campaign undefeated and untied. Not since the days of Red Dunn and Lavie Dilwig has the Golden Avalanche produced such a formidable eleven.

Nebraska Captures Title.

Nebraska won the championship of the Big Six Saturday by victory over Kansas, 19 to 13, twice coming from behind and successfully making up a self-imposed handicap because Lloyd Cardwell negligently permitted the Jayhawks to recover the opening kickoff behind the Nebraska goal line for a touchdown. Missouri, after an imposing start in nonconference games, still is without a Big Six victory, losing Saturday to Oklahoma, 20 to 6. Kansas State whipped Iowa State, 6 to 0.

De Paul university, tied by Texas Tech and beaten by Northwestern, smothered Valparaiso Saturday, 46 to 0.

Princeton's smashing victory over Harvard, 35 to 0, is one more reason why the Tigers are regarded as best in the east, although Dartmouth, New York university, and Syracuse continue unbeaten and untied. Pittsburgh ran over Army, 29 to 6, for the Cadets' second consecutive beating. Mississippi State, which defeated Army a week ago, was beaten by Louisiana State Saturday, 28 to 13. Mississippi State also holds the only decision of the year over Alabama, but Howard tied the Rose Bowl champions in the opening game. Saturday Alabama defeated Clemson, 33 to 0.

Southern Methodist Plays Today.

North Carolina, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, and California, in addition to Minnesota and Marquette in the west, are the other major elevens still in the unbeaten and untied class. Southern Methodist did not play Saturday and meets California [Los Angeles] on the Pacific coast this afternoon. Texas Christian scored its eighth victory last Friday over Loyola of New Orleans, 14 to 0.

California, by smashing Washington's defenses for two touchdowns and 14 to 0 conquest, advances toward a Pacific coast title. Washington previously had lost only to Stanford, 6 to 0, on two field goals by Monk Moscrip. Saturday this same Stanford kicker booted the field goal in the last minute which whipped Southern California, 3 to 0.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

NOTRE DAME DEFEAT.

NOTRE DAME players and students accepted defeat by Northwestern, the first since 1901, in a spirit which will do much to develop friendship and good sportsmanship in an annual series of established keen rivalry. Instead of excuses and explanations there was willingness to accord full credit to the victors.

The Wake was impressed, both before and after the game, with the change of attitude on both sides, differing from that of a few years ago. At pep meetings both the Notre Dame team and student body were warned that the Purple would put up a hard game, one that might be overcome, but not easily. The figures of comparative scores meant nothing, warned the speakers. So it proved.

After the game one of the lesser Notre Dame officials, who naturally would not want his name revealed, expressed composite sentiment thus: "At the start of the season we never expected to go as far as we did unbeaten. Then we hoped to get through the season. Of course, we are disappointed. But if we had to lose a game, we would rather lose to Northwestern or Army than to any other opponents. This Purple victory will mean much to future relations and in attracting crowds in other years. Northwestern deserves its victory by a game fighting squad. Disappointed, yes. But still we do not begrudge Northwestern its day of victory."

* *

Great Team or Good Team.

On Friday the Wake asked Coach Elmer Layden whether the 1935 Irish were a really great eleven, comparable to some Notre Dame teams of the past, or simply a good team.

* *

Possession of Ball.

It is a gridiron axiom that an eleven cannot score unless it has possession of the ball. How even Northwestern and Notre Dame were in that respect are shown in the accompanying figures which reflect pretty accurately the quarters in which the touchdowns were made. Excepting kickoffs and plays called back by penalties, Northwestern had the oval for 63 plays and Notre Dame for 65, divided by quarters as follows:

Northwestern	9	19	17	18—63
Notre Dame	21	13	11	20—65

This Wake Is Conducted by Harvey T. Woodruff—Help! Help!

* *

Ribbing Among Friends.

At Notre Dame's final light practice Friday afternoon, Tackle Dick Pfefferle and Full Back Fred Carideo, injured at Ohio State, were in uniform watching the signal drill and hearing the instructions concerning Purple attack and how to meet it. As Pfefferle limped past Ken Stilley, scheduled to fill Dick's place on the morrow, Ken called, "Put your weight on it, Dick; irritate that ankle."

The implication, of course, was that Stilley wanted to start at left tackle. Pfefferle replied, "Don't be too sure, if I can stand I'll be in there." But he wasn't.

* *

Notre Dame Uses More Men.

Although there never was a spot because of the close score where Andy Pilney, hero of the Ohio State encounter, and twice factor in Purple defeats, could be inserted for sentimental reasons into the lineup Saturday, Coach Layden used 29 players and Coach Waldorf 18.

* *

Northwestern Seniors.

Nearly all of Northwestern's seniors participating in Notre Dame's upset will feel a college education is not in vain. They played the greatest games of their gridiron eligibility. Al Lind and Hugh Duvall, in backing up the line, to stop the opposition running attack; Duvall in line piercing; Wally Cruice by his all around brilliance and projection of the forward pass which tied the score; Paul Tangora in breaking through and recovering fumbles; Sam Papich in helping make holes for Don Heap's reverses, which were not stopped all afternoon; Henry Longfellow by his superb catch of a touchdown pass with two hostiles covering him; Park Wray, Joe Chambers—in fact, all of them realized the ambition of their years of play.

50 LAP INDOOR AUTO RACE WON BY HOUSEHOLDER

Ronnie Householder, former Los Angeles driver and now a Chicago resident, won the 50 lap midget auto race at the 124th Field Artillery armory last night before a crowd of 8,000. Earlier in the evening he won his heat in the series of 15 lap events.

Frequent jams that forced Harry McQuinn, Emil Andres, Curley Mills, and Shorty Sorenson out of action marked the bitterly fought battle for honors.

Second to Householder was Tony Willman of Milwaukee, last season's champion, while Paul Russo of Los Angeles nosed out Ernie Gessil of Long Island City, N. Y., for third. Fifth to Gessil was Jimmy Snyder of Chicago, runnerup last year for the national title. Pat Warren of Los Angeles, who had been out in front up to last night, had to be content with sixth.

FIRST 15 LAP RACE—Won by Ronnie Householder; Harry McQuinn, second; Curley Mills, third; Pat Warren, fourth. Time, 3 minutes 35.46 seconds.

SECOND 15 LAP RACE—Won by Tony Willman; Paul Russo, second; Jimmy Snyder, third; Ernie Gessil, fourth. Time, 3 minutes 37.1 seconds.

THIRD 15 LAP RACE—Won by Shorty Sorenson; Emil Andres, second; Frank Brisko, third; Harold Shaw, fourth. Time, 3 minutes 41.81 seconds.

50 LAP CHAMPIONSHIP—Won by Ronnie Householder; Tony Willman, second; Paul Russo, third; Ernie Gessil, fourth; Jimmie Snyder, fifth; Pat Warren, sixth. Time, 11 minutes 17 seconds.

St. Mary's Team Reaches Chicago on Way Home

St. Mary's college football team, which played Fordham to a 7 to 7 tie Saturday in New York, passed through Chicago last night on the way to San Francisco. The players, in charge of Edward [Slip] Madigan, who last August served as one of the staf of coaches for the All-Star game with the Chicago Bears, and more than a hundred rooters were in the party.

Catholic Basket Tourney to Be Held at Decatur

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—The 1936 Illinois Catholic High School Athletic association basketball tournament will be held at the armory here Feb. 28-29, March 1. The site was decided upon here today at a meeting of the executive committee. Quincy, Jacksonville, and Bloomington also bid for the tournament.

Cards Score in 4th Period to Win, 12-3

went eight yards inside the Philadelphia left tackle, which had been the soft spot in the Eagle line all afternoon, and Mikulak made it first down on the 35 yard line. Peterson got two yards in two attempts and on third down Sarboe, passing from a spread formation, lofted the ball to Mikulak for ten yards and another first down.

Nichelini was run out of bounds for a five yard loss, which prompted Sarboe to call another pass. This time he threw to Peterson who took the ball just inside the west side lines and was downed out of bounds on the six yard line, a gain of 22 yards for a third consecutive first down.

Eagles Gain 105 Yards.

The Cardinals gave evidence of having straightened out their offensive problems, making most of their total gain of 184 yards in marches. It was the first time this year that the Cardinals have put together as many as three first downs in a row. Their passing attack, which has carried them along in most of their other games, was well covered by the Eagles, who intercepted four of ten attempts. The Cardinals completed four for 48 yards.

Philadelphia gained a total of 105 yards, 71 by passes and 34 by rushing, indicating that some of the defensive skill the Cardinals left in the dressing room against the Detroit Lions a week ago has returned despite the absence of key men in the line because of injuries. The Eagles completed four of ten passes and had three intercepted. First downs were 12 to 4.

It was one of the shortest games ever played in the National league, taking only 1 hour and 57 minutes.

ILLINI MAY LOSE SPURGEON, STAR SOPHOMORE BACK

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Apprehension that Lowell Spurgeon, Illinois sophomore half back, whose field goal won the Michigan game, will be unable to play against Ohio State took some of the joy out of yesterday's victory.

Spurgeon was removed from the Michigan game in the third quarter, but was not thought to be suffering from anything more than a bruised knee. Today, however, it was discovered that the injury was more serious. It will not be known definitly for a few days whether the sophomore, who is the spark plug of the Illinois back field, can play against the Buckeyes. Today his return was regarded as extremely doubtful.

The prospective loss of Spurgeon is a blow to Coach Bob Zuppke, who had based much of his hopes of upsetting Ohio State upon the ability of the sophomore. Zuppke today set about the task of reconstructing his back field, with Jewett Cole, pony half back, who relieved Spurgeon yesterday, his probable successor.

GOV. OLSON MAY GET BROTHER OF MOVIE STAR HOG

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Gov. Clyde Herring of Iowa leaned back in his chair, took a long puff on his cigar, and said tonight he'd take Gov. Floyd Olson of Minnesota "a hog that will make his eyes pop" in payment of a football bet.

The hog the Iowa governor has his eye on, he said, is none other than a brother of Blue Boy. Blue Boy was the prize Iowa hog that took part in a moving picture with the late Will Rogers.

Until tonight Herring had stood on his announced intention of paying the bet he lost on the Iowa-Minnesota football game Saturday with a razorback. "Floyd," the governor said, "is used to those scrawny pigs they have in Minnesota, and I'm going to find a razorback for him so it won't hurt his digestion."

But tonight the Iowa governor said he had changed his mind and would deliver a prize porker, "because Gov. Olson is accustomed to Minnesota hogs and might think the razorback a sample of Iowa's porkers."

In Minneapolis Gov. Olson insisted the hog Gov. Herring delivers to him must be "one that has won a prize," in accordance with the terms of their bet, which stipulated a "prize hog."

Gov. Herring said he will personally drive a truck carrying the hog to Gov. Olson, and will herd the porker into Olson's office.

Pirates Wreck Dodger Hopes of Lead, 16-7

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates blasted Brooklyn's dream of moving into first place in the Eastern division of the National Professional league today by defeating the Dodgers, 16 to 7, before 15,000 customers at Ebbets field. Most of the game was played in the rain.

Wildcat Moe Levey, formerly with the Quantico Marines, scored touchdowns in the first and fourth quarters for the Pirates and Armand Niccolai, who used to shine at Duquesne university, kicked a field goal from the 21 yard line. Jack Grossman, the old Rutgers backfield star, counted Brooklyn's touchdown in the first period.

Mullaneaux Is Injured.

Mullaneaux, Pittsburgh center, was carried from the field unconscious after a jam near the Dodger goal line in the fourth quarter, but physicians said his injuries were not serious.

After the game members of both clubs engaged in an impromptu fight for possesion of the ball which one of the visitors tried to carry away. The Dodgers were victorious in the post game battling.

The Dodgers scored first when Grossman climaxed a 68 yard march down the field by going around left end for a touchdown. Kercheval added the point. Near the end of the same period, Gildea passed 35 yards to Levey for a Pittsburgh marker. Niccolai's try for point was blocked.

Heller Runs 47 Yards.

After Niccolai's field goal had put the Pirates in the lead in the third, they scored another touchdown near the end when Warren Heller dashed 47 yards to Brooklyn's nine yard line and Levey went around end two plays later for the score. Niccolai's kick was good.

Kid Carter, Once Iron Man of Boxing, Is Dead at 56

New York, Nov. 10.—[Special.]—Neglected and almost penniless, Eddie [Kid Carter] Blaswick, 56 years old, one of boxing's iron men in the '90s died of tuberculosis today. Carter once whipped Joe Wolcott, famous colored fighter, in a 20 round bout. From 1897 to 1904 he fought in 150 bouts, but he never won a title. He beat Kid McCoy and even knocked out Peter Maher, the Carnera of that era.

ST. MEL BEATS ST. IGNATIUS FOR SECTIONAL TITLE

Keeps Record Clear with 6 to 0 Victory.

St. Mel won the west section title and the right to play for the Catholic High school championship on Nov. 24 by defeating St. Ignatius, 6 to 0, at St. Philip field yesterday. This was the sixth consecutive victory for the St. Mel eleven, which is the only undefeated and untied team in the league.

De Paul's record of five straight victories was broken when Leo triumphed, 7 to 0, at De Paul field. The victory for Leo enabled it to regain first place in the east section race. The outcome of the last east sectional game next week will decide the finalist. Leo meets De La Salle and De Paul engages Loyola.

Boland Scores Touchdown.

Red Palm's short runs from midfield, advancing the ball down to the 2 yard line where Boland plunged over, resulted in the one touchdown scored in the St. Mel-St. Ignatius game. St. Mel registered eleven first downs and St. Ignatius five.

A tight defense which bottled up Gordy Kearns and Steve Juswick, De Paul's scoring aces, aided Leo in its victory. Leo scored late in the second period when a twenty-five yard pass to Cramer was ruled complete because of interference by Carney of De Paul. With the ball on the 2 yard line, Hal Bowen plunged through left tackle on the second down. Jim Scahill place kicked the extra point.

Fenwick of Oak Park gained a firmer held on second place in the west section by defeating St. Philip, 21 to 0. Don Krueger led the Fenwick attack, registering two touchdowns, one on a 45 yard run in the second quarter.

In other league games Mount Carmel won from St. Rita, 13 to 0, and Loyola and De La Salle battled to a 12 to 12 tie.

Charles Nessler's PRO-KER Hair Milk

Complete the "Hair Cycle" and HAIR LOSS STOPS says Charles Nessler

NO. You can't stop hair from falling out with Charles Nessler's PRO-KER Treatment. Nor with anything else, for that matter. Nature intends that hair should fall out; and should be constantly replaced with a growth of new, live, lustrous hair.

The trouble is following unscientific advice, we go at the proposition backwards. We fail to help nature replace fallen hair. In fact, we often hinder natural replacement.

PRO-KER, Charles Nessler's latest achievement, helps the scalp perform its natural function—to replace falling hair with new, live, healthy hair. Excess oiliness, dandruff, itching scalp are secondary symptoms relieved by the healthful application of the PRO-KER Treatment.

PRESIDENT O. K.'S BIRTHDAY BALLS IN PARALYSIS WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today announced that his 54th birthday next Jan. 30 will be devoted to the aid of sufferers from infantile paralysis. He officially approved the holding of a third series of birthday balls throughout the country to raise funds for combating the disease.

The plan is fathered by Henry L. Doherty, president of Cities Service company, which, along with other utility companies, is strongly opposed to the administration's holding company act and power programs. The announcement of the birthday balls was made with the release of correspondence by the White House as the federal trade commission was engaged in scrutinizing Doherty's activities in the natural gas pipe line industry.

2 Millions Raised.

Doherty wrote to the President on Oct. 1 urging him to lend his name to a third series of birthday balls. He pointed out that the proceeds of the first ball enabled the Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia to carry on its program and the second financed and organized a major attack on the disease by research and provided funds for communities in which the balls were held. The two birthdays raised about 2 million dollars.

Letter by President.

Yesterday the President wrote Doherty:

"Your generous offer is most gratifying to me. The trustees of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation have acted on my request for their recommendation in this matter and their suggestions, which have my hearty approval, are transmitted to you herewith.

"It gives me much happiness to lend my next birthday, Jan. 30, to the national committee for the birthday ball for the President for this purpose, in the hope that this effort will bring us nearer to the goal of forever ending the tragic consequences of infantile paralysis.

"You know how greatly I appreciate all that you have done and are doing in this nation-wide fight. May I again express, through you, my gratitude to all those who are making my birthday the occasion for serving in this humanitarian cause."

FLORIDA CHAIN GANG FUGITIVE ARRESTED AGAIN

JAMES LA RUE.

James La Rue, 28 years old, who successfully contested extradition a year ago to Florida, where he had escaped from a chain gang, was arrested as a burglary suspect last night by Sergt. Everrett Mullaney of the Town Hall police. He was seized in his apartment at 4423 Malden avenue, where he was living under the name of Frank Krueger. Police say they have evidence tracing a typewriter, stolen two days ago from a real estate office at 1414 Montrose avenue, to La Rue. He denies the charge. La Rue's extradition fight followed his identification as a fugitive when he was arrested here as a burglary suspect. The latter charge was never pressed and in June, 1934, the Illinois Supreme court denied his extradition.

YALE PROFESSOR ILL AS WIFE DIES FROM 'OVERDOSE'

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Alice Friend Mendel, 60 years old, wife of Prof. Lafayette B. Mendel, a member of the Yale faculty and an internationally known authority on physiological and biological chemistry, died late today at a local hotel.

Dr. Marvin M. Scarbrough, New Haven medical examiner, said Mrs. Mendel had taken an "overdose" of a medicinal substance. Dr. Scarbrough said she was in "a highly nervous state" because of the condition of her husband, who is seriously ill.

Police Sergeant James F. Dinan said Prof. Mendel was too seriously ill to be informed of his wife's death.

FUNERAL SERVICE WEDNESDAY FOR DR. JULIUS ABELIO

Funeral services for Dr. Julius M. Abelio, for nearly forty years a physician on the west side, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the chapel at 5206 Broadway, with burial in Waldheim cemetery. Dr. Abelio died of bronchial pneumonia Friday in Los Angeles, Cal., whither he removed for his health eight years ago.

Dr. Abelio was born in Russia 72 years ago. Soon after arriving in this country he became a student at the Illinois College of Physicians and Surgeons, where he was graduated in 1892. He served on the staf of the Mount Sinai hospital, formerly the Maimonides hospital.

RITES TODAY FOR BLIND FIRE LIEUT. HANS MALMBERG

Funeral services are to be held at 1 p. m. today in a chapel at 5149 North Ashland avenue for Hans Malmberg, a fire lieutenant who was forced to retire from the department twenty-five years ago by an ammonia pipe explosion which blinded him as he fought a blaze. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery. Lieut. Malmberg lived at 2020 Farragut street. For the last fifteen years he sold newspapers and magazines at the northwest corner of Foster avenue and Clark street. At the top of his newsstand hung a sign reading "Cheer up—let me see you smile." He died Thursday in the Swedish Covenant hospital at the age of 61 years. John Dooley, president of the Retired Firemen's association, eulogized the lieutenant at the regular monthly meeting of the association at the Great Northern hotel yesterday.

19 DROWNED AS IRISH BOAT HITS ROCK, CAPSIZES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 10.—Nineteen persons perished in a boating disaster off the Donegal coast late last night. A large party returning in an open boat from Burton Port to Aran Island, four miles off the mainland, took a short cut through narrow rapids where, during a fog, the boat struck a rock and capsized.

Nearly all the victims were named Gallagher. The dead include Edward Gallagher and his four sons and two daughters. Ten bodies have been recovered. Two men were picked up after fifteen hours in the water and one subsequently died.

Funeral Services Are Held for Rev. W. F. McAllister

Funeral services for the Rev. William F. McAllister, Spanish-American war chaplain and a former commander of the Father Edward Kelly camp, U. S. W. V., were held yesterday in the chapel at 6915 Wentworth avenue. The Rev. Mr. McAllister, who was 63 years old, died of heart disease Friday at the Hines Memorial hospital. Interment will be at 2 p. m. today at Somonauk, Ill.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Armistice programs will occupy the radio spotlight today. Ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National cemetery are to be broadcast from 10 to 11:15 a. m. over both NBC and CBS, with WMAQ, WBBM, WLS, and WCFL as local outlets. President Roosevelt will speak, as will National Commander Ray Murphy of the American Legion. Jessica Dragonette is to sing, as she has for three years on this occasion, and the United States Navy band will play.

"Family of Nations," an international Armistice day program, is to be aired over WBBM-CBS from 2 to 3 p. m. National leaders are to be heard from Paris, Buenos Aires, Tokio, Rome, and Liverpool. Senator Marconi, radio pioneer, is to speak from Rome. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, will be another speaker.

Something in the way of comic relief is to be provided by Al Pearce's gang at 4 p. m. over WMAQ. Tizzie Lish, in a last minute bulletin, revealed that she will turn back the pages of history and tell all. Title of her confession is "My Experiences with Gen. Gran—no, I mean Gen. Pershing!"

A French Armistice day program is to be relayed over WCFL-NBC from 2:45 to 3:15 p. m. The historic bugle which officially ended the world war is to be lifted from its case in the French war museum and sounded once again via short wave for American listeners at 3 p. m.

Other special broadcasts for the day:

11:30 a. m.—WCFL—Veterans of Foreign Wars to present a dramatic sketch titled "The 11th Hour." Commander James E. Van Zandt is to speak.

12:30 p. m.—W-G-N—Dr. Felix A. Levy, rabbi of Emanuel congregation, will conduct an Armistice day service.

1 p. m.—WJJD—Wayland Brooks, former assistant state's attorney and former marine who was wounded at Soissons, will deliver the Armistice day address at Mooseheart.

1:45 p. m.—WIND—Fred Westendorf, chaplain of the National Guard, will address the Daughters of the American Revolution on "What Armistice Day Means."

3 p. m.—WAAF—The Cook County American Legion council will present a drama of war titled "Democracy."

4 p. m.—WENR—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will discuss "What Will Neutrality Do for Us?" under auspices of the League of Women Voters.

5 p. m.—WMAQ—The United States Army band will present a program of appropriate airs.

8:45 p. m.—WCFL—During the regular Republican club period Judge Robert Crowe will touch on the armistice theme.

Armistice day music, of course, will be featured throughout the day and evening on many of the regular sponsored and sustaining periods.

W. D. ALEXANDER, 40 YEARS DEALER AT YARDS, DIES

William Deweese Alexander, who for forty years was engaged in the live stock business at the stockyards, died of pneumonia yesterday at his home, 5315 Kenmore avenue. Mr. Alexander was 80 years old. How to Keep Colds UNDER better CONTROL

Catching Cold?.. Vicks Va-tro-nol helps Prevent many Colds

At the first warning nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It stimulates Nature's own functions—in the nose—to help prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps avoid many colds.

Caught a Cold?.. Vicks VapoRub helps End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds

A helpful guide to fewer colds and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Staff; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians—further proved in everyday home use by millions. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.

★ Vicks Open House: with Grace Moore every Monday 9:30 P. M. (E. S. T.) NBC coast-to-coast

DR. WISE URGES JEWRY ORGANIZE TO AID BRETHREN

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president and founder of the American Jewish congress, was the principal speaker last night at a massmeeting called by the Chicago division of the congress to plan action against anti-semitism in Germany. He spoke before more than 4,000 Jews at the Coliseum.

Dr. Wise has just returned from Europe and Palestine. He described his trip, told of the transformation since his visit there fifteen years ago, and of the 20,000 German Jewish refugees who have gone to Palestine.

Dr. Wise urged Jews to organize throughout the world to safeguard the lives and interests of the Jews in other countries.

BANKERS OFFER SCHEME TO END CONTROL BY RFC

Want Agency to Sell Preferred Stock.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Nov. 10.—Bankers who have sold preferred stock to the Reconstruction Finance corporation are considering a new scheme to buy back their independence from the RC, it was learned here today from delegates to the American Bankers' association convention.

Anxious to free themselves from government stock ownership, some of the largest banks that have sold preferred shares to the RFC are exploring the possibility of transferring such preferred holdings to their common stock holders by prevailing upon the RFC to put up some of its holdings for sale.

They point out that in view of the improved financial condition and earnings of many of the banks now partly owned by the government the senior stock of such institutions would probably find favor with investors. Even with the reduction in the dividend rate by the RFC several months ago the preferred shares still yield 3½ per cent. They are not subject to double liability assessments in case of bank failure.

Present Low Rates.

Ordinarily a return of 3½ per cent would not be sufficient to attract purchasers. However, bankers argue that, in view of the present abnormally low yield on high grade bonds, the offering of preferred stock of sound banks which are showing earnings not only on their preferred but their common as well would probably be readily accepted by investors.

By giving their common stock holders the first chance to subscribe to the preferred shares the banks could prevent a broadening of stock ownership.

Those who favor the scheme to buy back their independence from the government say that no overtures have yet been made to Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, but they are confident that the RFC would not dare oppose the plan in view of the fact that the RFC has consistently followed the policy of reselling securities pledged for loans as soon as such securities can be sold without loss.

Scattered Blocks Sold.

Early in 1934, when big banks in New York, Chicago, and other cities sold preferred stock to the RFC, such stock was not generally attractive to private investors, although small blocks of stock were sold to scattered buyers. Since then, however, the situation has changed almost completely. Many of the big metropolitan banks have completed their house cleaning and are again earning money.

According to a recent statement by Chairman Jones of the RFC, the First National bank of Chicago is considering the retirement in the near future of 10 millions of its 25 millions of preferred stock by drawing on surplus reserves. If such is the case the First National of Chicago will be the first big city bank to attack the task of regaining its independence, excluding several large New York institutions which borrowed temporarily from the RFC merely to help set the pace for smaller banks early last year.

FIRST ZEPHYR CARRIES 74,390 IN FIRST YEAR

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—When the Burlington railroad's original streamlined train, the Zephyr, arrives here today it will have completed one year of service between this city and Kansas City, via Omaha. In this period it has run 177,000 miles. exclusive of 32,000 miles traveled on exhibition tours before it went into service, and has carried 74,390 passengers, an average of 204 a day.

The number of passengers represents an increase of fifty per cent over the number carried in the preceding year on the steam train which the Zephyr replaced. These passengers traveled a total of 8,473,207 miles, an average of 114 miles per passenger.

During the first year of its run, the Zephyr was in service 354 out of 365 days. Operating and maintenance costs of the Diesel electric powered train averaged 40 per cent less per train mile than the cost of the steam train it replaced.

GUARDIAN TRUST OF CLEVELAND GETS RFC LOAN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A loan of $6,377,027 to provide a 10 per cent distribution to depositors of the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland was announced tonight by the Reconstruction corporation. RFC Chairman Jesse Jones said the loan was approved after application by the trust company receiver, and that "it is hoped that distribution can be made before Christmas."

Jones said the loan "is possible by reason of increased values of the assets of the bank through recovery, together with the splendid manner in which the liquidation has been handled."

World Bank Discusses Italian Finance Sanctions

BASEL, Switzerland, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Governors of the Bank of International Settlements, in a brief regular meeting, today discussed the effect of financial sanctions against Italy on the world money market. No statement was made following the conversations.

ABA Election Fight Looms Over Key Post

New Orleans, La., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—The candidacy of E. G. Bennett, former director of the New Deal Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, for the key position in the American Bankers association was under fire today as seven special trains poured into this city with the first fifteen hundred delegates to the sixty-first annual convention of the association.

Many of the delegates, particularly those from New York and other eastern centers, oppose Bennett's election because they view it as a means of turning over the bankers' organization to the New Deal. In addition to his former connection with the FDIC, Bennett is a business associate of Marriner S. Eccles, governor of the federal reserve board.

The fight turns on the election of a new second vice president, because, according to A. B. A. tradition, the man elected second vice president automatically becomes president two years later.

St. Louis Man Gets Post.

Last year a Californian slated for the job was shunted and the association elected Tom K. Smith, president of the Boatsmens National bank of St. Louis, second vice president. Smith had powerful New Deal connections, having been an assistant secretary of the treasury under Morgenthau, but the bankers looked upon him as one of their own kind despite this connection.

So far they have been unwilling to accord the same right hand of fellowship to Bennett, not only because of his former FDIC connection but because he is manager of the string of banks in Utah controled by Marriner Eccles.

A peculiar twist is lent to the situation by the fact that Bennett himself insists that he is still a hardshell Republican and that he is out of sympathy not only with the monetary theories of his associate, Eccles, but with most of the New Deal monetary program. His campaign managers are seeking to sell him to the convention as a conservative.

Candidate of Opposition.

The opposition to Bennett has rallied around a candidate of its own, Frank F. Brooks, president of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, who achieved much publicity on a "fighting" speech delivered Sept. 9 at the convention of the Financial Advertisers' association in Atlantic City in which he bitterly attacked New Deal extravagance and urged a return to "sound economy." Orval W. Adams, executive vice president of the Utah State National Bank of Salt Lake City and business competitor of Eccles and Bennett, is also mentioned.

The entire convention moved 58 miles east to Pass Christian, Miss., today to attend a garden party given by Rudolf S. Hecht, outgoing head of the association. Because of continued illness Senator Carter Glass will be unable to address the convention on Tuesday. Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the RFC will deliver his address on Tuesday instead of Wednesday.

STEEL MAKERS RELY ON NEEDS OF CONSUMERS

Disregard Price Rise as Stimulant.

The steel industry is relying for activity upon actual consumer requirements and not on any artificial demand stimulated by rising prices, according to the magazine Steel, which estimates steel operations for last week at 53 per cent of capacity, off 1½ points.

Chicago was one of the two districts reporting gains last week, rising ½ point to 58 per cent. The other was eastern Pennsylvania with a similar advance to 39 per cent. Pittsburgh dropped 3 points to 44 per cent; Cleveland, 3 points to 69 per cent; Birmingham, ½ point to 58 per cent; Detroit, 6 points to 88 per cent; and Buffalo, 5 points to 37 per cent.

Prospective price boosts in finished steel, falling in line with those made in pig iron and semi-finished steel, have not yet caused any heavy buying and there have been very few speculative purchases, the journal says.

Price Boost Is Delayed.

"The explanation is," the review says, "that consumers have been given an opportunity to cover for the rest of the quarter and the really effective date for higher prices will not come before Jan. 1. Therefore steelmakers do not expect a rush in shipments to accelerate operations until late this month or in December. This was the industry's experience when prices were raised in the second quarter of 1934.

"A year-end bulge in demand is unusual, but not without precedent, and it is being fostered by continued strong support from automobile manufacturers, prospects for considerable railroad buying soon for early 1936 and structural awards sustained by federal projects."

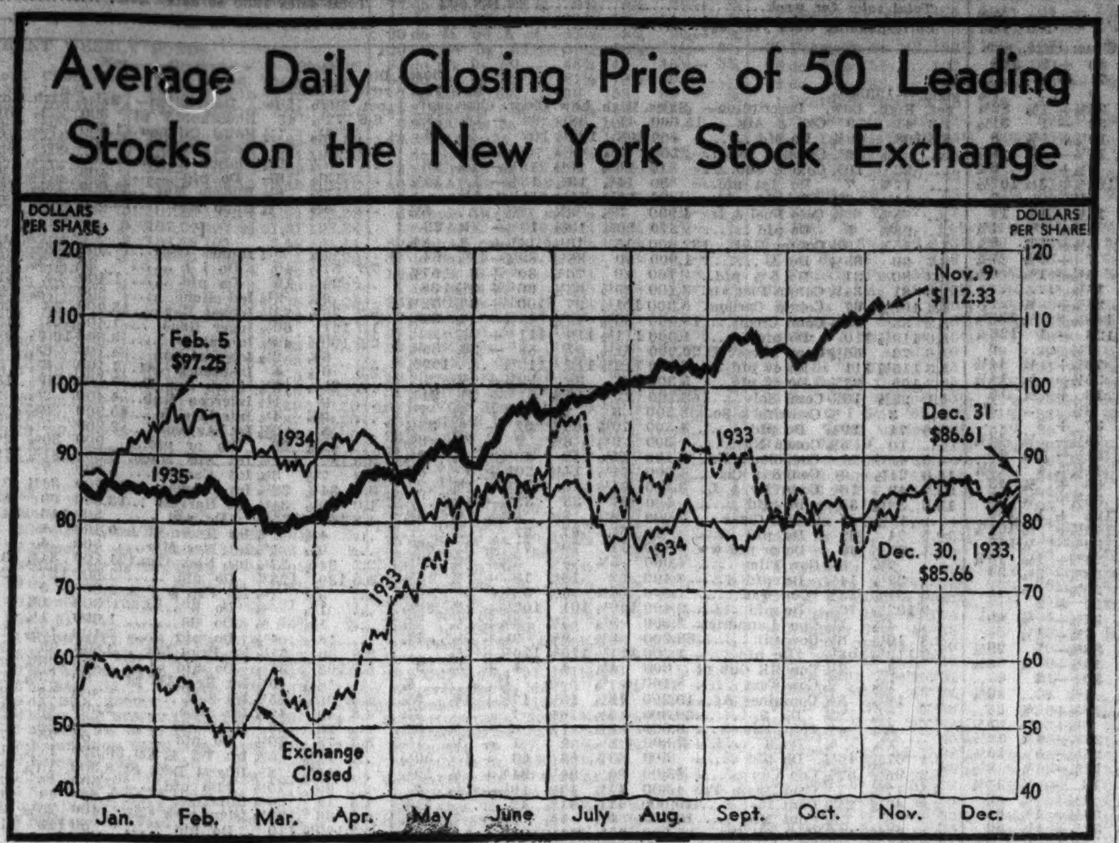
Auto Demand Steadies Output.

An exceptionally steady rate in steelworks operations at present is due to the early introduction of new automobile models, the journal says. During the last 13 weeks the magazine's estimates of operations have not varied more than 3½ points. Car assemblies again increased last week, gaining 14,000 units to a total of 90,000.

Structural shape awards last week held close to recent averages at 21,000 tons. This year there has been a 20 per cent increase over last year in awards for industrial and commercial buildings, according to the review.

Railroad buying includes 20,000 tons of rails for the Louisville and Nashville and Chicago mills are anticipating inquiries soon for 40,000 tons of rails for western carriers.

The magazine's iron and steel price composite is 18 cents higher at $33.16 a ton, and the scrap composite gained 16 cents to $12.83 a ton, while the finished steel composite remained at $53.70 a ton.



NEW FRAZIER-LEMKE ACT IS HELD INVALID BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Harrisonburg, Va., Nov. 10.—(AP)—In a case in which Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, Democratic critic of many New Deal measures, joined with other creditors in attacking the law, Judge John Paul in United States District court here held the amended Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act unconstitutional in Virginia.

Senator Byrd in discussing the decision made it plain he was acting in the case not in a personal capacity but as guardian of the estate of the late Hal Flood, Virginia congressman. The decision was announced today after Judge Paul had departed for Abingdon, where he will open a new term of court.

Judge Paul said in the lengthy opinion that the act takes away substantial property rights guaranteed creditors under Virginia statutes, and the amendments do not overcome all of the objections raised by the Supreme court of the United States in holding the original Frazier-Lemke act unconstitutional.

Second Adverse Decision.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The ruling holding the amended Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium act unconstitutional, given in Harrisonburg, Va., federal District court, was the second adverse opinion on the act by a lower court. The act was held unconstitutional in a ruling of a federal court at Peoria, Ill., last month.

Eastman Kodak Dividend Action Is Due This Week

The important dividend meetings scheduled for this week include Union Pacific, Eastman Kodak, Underwood Elliott Fisher, Congoleum Nairn. and Penick & Ford.

Plan Offered by Wieboldt to Buy Stores

Wieboldt Stores, Inc., yesterday submitted to stockholders a plan of reorganization under which it would acquire ownership of four of its five store properties from the Wieboldt Realty Trust. The fifth store, in Evanston, is not involved. The Wieboldt Realty Trust would receive stock in Wieboldt Stores and dissolve after distribution of this stock among its security holders.

Elmer Wieboldt, president of the stores, in calling a special meeting of stockholders for Nov. 21, pointed out that the five trustees of the realty trust are included among the nine directors of the stores and that the Wieboldt family owns or controls a substantial majority of voting shares of both companies. Adoption of the plan requires two-thirds approval of the store shareholders.

Stores Now Being Leased.

At present the four stores are rented from the trust under leases running to Sept. 30, 2022, providing annual rental of 3 per cent of net sales with a $775,000 minimum. Effective May 1, 1932, the minimum was reduced to $510,000 annually until Aug. 1, 1939.

The company also borrowed $500,000 from the realty trust in 1931 for working capital. After payment of $200,000, a balance of $300,000 in notes remains due on Aug. 1, 1939. Also due Aug. 1, 1939, are the $3,573,400 first mortgage 5½ per cent bonds of the company, which the realty trust assumed under its leases with the company.

The proposed reorganization plan provides for acquisition by the company of assets of the realty trust valued at $8,863,579, including the $30,000 in notes which will be canceled. Notes and other liabilities of the trust, to be assumed by the stores, amount to $304,158. in addition to the bonds.

Plans to Refund Bonds.

If the reorganization is effected, said Wieboldt, the company plans to redeem the present bonds on Feb. 1, 1936, at par plus accrued interest and a premium of ¾ to 1 per cent through the sale of a new issue of bonds of $3,750,000 principal amount, carrying a 4½ per cent coupon and maturing in 20 years. Including this extension of the bond obligation, said Wieboldt, consummation of the plan will enable the company "to resume dividends when waranted by current earnings."

Wieboldt Stores, Inc., would issue to the realty trust, in consideration of the excess of assets over liabilities acquired, 58,622½ shares of new 6 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock and 32,443 additional common shares of no par value. The preferred shares will have a $50 par value, the aggregate of the issue being $2,931,125. They are convertible, share for share, into common stock.

Exchange for Common Stock.

The present capitalization of the stores consists of 238,000 common shares, which will be exchanged, share for share, for new common.

If adopted the plan is to be made effective as of last Sept. 28. On that date current assets, including $487,323 cash, were $5,019,495, compared with $2,032,951 current liabilities.

In escaping rent of a minimum $510,000 annually to Aug. 1, 1939, and $775,000 thereafter, the stores assume preferred dividend requirements of $175,867 and bond interest placed at $168,750 for a total of $344,617 annually. Elmer Wieboldt also pointed out that the apparent saving will be accompanied by additional charges for depreciation, which amounted to $197,000 in the year ended Sept. 30, 1935, for the realty trust.

BANKS, MARKETS CLOSED TODAY

Principal stock and commodity exchanges, banks, and other financial institutions will remain closed today in observance of Armistice day. Activity will continue as usual in domestic live stock yards and on the Liverpool Corn exchange, but Buenos Aires and several continental markets will also suspend operations. Canadian markets will be closed. Business will be resumed tomorrow.

SLOAN SEEKS PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR WORK PLAN

New York, Nov. 10.—[Special.]—In issuing the pamphlet report of the General Motors corporation for the quarter ended Sept. 30, Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president, declared today that the public's support of the corporation's effort to stabilize employment was essential to insure success of the earlier introduction of new models of automobiles this year.

As announced in the preliminary earnings report, issued recently, the net profit of General Motors for the third quarter was $30,753,088, equivalent to 66 cents a share on the common stock. This compares with $22,858,728, or 48 cents a common share, for the third quarter of last year.

"This year," Mr. Sloan said, "the time of announcing the new models has been advanced from January to November by the entire industry as a coöperative effort in the hope that there will result more uniform retail sales throughout the year, thereby making possible steadier work with resulting increased annual earnings for the industry's workers. To accomplish this we must induce more people to buy their new motor cars now."

Calls Illinois Idle Insurance Bills Unsound

Unemployment insurance, as typified in two bills now before the Illinois general assembly, is a stupendous and unsound experiment that will cost the people of the state untold millions of dollars and will fail in its reckless promises to the unemployed, R. E. Wantz, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, said yesterday.

Wantz said it would be wiser, more practical, and more productive of results to let pensions and unemployment compensation come by orderly processes of evolution rather than forcing them by legislative measures.

"What this country needs most is confidence on the part of business and the public that capital and industry will not be handicapped by unsound, costly, and impractical measures," he asserted.

Views Employment Handicapped.

"The only dependable and permanent cure for unemployment of those for whom this legislation is designed is the furnishing of more jobs by private business firms of all kinds. Private employers will not be able to absorb workers, involuntarily unemployed, if the genuinely serious handicaps which will inevitably follow enactment of this legislation are imposed. The so-called unemployment insurance proposal is neither a relief measure nor a recovery move."

Wantz declared wage earners and other consumers should realize the burden of taxation falls upon them. He said estimates show that the man raising a family on $30 a week is paying a combined burden of indirect or hidden taxes of $5.15 weekly.

Asserts Every One Must Pay.

Wantz added that unemployment compensation is no gift, but must be paid alike by the white collared worker and those in overalls. He said only a limited class of wage earners can benefit, but every one else will be penalized by payments to employés who operate on a seasonal basis.

Employers will be forced to keep pay rolls at a minimum, he said, and there will be not only no incentive to increase wages but a tendency to reduce wages because of asessments involved.

Students of the act, Wantz declared, have concluded that the ultimate assessment of 9 per cent on pay rolls—6 per cent on employer and 3 per cent on employé—will not buy as much real protection as can be purchased from private companies furnishing group insurance.

Standard Oil of Indiana Brings Out New Winter Gas

The Standard Oil company of Indiana announced yesterday it is starting "more newspaper and farm paper advertising than it has attempted for many winters." Officials said that a campaign involving advertisments in 1,565 newspapers in 13 north central states would be started at once to publicize a new winter gasoline notable for quick starting qualities.

COURT DECISION PUTS NEW LIFE IN UTILITY LIST

15 Issues Advance $250,000,000.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 10.—Public utility stocks are riding high in favor with the Wall street speculative community once more, thanks primarily to the Maryland court decision which held the utility holding company law unconstitutional in its "entirety."

The excited demand for these shares which followed the decision late last week increased the aggregate value of fifteen of the leading power and light issues listed on the New York Stock exchange by well over a quarter of a billion dollars. Listed quotations in the case of some of the lower priced descriptions were lifted as much as 25 per cent or more in the biggest turnover they have enjoyed for years.

Traders Are Pleased.

While traders made no effort to dodge the realization that the verdict of the highest court of the land on the legislation remains yet to be determined, the vigorous language of the decision came as welcome corroboration of the opinion held by many leading corporation lawyers and raised fresh hopes of a protracted "breathing spell" from further such legislation. Particularly welcome was the court's assertion that the measure had "flagrantly violated" the constitution's due-process-of-law amendment and that if the act were permitted to remain on the statute books it would mean that the authority of the states "would exist only by sufferance."

While some of the more active stocks of the group receded somewhat from the highs they reached in Friday morning's boiling market, others plowed right on ahead, some of them rising 2 or 3 points further in yesterday's mixed and generally quiet week-end market.

Auto Shares Stronger.

Automobile issues have been stimulated anew by reports from the automobile show at Grand palace here of the best sales in years, and by reports of expanding production at the big plants of the industry. Another development in their favor is the disclosure that purchasers of new cars are favoring the higher priced machines this year much more than last, indicating a growing confidence on the part of the public in the outlook.

Increasing market turnover is bringing growing prosperity to brokerage firms in the shape of commissions, and the increase is being passed along to some degree here and there in salaries to an occasional new job. Friday's volume, running to around 3,000,000 shares, was the heaviest since Feb. 7, 1934.

EASE IN MONEY SUSTAINS TRADE IN BOND MARKET

Utility Issues Advance on Court Decision.

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Continued easy money conditions and a moderate amount of investment interest in low priced domestic corporate issues kept the bond market on an even keel last week.

Electric power and light obligations were in a steadily rising curve throughout the week, despite heavy profit taking that made its appearance on the opening bulge the day after a federal judge ruled the public utility act of 1935 was unconstitutional.

Decision Climaxes Upturn.

This decision, marking the first major step in the judicial procedure designed to bring the whole problem before the Supreme court, brought out a vigorous but short lived bullish demonstration for utility securities and climaxed a week or more of almost constantly rising prices for this group of bonds.

There was little in the way of important news affecting railroad and industrial bonds, except the additional evidence of improvement in the statistical position of the carriers and further gains in some of the basic industries. Bonds of some of the steel companies were especially firm, with a sprinkling of new highs for the year scattered over the list.

Federal Bonds Are Quiet.

United States government securities kept in the background. Trading was quiet and there was little feature except a tendency to shift from one group to another in search of preferred positions suitable to individual portfolios.

Foreign bonds were upset quite severely by the European war news. Italian issues were under pressure most of the week but found good backing on dips.

56 Members Approved by Investment Bankers

One of the largest groups of new members since 1929 was approved at the recent meeting of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers Association of America, Orrin G. Wood of Estabrook & Co., Boston, president of the association, announced yesterday. Approved applicants totaled 56, bring the total membership to 687. Chicago firms approved for membership were Enyart, Van Camp & Feil, Harris Hall & Co., and Hickey Doyle & Co.

United States Steel.

Investors' Guide: I shall appreciate information on United States Steel common.—P. W. G.

Answer: United States Steel corporation is the largest industrial concern in this country. During favorable periods of operations earnings are large, but when operations are restricted losses are large.

About half of output is normally taken by the building, railroad, and automobile industries, the first two predominating. The sluggishness of demand by the building and railroad industries is a primary reason why this corporation has operated recently around 40 per cent of capacity when the national average of steel production was at 50 per cent of capacity.

The comparatively unfavorable showing has prompted the management to make important shifts. Some subsidiaries have been consolidated and some personnel changed.

The company failed to earn a profit in any of the first three quarters of 1935. Net loss for the first nine months was $4,241,000, against loss of $11,457,000 in the first nine months of 1934.

	Gross.	Net loss.	Loss per common share.
1934	$591,609,000	$21,668,000	$5.39
1933	524,969,000	36,501,000	7.09
1932	357,202,000	71,176,000	11.08
1931	729,377,000	*13,038,000	1.40

*Net income.

Funded debt, $95,379,000, is small for a company of this size, $2,084,000,000. There are outstanding 3,602,811 shares of 7 per cent $100 par cumulative preferred, which have paid only 50 cents a quarter since the first quarter of 1932, and 8,703,252 shares of $100 par common. On Sept. 30, 1935, arrears on the preferred were $15 a share, which must be paid before common stock holders can receive any dividends.

Working capital position is impressive. On Dec. 31, 1935, working capital was $364,136,000

Pending definite reëstablishment of a profitable earning basis sufficient to warant resumption of common dividends, the common is speculative. The company, however, is well fortified financially to withstand a long period of losses and readjustment.

Nevada Silver Horn Mining.

Investors' Guide: Would you kindly give me information regarding Nevada Silver Horn Mining company? —N. M. E.

Answer: We have the following report on the company:

"The shares have been worthless since about 1926, when the company abandoned its property and forfeited its charter."

GRAIN MARKETS LACKING TREND; TRADE IS QUIET

Speculation at Low Ebb; Demand Uncertain.

The level of prices in the Chicago grain market underwent slight change in last week's trading. With speculative activity at low ebb and commercial demand uncertain the market failed to develop a decisive trend.

The week witnessed a readjustment of the price relationship between the various wheat futures. December wheat, under which deliveries will begin in a few weeks, fell 2⅛ cents a bushel, while the May future advanced slightly to 90 cents a bushel. The decline in the December contract marked the beginning of liquidation in that future. Speculators and hedgers began to shift their wheat holdings from the early future into the deferred contracts and the market reflected these operations.

Traders Less Optimistic.

The bullish temper of wheat traders a few weeks ago has gradually given way to a feeling of uncertainty. The unexpectedly slow European demand for wheat, lack of definite figures on Argentine production and confusion over the marketing policy of the Canadian wheat board have impaired the confidence of traders who had looked for high wheat prices throughout the season.

About the only definite information about the Argentine situation is that crop prospects have materially improved in the last few weeks after the break in the long drouth. What this means when translated into terms of production is still a matter of widely varying estimate.

Canada Is Key to Prices.

Domestic prices are definitly tied to the world market because of the country's dependence this season on Canadian wheat supplies. At home still another factor clouds the outlook. The Supreme court is expected to give a decision soon on the AAA program which will decide the fate of the processing tax.

The range of prices in the Chicago market last week is shown in the following table:

Bank Stock Holdings.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—I believe you owe me a "Beg Your Pardon" due to the fact that yesterday in an article by Howard Wood—"First National, Continental Plan Dividends," you make the statement that "the RFC owns 50 million dollars of preferred stock of the Continental."

If you will refer to your financial page of Dec. 21, 1933, you will find I was and am the owner of a portion of the Continental preferred stock, and the RFC subscribed to the balance only of the 50 millions. I was and am sole preferred individual stockholder, as you stated in your issue of that date, and was the only individual stockholder that took advantage of rights to subscribe.

COMMISSIONERS, D. C., Washington, November 7, 1935. Sealed proposals will be received at Room 509 District Building until 2 P. M., November 26, 1935, and then publicly opened for furnishing and installing Kitchen and Dining Room Equipment in the Main Building, Adult Unit, of the District of Columbia Tuberculosis Sanatoria, near Glenn Dale, Prince Georges County, Maryland. A more complete description of the work and full information for bidders is given in the drawings, specifications, and in other contract papers, which may be obtained at Room 427, District Building, upon deposit of a certified check payable to the Collector of Taxes, D. C., in the sum of FIFTEEN DOLLARS [$15.00] to insure return in good condition. Not more than three [3] complete sets of drawings and specifications and contract papers will be furnished to any one [1] general contractor. No proposal will be accepted unless accompanied by a guaranty of not less than five per cent [5%] of the amount of the bid in the form of a certified check made payable to the Collector of Taxes, D. C., U. S. bond, or the bond of an approved surety company. Security for the faithful performance of the work shall be in the form of a surety bond in a penal sum equal to the estimated total contract price. A labor bond in an amount equal to the largest estimated aggregate payroll for any one month is required. Public liability insurance in the sum of $5,000 and $10,000 is also required. The work called for by this proposal is to be performed in accordance with an agreement dated December 19, 1934, between the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works and is subject to the provisions of Title II, of the National Industrial Recovery Act and the rules and regulations prescribed by the President and the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works. The Director of Reemployment for the District of Columbia is Edgar B. Young, 480 Indiana Avenue, N. W. The commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive formalities as they deem best for the interest of the District of Columbia. Final award of contract is subject to approval of the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works. No bidder may withdraw his proposal for a period of thirty [30] days after the date for the opening thereof. Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum wage rates prescribed by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works must be paid on this project. MELVIN C. HAZEN, GEORGE E. ALLEN, DAN I. SULTAN, Commissioners, D. C.

NEW BURLINGTON ROADBED MEETS TEST FOR SPEED

Rebuilding of Washed Out Sections Is Unique.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Recent speed tests of the Burlington railroad with its new streamlined train, the Mark Twain, near McCook, Neb., call attention to one of the most noteworthy feats in recent railroad history—restoration of the road's main line track to Denver in the Republican river valley after the disastrous floods of last May.

The ordinarily insignificant Republican river, fed by heavy storms in the west, last Decoration day rose with startling suddenness and swept down its narrow valley. Besides taking a toll of 100 lives and causing heavy general property damage, the rushing waters picked long stretches of the Burlington's track from the embankment and turned it upside down along the right of way. In some places corkscrews of rails were formed as rails and ties were hurled from one side of the right of way to the other.

Long Stretch Is Damaged.

The most serious damage occurred over a 130 mile stretch between Oxford and Haigler, Neb., although damage further west disrupted the entire service between Oxford and Denver, about 300 miles. Officials of the road, who arrived at the scene while the flood waters were still standing, were fearful momentarily that it would not be possible to restore the line. However, orders were given to rebuild.

Two problems faced the road's engineers after consultation with the management. One was to provide temporary service as soon as possible. The second was to build track that would permit immediately on completion train operation without speed restrictions. The first requirement was met by laying temporary rails wherever possible, on highways even, with the result that on June 23 the first train went through to Denver.

Use New Right of Way.

In the second case the answer was the building of a stretch of track over entirely new right of way in several sections. Work on this was completed on Oct. 17, and on Oct. 21 all speed restrictions were taken off. President Ralph Budd said it would be possible to run trains over this track at 150 miles an hour in safety.

In building the new line, the right of way in some places was moved back to the high ground along the northern side of the valley and in other sections the old track was elevated sufficiently to prevent danger from future floods. Where the new track was installed, weeds and vegetation were cleared away and the ground rolled with heavy "sheeps' foot" rollers. The "sheeps' feet" are metal projections from the roller which pack the ground harder than an ordinary roller does.

How Roadway Was Built.

Dirt was piled in layers a foot deep, each layer being rolled separately. Then the track was laid and under it was placed twelve inches of smelters' slag from the Denver district. H. R. Clark, in charge of maintenance of way, says he was informed that some of this slag contains about $4 of unreclaimed gold to the ton. Where new track was required the new 112 pound rail, which has been made standard on the Burlington, was installed.

About 1,500,000 yards of earth were used in raising the track. Most of this earth was brought in trucks from the surrounding country. About 3,000 men, many of whom were on relief, were recruited for the job.

"Ordinarily it takes from six months to a couple of years for track to season sufficiently to permit unrestricted speed," Clark said. "But in this case we installed track that was practically ready for any speed at the moment of completion."

Roadbed Meets Speed Test.

The new right of way was completed on Oct. 21, and on Oct. 23 the Mark Twain near Oxford traveled at 122 miles an hour, taking a slight curve, or so it was described, at 121 miles an hour—providing testimony as to the workmanship.

It is interesting to note that the Burlington spent $3,000,000 on this restoration work without tapping the federal government for aid. In the meantime, many public roads and bridges in the district are still out.

Friend of the Coal User

The Friend of the Coal User will supply information on economical use of coal in an attempt to enable users to meet with less loss the added expense which the Guffey coal law is loading on the Chicagoland public. Inquiries should be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Items of general interest will be published.

Wants All Night Fire.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Is hard coal the only kind of fuel one can use to keep a fire all night, say from 11 p. m. to 7 a. m.? We have a combination stove [gas on one side and coal on the other] in the back room of a fruit store which we use for a kitchen. In the ceiling is a register, which we open so heat can rise to two small bedrooms. So far we have used egg soft coal as a base and coke on top, but unless we set the clock for 2 or 3 a. m. and get up and fix the fire, it is out by morning. Please advise what kind of hard coal we should use. Should one put a light layer of ashes on top, like one banks a furnace fire at night?—C.

Answer—With a small fire, such as you describe, we believe hard coal [anthracite nut] is the only kind which can be depended on to keep alive through the night. A light layer of ashes on top might help considerably, but the most important part of the program is to have the draft reduced to the minimum required.

CARTELS ABROAD PROVE FUTILITY OF NRA AND AAA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—The Brookings Institution today issued a report on a study of European collective industrial monopolies, known as "cartels." The report concludes that price rigidity resulting from "cartels," like the NRA and AAA, brought increased fluctuation in production and employment, rather than stabilization.

The study is the eighth of a series dealing with aspects of the National Recovery administration. It was made by Karl Pribram, former professor of economics in three leading European universities and for seven years chief of the statistical section of the International Labor offce at Geneva. It views industrial government problems in the United States in the light of a survey of the development of "cartels" in Europe.

Cartels Due to Depression.

The theme of the report is that "cartels" are a depression phenomena. Their growth in Europe, particularly since the war, is said to be substantially different from typical American monopolistic or semi-monopolistic combinations. "Cartels" are the result of market contraction, whereas industrial combinations of this country have come in periods of expansion, according to Pribram.

The frank recognition of the right to monopoly has been thoroughly opposed to the American tradition heretofore, the report states. Underlying the continuance of the tradition of individualism, there has been an optimistic outlook on the prospects of market expansion. This outlook is said to be rooted in American economic life, despite periods of depression. The legislative policy of the country has been dominated by this fact, Pribram holds, until the New Deal, when a collective philosophy found its way into government action.

Prospect for Cartelization.

"If the trend of general expansion, characteristic of America's past, should be superseded by the opposite trend, or at least by an economic development marked by heavy and long lasting depressions," Pribram holds, "the forces which inspired the temporary deviation from the past policy may be expected to continue with increasing strength.

"It is impossible to regard cartelization of itself as a development capable of improving any of the serious defects of the economic system. It represents merely the defensive gesture of private groups attempting to protect themselves from the effects of economic instability. The more extensive this development, the more seriously is the stability and productivity of the economic system threatened."

OCTOBER REPORTED GREATEST BUILDING MONTH IN 4 YEARS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Federal Home Loan bank board reported today that October "was the nation's biggest home building month in four years." Urban contracts for home construction totaled $55,100,000 in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains, an increase of 31.8 per cent over September and 109.5 per cent over October, 1934.

Citing various building and leasing reports as the basis for its figures, the board said the index of housing rentals increased almost 1 per cent in September, "continuing the rising trend of rents which had been observed during each of the previous 19 months."

The federal housing administration announced coincidentally that home building and modernization "generated" by FHA had passed the billion dollar mark, and one official attributed the practice of "keeping up with the Joneses" as a major factor.

FHA said notes insured for modernization and repair, and mortgages selected for appraisal totaled $418,341,808, and that additional construction work brought about by the program would reach $1,000,000,000.

JAPANESE HOSIERY NO THREAT.

The current bulletin of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers says there is "little immediate danger" that Japanese made full fashioned silk hosiery will offer serious competition to American manufacturers in domestic markets.
